LUCAS FIRES BACKLASH

Scathing Blow Dealt Norris

Republican Committee Head Strikes Back at Foes on Regularity Issue

Kentuckian Defends Part in Seeking Overthrow of Nebraska Senator

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican National Committee, today called for a showdown on the question of party regularity in striking back at Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and those Senate Republicans demanding his own scalp for opposing Norris for re-election.

In a sharply worded statement from the national headquarters, Lucas asserted Senator Norris's conduct "has been revolting and until the leaders of the Republican party not only fail to support, but give their active opposition to men like Senator Norris, they are not doing their full duty to the party which has come down to us from Lincoln."

HITCHCOCK SUPPORTED

"To accept office at the hands of this party and then viciously oppose its policies, principles and leadership," he said, "brings an intolerable situation and one which must be eradicated if the party is to live."

The Kentuckian told the Senate campaign funds committee yesterday he paid money out of his own pocket for literature to be used against Norris and for Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Democrat, in the last Nebraska Senatorial race.

While Republican leaders thus far have assumed a hands-off attitude toward the Lucas incident, the western independent faction of the party is up in arms. In a speech in the Senate following Lucas's committee testimony, Senator Howell, Norris's Republican colleague, demanded the National Committee oust Lucas. Norris branded the literature employed against him as "scurrilous" and "malicious."

The bold stand taken today by Lucas threatens to force an issue between President Hoover and the insurgent wing of the party in one of the most involved Republican quarrels since the Roosevelt-Taft scrap which split the party in 1912.

NORRIS ACCUSED

In his reply today, Lucas defended his activities against Senator Norris and said the literature he had printed here and sent to Nebraska "was not scurrilous in any way, nor did the Klan or any oth-

OKLAHOMA'S WILD WELL RAGING ON

Nitroglycerine Charges Unable to Snuff Out Flaming Gasser

WEWOKA (Okla.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Two five-quart shots of nitroglycerine failed late today to snuff the fire from the wild gas and oil well, No. 2, A. B. Douglas, which has been belching a column of flame at the outskirts of Wewoka since early Friday.

The shots, heavily sheathed in insulation, were taken in as close as possible to the well and fired by electricity. A constant stream of water was played on the workers.

After the first ineffective shots the rotary table, a huge steel cog wheel used to turn the drill bits, was dragged out by cables attached to caterpillar tractors. The flame, which had been diverted in part by the table, then shot skyward

The second shot was fired an hour later, with no better results. Workers continue to drag out heat-warped steel wreckage that impedes the fire fighters' efforts.

NEW DEVICE ELIMINATES CAR GASSES

Carbon Monoxide Banned by Carburetor That Uses Gasoline or Kerosene

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) A device which, according to laboratory and road tests, insures virtual elimination of carbon monoxide, saves from 20 to 50 per cent in gasoline consumption, and permits the use of gasoline, kerosene or fuel oil in any internal-combustion engine—automobile, motor boat or airplane—was announced today by a carburetor manufacturer of New York.

Other advantages claimed for the device are elimination of carbon in cylinders and a definite increase in the speed, power, acceleration and general performance of engines.

The carburetor was submitted to Shelwood-Hill, Inc., industrial physicists, who analyzed the carbon-monoxide content of exhaust in gases of an automobile with and without the new device. The Shelwood-Hill company reported the results of its analysis to Health Commissioner Wynne, who, after he had read the report, said that he had had its results attested at New York University.

"After studying these results," Dr. Wynne said, "it seems we are on the way to a solution of the carbon-monoxide problem, which is reaching a point where it presents a serious menace to public health."

HEROIC TRIP IN VAIN

All Members of Grecian Cabinet Resign Offices

ATHENS (Greece) Dec. 21. (AP)—All members of the Grecian Cabinet tonight placed their resignations at the disposal of Premier Venizelos.

Premier Venizelos formed his present Cabinet June 7, 1929, but two members quit a year ago following publication of a letter written by the leader of their party, which charged the Venizelos government with leading the country into political anarchy.

One was Pericles Argiroptulos, Minister of the Interior, who was replaced by G. Sideris. The other was Dr. Pappas, Minister of Hygiene, whose work was taken over first by the Premier himself and then by Dr. Christomanos

POINCARE'S CONDITION ALARMING

Bulletin From Physicians Says Former President of France Unimproved

PARIS, Dec. 21. (AP)—France felt uneasy tonight for the condition of former President Raymond Poincare, for today's bulletin was not so reassuring as his condition yesterday had indicated it might be. The bulletin said:

"The condition of former President Poincare is stationary and still necessitates complete repose."

M. Poincare has been seriously ill more than a week.

Meanwhile, three provincial cities took steps to express their gratitude to "the savior of the franc," as the former Premier and President is known.

His home town of Bar-le-Duc sent a message of esteem, as did Nancy, while a reunion of citizens in the war-devastated region of Verdun, which M. Poincare had been scheduled to address, sent its regrets.

Four Drown as Auto Overturns

BEAUMONT (Tex.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Three men and a woman were drowned today near Vinton, La., when their automobile went into a water-filled ditch.

They were identified by papers found on the bodies as Leonard A. La Petina, 41 years of age Beaumont; George Deiffenbach, New York; Lee V. McCanely and Elizabeth Stalford of Beaumont.

HUNDREDS PERISH IN ERUPTION

Volcano Blast in Java Brings Flaming Death to More Than 300 Persons

LONDON, Dec. 21. (AP)—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mail today asserts that between 300 and 400 persons were killed in the eruption of Merapi volcano in Java. Ashes and lava shot out from Merapi last week after the mountain had been comparatively quiet for eighty years.

Those who died were working in the fields and were surprised by the rapidity of the flow, having no time to escape.

The volcano was an awesome sight as huge columns of smoke boiled from the crater and vivid flames flashed like lightning.

Forests were set afire by the moving wall of lava. Many villages were evacuated.

Soldiers Slay Eighteen Men in Mistake Raid

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—In a fierce assault from 4 o'clock in the morning until daybreak between Federal soldiers and a group of farmers at Aguascalientes eighteen farmers were killed and eight wounded. When day dawned the soldiers saw that they had made a mistake, since they were fighting the wrong men.

The soldiers were in pursuit of some night marauders in the vicinity, and when they came upon the farmers hiding behind a parapet they started fighting, believing in the darkness they had found the object of their pursuit.

Girl Injured in Train Wreck

GOODMAN (Miss.) Dec. 21 (AP)—Miss Lenore Hodges, 19 years of age, Lafayette, La., was seriously injured early today, when nine cars of the Illinois Central southbound train No. 1 were derailed two miles south of here. A hundred other passengers escaped serious injury, although three of the coaches overturned. The wreck was attributed to a broken rail.

A curled rail buckled when the coaches overturned, pierced the side of the car in which Miss Hodges was riding, and pinned her against the side of the berth.

HOUSE AND SHIP BURN

Christmas Mail Cargo Aboard

Two Pilots and Passenger Unhurt as Trimotor Strikes Dwelling

Western Air Express Field Scene of Near Disaster

One passenger and two Western Air Express pilots escaped death early today when a trimotored plane overshot the field at the Alhambra airport in an attempted landing, crashed into a house bordering the field and burst into flames. The plane, coming into Los Angeles from Salt Lake City, was piloted by Bart Cox, with George Sherwood acting as co-pilot. The passenger was not immediately identified, but Western Air Express officials said the two pilots and the passenger had escaped injury.

The right wing of the plane, according to observers, tipped the house and hurled the huge Fokker plane to the ground, where the gasoline from the broken wing tank immediately poured out and burst into flames. The house also caught fire and burned and the plane was believed to be damaged beyond repair.

The accident occurred at 2:25 a.m. today. A cargo of Christmas mail of undetermined amount it was feared would be entirely destroyed.

CATACLYSM FORECAST BY BRITON

Foreign Secretary Asks Nations to Fight for World Peace

BRIGHTON (Eng.) Dec. 21. (AP)—A statement that the United States and Great Britain are at one of the turning points in their histories formed the keynote of a message broadcast to America tonight by Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary.

"We have to choose between peace and war, between co-operation and conflict, between a developing and ennobling civilization and a collapse into the barbarism of the past," he said. "We have to make that choice now, we cannot evade it or postpone it.

"For unless we can build this structure of world peace upon a firm foundation, unless we can do it now before the memories of war have faded, we may depend upon it, sooner or later—and probably rather sooner than later—a cataclysm will come upon the world which will engulf all that we care about in western civilization."

Referring to "active but unreasoning fear" prevailing in some quarters, Mr. Henderson continued:

"I would ask you boldly not to listen for a moment to those who speak of war. I am absolutely convinced there is no one who wants war, no one who is plotting for war, no one who does not realize war would be an unmitigated disaster to all concerned."

In reviewing steps made toward peace during the past year, the Foreign Secretary referred specifically to the London naval conference.

"The three greatest naval powers agreed to build no more capital ships," he said, "and indeed we may hope as a result of that agreement no monster vessels ever shall be built again.

"By the treaty we settled two of the most urgent political questions in the world—the so-called question of parity between England and America, and a similar question between America and Japan. Thus we got rid—we hope forever—of the risks of armament competition between Europe and America on one hand and between America and Asia on the other."

Football Star's Brain Infected

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21. (AP)—Henry V. Hooper, Virginia Polytechnic Institute football captain who has been ill at the Johns Hopkins Hospital since Wednesday, is suffering with an infection in the brain, Dr. Walter E. Dandy, brain specialist, said last night.

The infection, physicians said, may have been caused by an injury received in the V.P.I.-Virginia Military Institute football game Thanksgiving Day, or it may have been caused by undetermined factors.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 21. [To the Editor of The Times:] One of the best indications that America is a mighty tough nation physically is the fact that they can live on nothing for over a year till their government finally votes funds to give 'em employment. These folks were out of a job all of last year and Congress was in session all that time, but it looked like they kept waiting along to see if the people would live through it, and they did and fooled the government.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

PRESIDENT'S WEEK FULL

Holidays Bring Little Rest

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—President and Mrs. Hoover began a week of Christmas activities today by attending special Christmas services at the Washington Cathedral.

The yuletide season gives little promise of rest for the Chief Executive and his family, although they will have more time for relaxation this week than at any time since Congress met the 1st inst.

In addition to the usual official Christmas functions at which Mr. and Mrs. Hoover take a part, the President already has begun working out details of administering the $116,000,000 voted yesterday by Congress for emergency construction to relieve unemployment.

With Congress in recess for the holidays the Chief Executive will be able to devote most of his time to unemployment and drought-relief measures.

WORK TO START SOON

The latter will be administered by the Agriculture Department, which already has effective machinery for making loans to hard-pressed farmers. A number of conferences with Secretary Hyde, however, are scheduled, probably for the purpose of widening activities concerning seed loans.

Most of the construction work provided for in the $116,000,000 measure is in such shape that actual employment of labor will start within a month or six weeks.

Where delays become apparent the President will be able, under provisions of the act, to transfer funds to projects on which work will begin immediately. Conferences between the President and Treasury and Postoffice officials will accelerate as much as possible the beginning of actual employment.

Two days of the week will see little activity at the White House except in the Presidential office. The day before Christmas has been declared a holiday for government employees by executive order and Christmas Day always has been. Mr. Hoover expects to work the day before Christmas, but is not expected in his office Christmas Day.

RADIO ADDRESS

The night before Christmas he will extend his Christmas greetings to the country over the radio at ceremonies lighting the community tree, which will be conducted almost in front of the White House.

After that ceremony he will return to the White House for the kind of celebration which gives him the most pleasure—a children's party in the State dining-room. Two of his own grandchildren and the children of his secretaries and physician will be the guests.

TRAGEDY IN GUN FIGHT

Two Held After Beach Fray

Victim of Shooting Near Death With Bullet Lodged in Spine

Police Shakedown of Car Precipitates Pistol Duel in Downtown Streets

(By a "Times" Staff Correspondent)

LONG BEACH, Dec. 21.—A furious pistol duel between two Long Beach police officers and four asserted Hollywood gambler gunmen on a prominent downtown street corner here tonight sent one of the police to the hospital in a dying condition and launched an intensive man hunt for two of the gamblers after an additional two had been captured. Patrolman W. H. Wagoner, 35 years of age, 421½ East Third street, Long Beach, the wounded officer, was taken to the Seaside Hospital with a bullet lodged in his spine and may die.

SAY THEY'RE GAMBLERS

Patrolman Wagoner, in company with C. A. Jenks, also a police officer, shortly after 8 o'clock tonight saw a car parked near the corner of Pico and Seventh street. The two patrolmen, members of the Long Beach "shot-gun" auto patrol, sought to question the four men occupants of the car and as Jenks was searching the pair in the front seat the two men in the rear opened fire with automatic pistols. Jenks was able to dodge the hail of bullets and returned the fire but Wagoner, who ran to the police car in search of his riot gun, stepped into the path of the bullets and fell with a 38 calibre bullet in his left shoulder and another in his right side. One of the slugs plowed through his body and lodged against his spine.

A riot call sent to the police headquarters here resulted in the arrest of James J. Sherman, 30 years of age, who gave his address as the Roslyn Hotel, Los Angeles, and his occupation as that of a gambler; and Pat Bruneman, 8424 Sunset Boulevard who told police he made his living in the same manner. Both men were identified by Wagner as occupants of the car and Sherman was pointed out by the wounded officer as one of the two occupants of the rear seat in the automobile who did the shooting.

A search of Bruneman's pockets revealed more than $50,000 in checks, which he said were to have been used by the quartet in a gambling expedition to one of the gambling ships anchored offshore near Long Beach.

CALL FOR BLOOD

A preliminary investigation by detectives failed to establish a motive for the shooting. Both police officers were in full uniform and both automobiles were in a well-lighted section at the time of the shooting, eliminating the possibility, detectives said of the men fearing a hold-up.

At least one of the two men who escaped after the duel is wounded, in the belief of Long Beach detectives who were given the Hollywood address of the driver of the car which held the gunmen.

Officer W. E. Slaughter, who arrested Sherman and Bruneman, emptied his gun twice in running gun duels with the two captured men and the two who escaped. At least twenty-five shots were fired in all in the separate battles waged with the four men. Bruneman was said by officers to have been the only one of the four who did not fire a shot.

Police Surgeon Bishop, who treated Wagoner at the hospital late last night, issued a call for volunteers from the police department to provide blood for a tranfusion to the wounded patrolman. The physician declared that if the efforts to save Wagner's life are successful he will be permanently paralyzed.

THREE DIE IN HERO ROLES

Father and Mother Burn to Death Trying to Save Children and Oregon Man Electrocuted

KING CITY, Dec. 21. (AP)—After saving his wife and two young daughters from their flaming ranch home twelve miles north of here today, Roy Hutchenson, 42 years of age, perished in the blaze as he returned to save his 16-year-old son. Both were burned to death as he was carrying the son to safety.

Hutchenson was awakened by the fire. He found members of his family already overcome by smoke and successfully carried three of them from the burning house. On his fourth trip he was overcome by the smoke. The ranch house was destroyed.

MOTHER GIVES LIFE IN VAIN EFFORT TO SAVE DAUGHTER

VACAVILLE (Cal.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Mrs. Grace Smith gave her life today in a vain effort to rescue her 8-year-old daughter, Marion, who was trapped in their burning ranch home. The father, Dr. I. E. C. W. Smith, former prominent Oakland physician, was so badly burned in attempts to rescue both, that he may die.

Aroused by another daughter, who had heard the crackling of flames, Dr. and Mrs. Smith seized the little girl and dashed from their Pleasant Valley home just as the structure was enveloped by flames.

A few minutes later Mrs. Smith broke away from her husband and ran into the burning house to attempt to rescue Marion, asleep in another room. Both burned to death. The house was destroyed.

PRINTER ELECTROCUTED IN EFFORT TO SAVE CHILDREN

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Paul G. Toenjes, 45 years of age, printer, lost his life here today to save two small children from electrocution.

The two children were flying a kite when the wind shifted and the kite fell upon two high-tension electric wires. A metal brace on the kite connected the two wires, and they burned off and fell to the ground.

Toenjes rushed into the street and picked up the wires apparently to pull them to one side out of the path of the children. He was killed instantly. The children were uninjured.

EXTRA SESSION FEARS PREVAIL

Congressional Leaders Work to Avert Menace

World Court Foes Use Club to Force Promise

Relief Legislation Passed But Much Remains

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Alarmed by the legislative jam in the Senate, the Republican leadership was looking anxiously today for means of breaking the deadlock during the holiday recess in a determined effort to avoid an extra session in the spring.

It is the conviction of some Senate Republican leaders that President Hoover's formal assurance that he will not call the Senate into special session for consideration of the World Court will go a long way in averting the threatened delay in acting on necessary legislation.

FOES NOT EASY

Republicans of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted to defer World Court consideration until the regular session a year hence, but there are signs World Court foes are fearful the President will call a special session.

There also are signs that these forces are going to keep in a position to force an extra session of the whole Congress until this fear totally is dispelled.

Word was given out yesterday at the White House that Mr. Hoover does not intend to call a special session of the Senate for disposition of the World Court. Whether this informal assurance will satisfy World Court foes is uncertain today.

RELIEF ENACTED

The rebellious Senate completed action yesterday on the emergency relief program. The recommendations of President Hoover on the $161,000,000 relief bills encountered stubborn resistance as the promised Republican - Democratic co-operation movement became engulfed in storms of dissension which broke in both parties.

None of the regular appropriation bills providing funds for operation of the government the next fiscal year has gotten through the Senate. The gigantic $1,085,000,000 Treasury-Postoffice appropriation measure has passed both Senate and House but the conference report adjusting differences was rejected by the Senate.

SESSION DEPENDS

Administration leaders intend to concentrate after the holidays on putting through these vital bills, without which President Hoover will be forced to call an extra session. Also they are going to seek an early solution of the long deadlock over disposition of the Muscle Shoals power and nitrate plant.

The House has sent to the Senate two other appropriation bills—the $88,000,000 for the Interior Department and the $213,000,000 for the Agriculture Department.

An effort to force additional relief legislation is in prospect also, although all the emergency measures asked by the President now are enacted.

DISBURSING BEGINS

Government executives will start work tomorrow toward putting into operation the $116,000,000 appropriation for public improvements, passed yesterday and approved by President Hoover.

The Department of Agriculture is molding its machinery for dispersing the $45,000,000 authorized for loans to drought stricken farmers in putting out next year's crops. Secretary Hyde informed Congress yesterday he did not need the money until after the holiday recess.

The Farm Board obtained late last night an additional $150,000,000 after the Senate had voiced its criticism of this farm relief program. The board now has $400,000,000 of the $500,000,000 authorized.

After the holiday, which ends January 5, the House will take up the Vestal copyright bill. On January 9 the Senate will begin consideration of President Hoover's six nominees for the reorganized Tariff Commission.

BODANSKY CELEBRATES

Metropolitan Opera Leader, Thirty Years on Job; Tells Golden Rules for Patrons

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Half a dozen "golden rules" for opera-goers were enunciated today by Artur Bodansky, observing his thirtieth anniversary as a conductor and his fifteenth at the Metropolitan Opera-house. Bodansky was guest of honor at the annual public dinner of the Bohemians.

The "Golden Rules," spoken in ironic vein, were:

"No member of the audience shall be permitted to take his seat until after the performance has begun. All doors will be kept open to admit street noises, with the aim of so obliterating the overture that the musicians will be able to rest during this period.

"New subscribers are urged to make a thorough test of the clatter-producing utilities of the opera chairs. (Old subscribers will not need this reminder.)

"Ladies may co-operate further by purchasing bags with a smart snap, preferably tuned in harmony with the orchestra.

"It shall be obligatory for every listener to buy a libretto—not to read, but to rustle.

"Those accustomed to late dinner or early supper are entreated not to change their habits on opera nights. Rather, the management has arranged to give every other performance in reverse—first act last, last act first—so that in the course of a season—it is hoped—every subscriber will have the opportunity of hearing at least one complete opera.

"And finally, talk freely—this is the opera, not a golf links."

"From many quarters one hears the cry that opera is dead," Bodansky said. "I dispute this. It is said we have no significant modern composers. That does not matter, for so long as Wagner's and Verdi's music is alive, these masters are more important to us than if all the moderns were dead. I do not mean to deny the value of modern works; I do not mean opera can live forever on its past. In the next twenty years, we may hope, a new genius will arise among operatic composers. But for the present, opera must adhere—both for artistic and box-office reasons—to the old repertory. That repertory will keep opera going for a long time.

"My imagination builds up a tremendous future for the talkies. But it will not come aping the opera of today. Its real success will come when a modern composer and poet, realizing the enormous possibilities of the movies, will create a new form of art."

Youth Killed Trying Hold-up

SEATTLE, Dec. 21. (AP)—Clayton Valin, 17 years of age, is dead here tonight and Ernest L. Cowlishaw, 17, is being held as a result of what police said was their attempted robbery of Liberatto Patricelli's grocery store.

Patricelli said he shot Valin after the youths entered his store and demanded money. While Valin, flourishing a gun, and Cowlishaw, standing near by unarmed, were demanding the money, Patricelli said, he set his dog on the bandits. the dog's teeth in Valin's leg diverted his attention and Patricelli said he shot him three times.

MONKEY TO RECEIVE REGULATION FUNERAL

CAMDEN (N. J.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Dodo, a pet monkey, will lie in a regular baby casket with his name and the dates of his birth and death inscribed on a plate on the lid when he is buried tomorrow in the Francis Vale Cemetery for animals at Radnor, Pa. Owned by R. H. Bernard of Kirkwood, near here, Dodo could cut out paper dolls, regularly ate in a high chair and while showing a profound dislike for jazz, was extremely fond of classical music. He died last night of infantile paralysis at 7 years of age.

Honors Paid Californians by National Group

BERKELEY, Dec. 21. (AP)—Two University of California professors, and three former Californians, have been appointed to the National Council for Intellectual Co-operation, of which Secretary of the Interior Wilbur is chairman.

The men are Dr. Herbert E. Bolton, professor of history; Dr. David P. Barrows, professor of political science; Dr. Wesley C. Mitchell, former California faculty member, now with Columbia University; Dr. John C. Merriam, former faculty member and now president of Carnegie Institute of Washington; Dr. William John Cooper, United States Minister of Education, an alumnus of California.

AMERICAN LINER IN FOG SMASH

greatest of all terrors of the sea—which caused the wreck of the Finnish steamer Oberon with a loss of forty-one lives Friday night, today had spread a thick mantle over a large area of European waters.

Reports of ships in peril have come from points as far distant as Constantinople and Queenstown, Ireland.

Reports to Lloyds Shipping Agency said the Hopatcong, 6216-ton vessel owned by the United States Shipping Board, was struck by the British steamer Rio Azul while she was anchored in the roads at Istanbul last night.

The British vessel was badly damaged. Water in her forepeak was up to sea level, and tonight she was grounded outside the port. The American ship appeared slightly damaged about the stem, but with the weather moderate neither boat is believed to be endangered. From Lisbon came word the large fishing trawler Patria was in collision with another steamer off the Portuguese coast and went down with four of her crew. Several others were rescued by the trawler Telita and taken in to the Port of Setubal.

The Dutch steamer Export and the British steamer Kemmel came together in a fog near Rottendam. The Export was forced to return to port, although the British steamer was able to proceed on her voyage.

This morning the British steam trawler William Hallett lost her bearings and went ashore near Ballycotton, Ireland. The deep sea tug Zwarte Zee went to her assistance.

HOPE ABANDONED FOR OBERON MISSING

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 21. (AP)—Forty-one passengers and members of the crew of the Finnish Line steamer Oberon still are missing today, and all hope virtually has been abandoned for finding any additional survivors of Friday night's collision between the Oberon and her sister-ship, the Arcturus, off Laso Island.

Mystery Shot Wounds Couple

MEDINA (N. Y.) Dec. 21 (AP)—A bullet fired through a window brought to a tragic end the dance of Helen Dunn, 24 years of age, and Walter Bryant, 25, in the latter's home early today. The single bullet passed through the woman's body and lodged in Bryant's body.

Both were taken to a hospital, where their condition is critical. Police started search for a youth with whom Miss Dunn is said to have quarreled recently.

Hunter Shot by Companion

GRIDLEY, Dec. 21. (AP)—Robert E. Carr, Nevada City department-store manager, was shot accidentally in the leg when a shotgun discharged in the hands of Orris Colonel, president of the Bank of America of Nevada City today.

The two were in a quail-hunting party. The shattered leg was amputated in a Marysville hospital.

Powder Blast Injures Boys

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Three young boys, who tossed a half-filled can of blasting powder into a bonfire, "just to hear it explode," were critically injured in the blast that followed here today.

They were Eli Premeke, 13 years of age; Nick Premeke, 12, and Julio Perkoff, 15. They had found the powder among the paraphernalia assembled for street excavation work.

MORRISON GETS SENATORS' GOAT

Shatters Rule Silencing New Members

South Carolinan Eloquent in First Speech

Defends Power Appointee in Walsh Attack

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) — An ancient and honorable tradition of the United States Senate, that a newcomer should be seen and not heard, rested today in the limbo of shattered precedents.

It was relegated there last night by Senator Morrison, Democrat, North Carolina, in a speech that left his new colleagues somewhat flabbergasted.

Senator Morrison, who was appointed successor to the late Senator Overman, took his seat just four days ago and, according to the unwritten law of the Senate, should have meekly stayed in it for at least a fortnight. Instead, with unprecedented audacity, he obtained and held the floor for half an hour, sparred with such an old master as Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, and said what he had to say so boldly that the galleries forthwith dubbed him "Fighting Cam" Morrison.

DEFENDS NEIGHBOR

Any doubts which other members may have had as to the oratorical gifts of the North Carolinan vanished today when they scanned his two pages in the Record.

Senator Morrison rose from his seat when Senator Walsh launched an attack on Frank R. McNinch of North Carolina, one of President Hoover's nominees to the Federal Power Commission, on the ground that he had connections with the power interests.

"I would scorn," the new Senator boomed. "I would scorn to stand in this body and hear this noble man traduced by anybody."

A murmur of surprise rustled over the Senate chamber. Senators stopped chatting with their neighbors, laid down their newspapers and lifted their eyebrows in mild astonishment. Necks craned in the galleries. Here was a novice making his maiden speech.

OPPOSED SMITH

Mr. McNinch, the speaker explained, never received or handled a nickel of any power company's money. True enough, he was an anti-Smith Democrat in 1928, and he, Morrison, as a regular, took the stump against him, but that did not make him a Republican.

"I fought him all over North Carolina until our sweet personal and neighborhood relations were well nigh broken," he went on. "He is an honest man and no man in the county or city where he lives would dare assert to the contrary and face that upright community, for his character towers there as brightly as that of the finest citizen in it.

HIGH TRIBUTE

"He lives immediately across the street from me; we are friends, but have no business relations whatever. I would as soon undertake, if I were dog enough to do that sort of thing, to approach any honorable justice on the highest courts of this land as to try to touch the white life of my neighbor and friend for any corrupt purpose."

For twenty minutes, Senator Morrison swept on in this vein, defending McNinch, and not until he had fully rounded out his argument did he express his regret that he "had to trespass upon the attention of this body in almost the hour of my entrance."

The consensus, when Senator Morrison finished, was that he is going to be heard from again and, from the standpoint of oratory, is to be reckoned with.

India Dominion Status Favored

BOMBAY, Dec. 21. (AP)—A pool conducted by the Times of India among nonofficial Europeans in the country shows 83 per cent of them favor dominion status for India.

The question asked was whether dominion status should be granted the country, with a responsible government at the center and with safeguards for such matters as the army, foreign affairs, the external debt and the European and other minorities.

The votes cast were 815 for dominion status and 165 against.

LEGION ATTACKS SALVATION ARMY

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—A charge that the Salvation Army "has discriminated against the veteran because he is a veteran" was made today by Edward J. Neary, State Commander of the American Legion in a statement sent to each of the Legion's 775 posts in New York State. In New York City, Commander Neary said, "veterans applying for relief to organizations such as the Salvation Army American Red Cross and others were referred by those organization to the American Legion relief agencies."

COMMUNITY CHEST SPIRIT SHOWS GAIN

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Community Chest drives in 122 American cities this year netted $42,576,202 for relief, health and welfare agencies—an increase of $3,669,593, or 10 per cent more than last year—it was announced tonight in a letter to President Hoover by the National Association of Community Chests and Councils. The letter was sent by Allen T. Burns, executive director.

MOTHER OF NINE IN TWENTIES

Daughter of Early American Stock Married to Syrian

HARTFORD (Ct.) Dec. 21. A daughter of a Vermont family that dates back to the Declaration of Independence today became the mother of her ninth child here at 25 years of age. Her husband, the proud father of five boys and four girls, is a swarthy Syrian rug merchant, George Abalon. They've been married only ten years. When she married the Syrian at 15 she was Hazel Lewis Pierce, daughter of a Montpelier (Vt.) family that traces its ancestry to the Pierces of Presidential fame.

GANGSTERS IN NEW YORK SHOOT TRIO

Two Men Found Killed, Woman Riddled by Guns of Underworld Crew

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Four airmen, flying low near Hicksville, L. I., came upon murder today.

About the same time they were gazing from the sky on the outstretched body of a man, gunmen in Brooklyn drove their curtained motor car close to the sidewalk, where a woman strolled, and poured a volley of shots at her.

Several hours earlier the body of a man, shot five times, was found in the tonneau of a stolen automobile in Brooklyn.

The airmen landed their plane near the body they had seen. It was that of a man 6 feet tall, who had been shot in the back.

The woman at whom the Brooklyn gunmen fired was Mrs. Vincenza Esposito, 22 years of age. The shooting was near the home of her parents, with whom she has lived for several weeks since separating from her husband. Her condition is critical.

The man found slain in an automobile was Thomas Bloi. Police believe it was a gangland execution.

King of Winter Blows Breath in North Area

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Central and Northern California shivered under freezing temperatures last night and early today. More of the same was forecast for tomorrow by the United States Weather Bureau here.

Low marks reported for last night and early today included: Paso Robles, 21 deg. above; Chico, 23; Independence, 24; Santa Rosa, 26; San Jose, 28; Redlands, 30; Red Bluff and Sacramento, 36, and San Francisco, 45.

Frost was reported at Eureka, Sacramento and Paso Robles.

Price Dispute Halts Air Deal

SAN RAFAEL, Dec. 21. (AP)—Assignment of land for the Federal government's proposed air base at Main Meadows, Marin county, has been halted, the District Attorney's office said today, by a disagreement over the price of 160 acres of grazing land owned by Mrs. Julia Bodkin of San Francisco.

Mrs. Bodkin, the District Attorney's office announced, is asking $600 for each acre, while the county has offered her $100. The land is in a "key" position, the District Attorney announced, and condemnation proceedings may be started.

Comedian's Wife Overdoses Self

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Mrs. Alexander Carr, wife of the comedian and herself a former Follies beauty, was taken to Bellevue Hospital today suffering from an overdose of sleeping potion. Her condition tonight is reported not serious.

Mrs. Carr has been living here with her two children, Paul, a son by a former marriage, and Helene Beverly Carr, 3 years of age.

Physicians said the potion taken by Mrs. Carr was not of a nature to prove fatal even in large quantities, but an overdose had made Mrs. Carr ill.

BRANCH ASSESSOR'S OFFICE REQUESTED

A communication from the City Council of Huntington Park requesting the establishment of a branch County Assessor's office in that area will be read before the Board of Supervisors at its regular meeting today. The letter says the office is needed to properly serve approximately 30,000 inhabitants of the municipality.

TURF FIGURE DIES

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Jacob R. Joseph, 66 years of age, one of the best known figures on the American turf for more than a generation, died today of a heart attack.

er organization have anything to do with it."

Declaring Senator Norris, "in spite of his vicious and relentless opposition to President Hoover and his administration, now attempts to say who shall and who shall not hold positions with the Republican National Committee," Lucas added:

"Senator Norris supported Gov. Smith in 1928 and was elected this year with the support of the Democratic National Committee. He should offer any advice he has to give for a change in that direction."

"To a Republican who has the good of the country and the success of the Republican party at heart," he continued, "and who has any conception of loyalty to party principles and love for its traditions the complaints now made by Senator Norris and his partisan supporters are entirely aside from fair argument and utterly without foundation.

"To a Republican who has any regard for party history and respect for its leadership in the past and present, which has contributed so much to the upbuilding of this country in the past seventy-five years, which brought us human freedom, the protection of industry and labor, and has made this nation the leading nation of the world, Senator Norris's ingratitude is beyond comprehension."

TOTAL AROUND $850

Lucas said the "regular" Republicans of Nebraska "had every good reason to oppose the election of Senator Norris and I had every right to make a personal contribution to their support. This contribution amounted to approximately $850."

He had told the Nye committee he spent more than $4000 in all, but explained all of the literature did not go into Nebraska.

"In continuation of his determined drive on President Hoover and all things Republican," Lucas said, "Senator Norris is distorting the facts with reference to the support I gave the anti-Norris Republican organization of Nebraska.

"The facts are these: I contributed to the anti-Norris Republican organization of Nebraska three pieces of literature. One a pamphlet composed of editorial comment from a number of newspapers throughout the country, showing Senator Norris's opposition to the Republican party and to President Hoover.

CARTOON IN ONE

"Another was a cartoon portraying Senator Norris's insincerity on the prohibition question. And the third a reproduction of a letter which called on Democrats of Nebraska to support Senator Norris in return for his support of Gov. Alfred E. Smith in 1928.

"The printing was so ordered from and delivered by the Independent Publishing Company. This company does a general printing business, including the publication of the National Farm News, a paper of wide circulation throughout the country. The order was solicited and secured by the company's representative, who is a former member of Congress. The order was delivered to the anti-Norris Republican headquarters, at Lincoln, Neb., for distribution.

"This contained not one word concerning religion, nor was it calculated to appeal to religious prejudice, as has been stated by Senator Norris and his friends. This literature was not scurrilous in any way, nor did the Klan or any other organization have anything to do with it.

"I have not in this campaign, nor in any other, issued or authorized the issuance of publicity or literature calculated to stir religious prejudice, but have consistently condemned that practice when indulged in by the partisans of either party."

Caribbean Ships Called Pirates

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Foreign passenger vessels operating only during the winter season between the United States and Caribbean ports are looked upon by Chairman White of the House Merchant Marine Committee as "virtually pirates."

White said today he wanted these vessels placed under the provisions of the Jones-White law, which imposes a $25,000 fine on ships used "for excluding, preventing or reducing competition by driving another out." He said his committee will begin hearings next month on his bill to bring this about.

THIRTY ARRESTED IN BERLIN DISTURBANCES

BERLIN, Dec. 21. (AP)—Thirty persons were arrested today for riotous behavior on "Golden Sunday." The day especially is favored by Christmas shoppers since the stores are open in the afternoon. Police had prepared for desperate action by "hunger marchers," who had threatened to take from the bourgeoisie their purchases and otherwise help themselves. The threat, however, was not carried out. A few scuffles, resulting in the thirty arrests, developed as small processions marched through the business streets shouting, "We're starving! Down with the government!"

WOULD-BE IMMIGRANTS ALL HAVE WIVES HERE

WARSAW, Dec. 21. (AP)—The American Consulate has asked the Polish emigration office to investigate the authenticity of fifty marriage certificates signed by rabbis and presented by Jewish men who said they wanted to join their wives who already have emigrated to the United States. The Polish authorities announced hereafter only rabbi certificates bearing civil stamps will be recognized for passports.

MOB REPULSED IN LYNCH MOVE

Negro ex-Convict Defended in Missouri Jail

Sheriff's Deputies, Police and Troops on Guard

Prisoner Accused of Slaying School-Teacher

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Efforts of a mob to storm the Buchanan County Jail early today and gain custody of Raymond Gunn, 30-year-old Negro ex-convict charged with the murder of Miss Velma Colter, 19-year-old school-teacher, were foiled by Sheriff's deputies, city police and a National Guard tank company.

Approximately 150 men, said to have gathered from Maryville, Mo., home of the teacher, and from other near-by Missouri towns, first appeared at the jail here shortly after midnight. Sheriff Roach talked to the mob leaders through a heavily barred door, and told them he would protect his prisoner in every way possible.

All deputy sheriffs immediately were called for duty. They were not molested upon arriving at the prison and entered the jail. City police also responded to the alarm as did the St. Joseph tank company of the Missouri National Guard.

TANK GUARDS ENTRANCE

The guardsmen placed a tank, equipped with a machine gun, at the jail entrance.

Slowly the mob members, reinforced by spectators from St. Joseph, were driven away from the jail. After about three hours police guard lines circled the building, keeping all unauthorized persons at least a block distant.

Members of the mob held a meeting on a street corner two blocks away, and it was said they decided to go to Plattsburg, where reports declared the Negro had been taken.

Officers there said the Negro, asserted to have attacked and confessed to beating the school-teacher to death, had not arrived and was not expected. The mob also was not reported at Plattsburg, and officers here believe the members drove in motor cars to their respective homes after failing to obtain entrance to the jail here.

STILL IN JAIL

It is understood that Gunn still is in the County Jail. Officers, however, are reticent concerning his whereabouts. Gunn served a term in the Missouri penitentiary for assaulting a co-ed in the Missouri State Teachers' College of Maryville.

Miss Colter, whose mutilated, partly nude body was found last Tuesday night in the rural school house where she was the single teacher, also attended the college.

Buchanan county officers believe prisoners in the jail here easily can be guarded from any violence. The cells are in the center of the building. Seven heavy steel doors must be opened before entrance can be made into the cell rooms.

GUARDS FOR BANKS ASKED IN NEW YORK

Branches of Closed House to Be Protected Because of Move to Storm One

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Extra police guards for several branches of the Bank of United States scattered throughout Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn were requested today by the State Superintendent of Banking, Joseph A. Broderick. No explanation was made.

It is understood depositors who have applied for loans up to 50 per cent of their deposits will receive the loans at these several branches tomorrow.

Four men and two women arrested outside the Freeman-street branch of the closed bank as leaders of a small crowd of depositors who sought to storm the bank were convicted of disorderly conduct by Magistrate Flood today. They were given suspended sentences. It developed only two of the six are depositors in the branch.

The trouble started when agitators attempted to start a meeting across the street from the bank. A crowd of 5000 gathered. Police were called, and as they were attempting to break up the throng a small group, among them the six, shouted, "Let's rush the bank!" and attempted to do so.

PANAMA FLIGHT PILOT RETURNS TO NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Capt. Roy W. Ammel, Chicago, who made the first New York-Panama nonstop flight several weeks ago, returned today on the steamer Abengarez. Capt. Ammel's plane cracked up on an attempted Panama-Chicago flight. The crash resulted in serious injuries to Ammel. Capt. Ammel appeared completely recovered from his injuries. He said he would remain in New York several days for an examination to determine whether he had been injured internally.

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT URGES DISARMAMENT

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP) — The trustees of the Carnegie endowment for international peace today made public a statement in which was urged the necessity of reduction of armaments throughout the world in accordance with the terms of the Treaty of Versailles. The Statement was prepared by Elihu Root, former president of the endowment, Nicholas Murray Butler, president, and James Brown Scott, secretary.

ALIEN CURB SOLUTION TO BE SOUGHT

House Committee Leader Wants Substitute Plan to Supplant Suspension

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—A more acceptable method of restricting immigration than the two-year suspension plan already approved by the House Immigration Committee, will be sought by Chairman Johnson during the Congressional recess.

The proposal has encountered opposition from administration quarters and convinced Congressional leaders of the need for agreement, particularly on Philippine restriction and the effect of suspension on the national origins formula.

With this in view, Johnson has made no move toward submitting the formal report of his committee on the suspension measure, which would permit the entry only of relatives up to half the normal quota limits.

In his search for a compromise, the chairman plans conferences with the various factions which have disapproved the two-year suspension as embodied in the Reed-Johnson bills.

Secretaries Stimson, Doak and Hurley are on record against the proposal and from some Senate quarters word has come any Philippine exclusion bill will face a prolonged fight.

Diekema's Last Rites Arranged for Wednesday

THE HAGUE, Dec. 21. (AP)—Funeral services for Gerritt John Diekema, United States Minister to The Hague, who died Saturday from the after effects of an operation, will be conducted here Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. The obsequies which will be conducted in the American Episcopal Church will be attended with all honors due the late Minister's rank.

Following the services, the body will be taken to The Hague Communal Cemetery, where it will lie until 6 p.m. Then it will be transported to Hamburg. From there the body will be shipped to Holland, Michigan, the late Minister's birthplace, for burial.

Conrad Hubert Bequest Handed to Boy Scouts

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—A check for $500,000, representing a bequest of the late Conrad Hubert, inventor of the flash light and other devices, was turned over to the Boy Scouts of America today. It was delivered by a bank on behalf of Calvin Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith and Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, trustees of the Hubert bequests.

The money will be used to enlarge the scope of the Boy Scout program, Chief Scout Executive West wrote to the trustees.

The Boy Scouts is one of the several organizations selected by the three trustees, under the terms of the Hubert will, to receive a large sum Hubert left for educational, religious and charitable work.

Fraud Suspect Seized in Denver

DENVER, Dec. 21. (AP)—Charles Best, 26 years of age, was arrested last night on a charge of selling fraudulent stock. Police announced Best admitted he had gone under the name of Charles W. Campbell, and is wanted in New York for asserted fraudulent stock transactions. Beyond that, police said, he refused to talk.

The prisoner said his real name is Charles Kenner and that his father is president of a Long Beach (Cal.) trust company, police said, adding he has a wife and three children in Portland, Or.

SHEPARD JURY STILL IN DOUBT

Again Locked Up After Day of Deliberating

Army Medical Man Faces Death by Hanging

Stenographer in Triangle Departs for Texas

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Dec. 21. (AP)—The jurors in the trial of Maj. Charles A. Shepard, accused of the poison murder of his second wife, ceased deliberations at 7 p.m. and retired for the second night with the fate of the Army Medical Corps officer in their hands.

Results of the balloting were not revealed. The case went to the jury at 2:58 p.m. yesterday and at adjournment tonight the jury had deliberated about fourteen hours. It will return to its task at 9 a.m. tomorrow morning.

Shepard and his counsel appeared in the Federal courtroom this afternoon to await the verdict.

DEATH FACED

The jurors went to dinner apparently in good spirits despite a seeming deadlock and returned in less than two hours to resume their discussion and balloting which, should it be for conviction with no recommendation for clemency, would sentence the 59-year-old army medical officer to death by hanging.

Judge Hopkins was at the Federal Building a short time late in the morning. He left word he would receive any verdict returned today, although it is unusual in Federal Court procedure to accept verdicts on Sunday.

Miss Grace Brandon, the young stenographer for love of whom the government charged Shepard poisoned his wife, left last night for San Antonio, Tex., where she said she expects to resume her position at Brooks Field, an army post.

Miss Brandon, one of the prosecution's star witnesses in the trial, said Dist.-Atty. Brewster had cautioned her not to talk about Maj. Shepard.

NO COMMUNICATION

Asked if she had conversed with the defendant while in Kansas City, she replied:

"Oh, no. I promised on my word of honor that I would not talk with him during the trial.

"Do you expect to see him soon?" she was asked.

"I don't suppose he will try to see me after all this," the girl replied.

The luggage Miss Brandon took with her did not contain any of the finery or jewelry which Shepard had showered on her prior to his arrest at Denver March 17, last. These will remain in the hands of the government as exhibits until the case is disposed of finally.

REDS BUY MORE FROM AMERICANS

Purchases for Year Ending September 30, Last, Placed at $149,223,000

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Soviet purchases in the United States in the year ending September 30, last, totaled $149,223,000, and increased 38.6 per cent over the preceding twelve months, according to a statistical analysis published today by the Amtorg Trading Corporation, commercial representative of the soviet government in the United States.

More than four-fifths of the year's purchases consisted of industrial and agricultural machinery, said an article in the current issue of the economic review of the soviet union.

During the seven years since resumption of regular trade transactions soviet-American trade turnover totaled $750,777,000, of which four-fifths was listed as purchases of the American products and one-fifth as sales of soviet products in this country.

During the seven years "the balance of trade in favor of the United States equalled $448,000,000," says the article.

RYKOFF SHORN OF ALL POWER

Removal Ends Service With Red Political Bureau

Bucharin Only Right-Winger Left in High Position

MOSCOW, Dec. 21. (AP)—The demotion of Alexis I. Rykoff, who was "relieved" as head of the Union Council of People's Commissars last week, was completed today with his removal as a member of the important political bureau.

When Rykoff was taken out of the first post, which is the equivalent of Premier, predictions were made he soon would be shorn of all power in view of Joseph Stalin's determination for a "house cleaning" of all right-wing leaders, and this was borne out by today's action of the central committee and central control commission of the Communist party.

RIGHT-WING LEADERS

The dismissal of Michael Tomsky as vice-chairman of the supreme economic council yesterday was viewed in the same light. Both Rykoff and Tomsky long have been prominent right-wingers, opposing to some extent the drastic industrialization program of Stalin, but the influence of the latter — who holds no official title but nevertheless is considered the real ruler of soviet Russia—was too much for them. They publicly recanted, even abjectly, but long ago it was forecast this would not save their jobs.

Only one right-winger of prominence remains in a high post. He is Nicholas Bucharin, a member of the Central Committee and also of the Supreme Economic Council. The general expectation is that he, too, will be dropped eventually, leaving Stalin's ideas supreme.

OTHER CHANGES MADE

Other changes were made today by the Central Committee and the Central Control Commission. Grigori Ordjonikidze, president of the Supreme Economic Council, was elected to the political bureau, while Viacheslav Molotoff, Rykoff's successor as Premier, was relieved of his duties as secretary of the Communist party because of his promotion.

Andrei Andreev, recently appointed chairman of the Central Control Commission, was relieved of deputy membership in the political bureau.

THEIR ASSETS LIABILITIES

Bank Stock Bequest Calls for 100 Per Cent Levy Against Recipients

WARSAW (Ind.) Dec. 2. (Exclusive) — Robert Lyons, Sr., professor of chemistry at Indiana University, and Robert Lyons, Jr., his son, have received a legacy that has proved not an asset, but a liability. By the will of Mrs. Phoebe Courson ten shares of stock in the Citizens' State Bank were bequeathed the father and five to the son.

Now Lyons and his son are compelled to pay a 100 per cent assessment on the stock, the bank having passed into the hands of a receiver.

MEXICAN OFFICERS ACQUITTED

Seven Naval Men Held Not Guilty of Taking Part in Revolt

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21. (AP)—Commodore Hiram Hernandez and six other naval officers, accused of participating in a revolt at Vera Cruz in March, 1929, were absolved of the charges by a military jury today after a trial that lasted three weeks.

The officers admitted siding with the rebels temporarily but said they did so—or pretended to do so—as a ruse in order that they might get up steam and thus escape the rebels holding the port. They were arrested when they reached Tampico and since had been in prison.

The government asked the death penalty, charging the defendants really joined the rebellion but changed sides when they saw the movement was losing.

In addition to Hernandez the others were Commodores Jose Maria Miranda, Teodoro Madariaga and Jose De La Llave; Capts. Rafael Aguirre, Adan Cuellar and David Fernandez.

FAMILY LAW DRAFTED

NANKING, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Drafts of the law of family relations and the law of succession have been completed and are being examined by a committee named for that purpose by the executive yuan.

CZARIST ASHES PUZZLE GROWS

Gen. Janin Denies Story of Having Royal Remains

Supposed Custodian Says He Gave Them to Italian

Bones and Finger Said to Be Part of Collection

PARIS, Dec. 21. (AP)—A statement which deepens the mystery surrounding disposition of the purported remains of the former Russian Czar and other members of the imperial family was received by the Associated Press from Gen. Maurice Janin today.

The question of the fate of the Russian royal family, which has been a matter of wide speculation since the Bolshevik revolution, was revived last week in dispatches from Prague. These said Gen. Janin, who commanded antisoviet forces in Siberia in 1919, had written a book in which he declared he had brought the ashes and other remains to France and buried them on his private estate.

Gen. Janin's statement today says he does not know what became of the remains. He telegraphed as follows from his home at Chateau Cerrizard, Mons, in the Department of Isere:

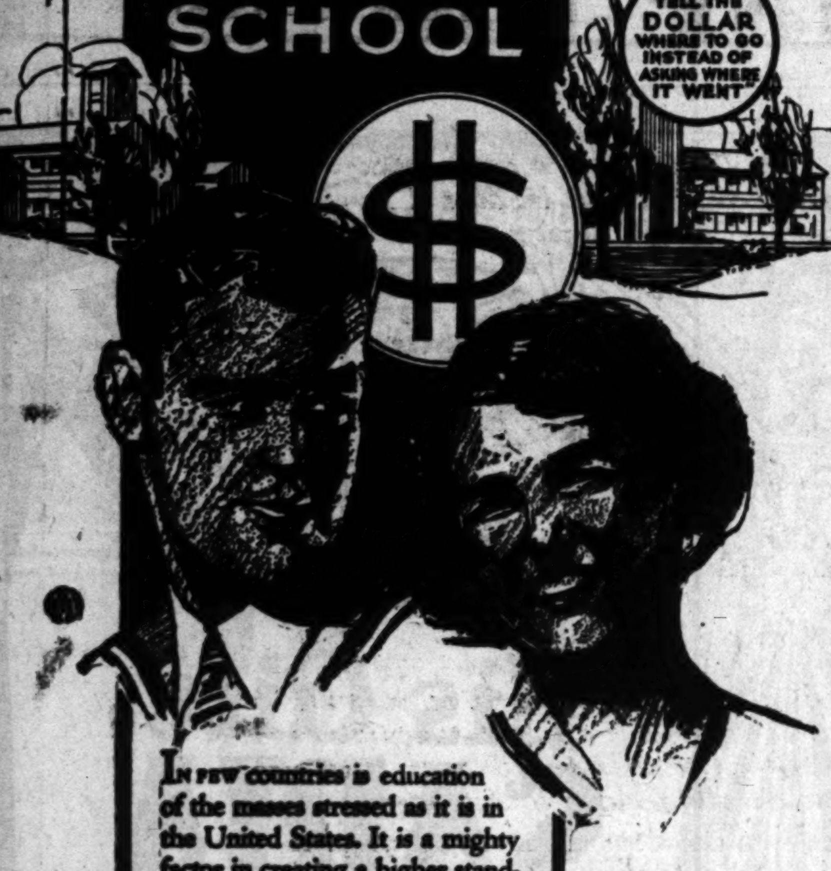
"In 1920 I received at Harbin from Gen. Dietrichs four valises which contained, besides documents and objects which bore a relation to the investigation into the assassination of the imperial Russian family, some remains gathered near Ekaterinburg at the places where the bodies were carved into pieces and burned. They included parts of bones and a finger presumed to be that of the Empress of Russia.

"This collection, intended to be forwarded to Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia, was turned over by his request to M. De Giers, former Ambassador to Italy, after having been kept here three months. I do not know where it is now."

Italy's Flyers Reach Morocco

KENITRA (Morocco) Dec. 21. (AP) Twelve Italian seaplanes making their way toward Brazil under command of Air Minister Balbo arrived here at 1:40 p.m. today from Cartagena, Spain.

The aviators were guests of the French colonial authorities at a reception this afternoon, followed by a dinner.



"TELL THE DOLLAR WHERE TO GO INSTEAD OF ASKING WHERE IT WENT"

The DOLLAR GOES TO SCHOOL

In few countries is education of the masses stressed as it is in the United States. It is a mighty factor in creating a higher standard of living; its power is acknowledged.

Recent statistics show that from the time of leaving school until age 60, the average graduate from grade school earns approximately $45,000; from high school $88,000; and from college $144,000 to $200,000.

That is one reason why thousands of parents today are striving to give their children the best educational advantages...are setting aside, through intelligent spending, the Saved Dollar.

Save consistently! Begin today!

MRS. HOOVER HAS ROLE OF ART EXPERT

Two Portraits of Husband Will be Placed Before Her Today for Selection

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21. (AP)—Two portraits of President Hoover painted by a noted artist engaged by the Union League of Philadelphia will be shown to Mrs. Hoover tomorrow so that she may select the one she prefers.

One portrait will be presented to the President by the league and the other will be hung in the halls of the league's home here.

A committee of the league which engaged Pilides Costa, Greek artist, to make the portraits, viewed the canvases in New York recently, but was unable to decide which it preferred, so decided to let Mrs. Hoover choose.

Costa began work on the portraits last August, setting up his easel in the executive mansion. The paintings show the President attired in a blue coat and white-flannel trousers seated in a chair with a paper in his hand.

Monaco's Army Turns Out to Greet Prince

MONTE CARLO (Monaco) Dec. 21. (AP)—Monaco's standing army, numbering all of 100 men, prepared to turn out today to prevent a demonstration at the return of Prince Louis from France. But the precaution was needless for another twenty-four hours, for the ruler of the tiny principality postponed his arrival until tomorrow.

Rumbles of a manifestation have been heard because the Monagasques are said to dislike the long and frequent absences of Prince Louis.

Discontent also was stirred by the failure of a real estate firm headed by the brother of Eugeus Marquet who is a sort of Premier and Mayor in one. The Mayor himself is facing charges as a result and his brother is in jail.

ARSON DEATH GROUP SEIZED

Plot Confessed and Murder Charges Follow

Chicagoan Says He Paid for Fire That Killed Two

Insurance Fraud Admitted at Bottom of Crime

CHICAGO, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Four men were booked for murder today as a result of a fire early Saturday morning in a building at 3649-59 North Kedzie avenue in which two children were burned to death.

All confessed to participation in an arson plot. A fifth man, wealthy and prominent, is involved as the brains of an arson ring. He also is scheduled for prosecution as a murderer, according to the authorities, as soon as he can be apprehended.

The first confession was made by Harry Goldvarg of 4851 North Harding avenue, owner of the butcher shop in which the flames started. He is 40 years of age, married and father of two children. He said:

"Business was bad. I hoped to collect the $3800 insurance on my $600 worth of fixtures, which were only partly paid for.

The price of the fire which killed the two youngsters, and perhaps fatally injured their mother, was $225, Goldvarg said, $150 cash and a note for $75.

Those booked with Goldvarg are Jacob Tatelman, 41, restaurant owner; Jack Rosow, 40, married, father of three, a waiter in Tatelman's restaurant, and Martin Borad, 18, of 3446 North Crawford avenue, regarded as more or less a dupe of Rosow.

The children burned to death were Jerome Israelson, 5, and his brother Homer, 4. Their mother, Dora, 29, is in Martha Washington Hospital in a dangerous condition. Their father was attending a lodge meeting at the time of the fire.

Auto Swindle Suspect Seized

STOCKTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Sought by a score of cities for extensive automobile swindles, a man who gave the name of John Lewis, 63 years of age, was arrested here tonight. Police said he confessed he has stolen more than fifty automobiles since 1924.

His racket, officers said, was to obtain an automobile from a finance company by making a small down payment. The engine number, license number and registration certificate of the car were changed and the car advertised for sale. Officials of Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles and Oakland sought him for swindles of this nature, Stockton authorities said.

EINSTEIN EPIGRAMS LEAGUE OF NATIONS

BERLIN, Dec. 21. (AP)—A brief but pithy comment on the League of Nations is made by Prof. Albert Einstein, who contributed to a symposium by prominent figures in "A Decade of the League of Nations," a book just published here. "I am rarely enthusiastic about what the League of Nations has done or has not done," Prof. Einstein wrote, "but I am always thankful that it exists."

Jacksonville Postmaster Has Puzzle in Missive With Queer Address

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Postmaster Ross and his force in times past have solved very complicated riddles regarding the delivery of letters addressed in vague fashion, but a missive has arrived that has the best of them baffled.

The address reads:

"Mrs. E. H. Holmes,

"Who lives next door to Mrs. Jenkins,

"Who owns a cow,

Stove Causes Death of Four

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (AP)—A stove, kept burning brightly to warm an apartment in which four persons slept, officials said, caused their deaths today by exhausting the oxygen in the air.

Neighbors broke in to find the bodies of Vernon Daly, 25 years of age; his brother, George 28; Ernest Morris, 40, and Mrs. Morris 38. All had died while in bed.

Framing of Innocent Women Brings Rigid Inquiry

NEW YORK, Dec. 21, (AP)—The searchlight of inquiry into activities of police vice squads swung today upon the banking affairs of 120 policemen and their families; and upon thirty-nine others, including a member of Congress.

One subpoena named Christopher D. Sullivan, a Tammany leader who is representative from the Thirteenth Congressional District and the oldest member of Congress, in point of service, from New York.

"Uncle" Nathan Viodinger, "mayor of Eldridge street," also is named. It has been testified he boasted of having made frequent loans to judges and magistrates.

The investigation seeks to determine the truth of charges that members of the vice squad "framed" innocent women for personal profit; and that some officers of the magistrate's courts—lawyers, bondsmen and others—were involved.

Familiar Faces

INVESTORS who have consistently taken advantage of the time-tested investment facilities of Fidelity Savings have come to know that here they find more than the impersonal, disinterested atmosphere of the usual financial institution.

These investors have learned to know... and appreciate... the human equation... the friendliness... the personal interest in its investors... which sets the Fidelity apart from similar organizations.

Today in the Fidelity you find familiar faces... faces of people who were faithfully, cheerfully serving Fidelity investors twenty... thirty... even forty years ago, when the Fidelity first began its career of service to the investor and the home builder.

Constant growth and development has necessitated adding new faces... new personalities... to the staff, but the Fidelity spirit has never changed. Fidelity Savings, larger and stronger now than ever before, is still actuated by the desire to serve well the needs of its investors, old and new... to increase the scope of its usefulness and service... and, most important, always to safeguard its investors through strict adherence to the wise policies of conservatism and safety laid down by the founders of this Association.

The history of Fidelity is not alone the history of progress in amassing resources. It is equally a history of service performed honestly and to the best of its ability... of loyalty to a trust imposed upon it by thousands of investors.

The forty-year record of the Fidelity is open to your inspection. Your inquiries will be welcomed and freely answered.

Funds placed with Fidelity Savings during the first ten days of January will bear interest at 6 per cent from January 1

ESTATE FOUNDS NOVEL SCHOOLS

Birmingham Iron Man's Will Endows Institutions

No Sport Circuits, Frats or Foreign Tongues Allowed

Students to Learn Helping Selves in Education

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Bequest of the bulk of an estate conservatively estimated at $7,500,000 to a foundation for the establishment of a series of progressive schools in the South and chiefly in Alabama is provided in the will of Harvey G. Woodward, iron manufacturer, probated in court here Saturday. The only part of the estate excepted was a life annuity of $24,000 for his widow, a life annuity of $3600 for Dr. Elmer H. King of New York City and a $1200 annuity for the father and mother of Mrs. Woodward, now living at Dixfield, Me.

The will, several thousand words in length, sets forth the minutest details for the establishment of the schools and provides the most unusual conditions. There shall be no interscholastic athletics, no fraternities or cliques, no foreign languages are to be taught, no examinations and few textbooks. Only Caucasian students will be eligible to enroll and teachers must come from north of a line drawn east and west through Cincinnati.

JUST EXPERIMENT

Mr. Woodward realized himself that his schools are to be more or less of an experiment and provides that if after seventy-five years they have proven a failure half of the fund shall be given to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the remainder become a loan fund for students in schools, excepting those partly kept up by religious denominations. The First National Bank of Birmingham is made trustee of the fund.

No limit is placed on the number of schools to be established but he provides that they shall be at least fifty miles apart and must not be near any city of more than 15,000 population. Each school must not have more than 200 students and he stipulates one teacher for each ten students.

TO TEACH SELVES

"The aim of the schools will be to teach students to teach themselves," he sets forth in his will. "The value of the schools will be not in the subjects and things taught primarily but in the way in which they are taught—in presenting the basic principles in their proper order and relation and, most important of all, in the training of the mind and body in good habits. It seems to be generally agreed by those who have made a study of the subject that the one thing of greatest value really possible to teach anyone is to teach him to teach himself.

"The school is not in any of its parts to become a preparatory school nor to be or become a college or university, nor to become a trade or technical school. Its purpose is to educate the average boy for the specific but broad purpose of making of him a better-rounded man than usually results from so-called specific education."

Something of a boarding school for boys is seen in Mr. Woodward's provision that the master of the schools shall take charge of the spending money of the boys and supervise them in their spending. The boys must keep their own rooms. No Negro servants or workmen are to be allowed about the schools on the assumption that the boys might absorb some of the language or customs of the Negroes. The schools are to have farms on which to grow their own vegetables and fruits.

It is not intended by Mr. Woodward, however, that the schools shall be of a charitable nature. The boys must pay their own tuition of $200 per year. Later on, if they prove fitted for developments he provides that loans shall be made to them, to be paid without interest.

In specifying that teachers shall come from the North, Mr. Woodward says, this is not done because teachers from that section are better than those from the South, but to let boys of the South learn that men of the North are the same as men of the South.

Cranberry Gelatine That Is Different

A novel idea for serving cranberries with turkey is to make the Cranberry Jelly in half-orange shells. Why not have something like this for your Christmas Dinner?

Cranberry Jelly in Orange Shells
2 Cups cranberries — 1 Cup water
1 Cup sugar — ½ Tbsps. gelatine
¼ Cup cold water — Orange Shells

Boil cranberries in the cupful of water until berries are soft and burst their skins. Strain off the liquid. Sweeten to taste, using about 1 cupful of sugar. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. When sugar is dissolved, remove from the stove and add the gelatine which has been dissolved in the ¼-cup of cold water. Cool and pour into Orange Shells that have been cut in half. Chill thoroughly.

Just before serving cut shells in half again and garnish the turkey platter with these jelly-filled orange quarters. This may be made the day before, using the orange shells left from breakfast.

OF COURSE
you can do without it!

IT IS ONLY HUMAN for an advertiser occasionally to challenge the necessity of including THE SATURDAY EVENING POST in his schedule.

Sometimes he tells us about it, saying with a kind of defiant pride: "I guess my business can get along without your magazine."

Bless your heart, of course it can! But why should it want to!

YOUR business can get along with inefficient buildings and equipment.

Your business can get along with old ideas stifling new.

Your business can get along with poor location, inept production management, uninspired sales direction, tepid advertising.

Many do.

But the most progressive, most successful, most profitable businesses don't!

ADMITTING that you can do without THE SATURDAY EVENING POST—where is the gain in denying yourself its unique and tested advantages?

Where is the wisdom in sacrificing time, money, effect in attempting otherwise to reach those intelligent and substantial American homes that The Post does reach—that hub three-million-families-strong that turns the taste, thinking, buying of the nation?

The ablest advertisers settled all that long ago; they use The Post.

That is why this magazine stands head and shoulders above all others as carrier of advertising for the leaders of American business!

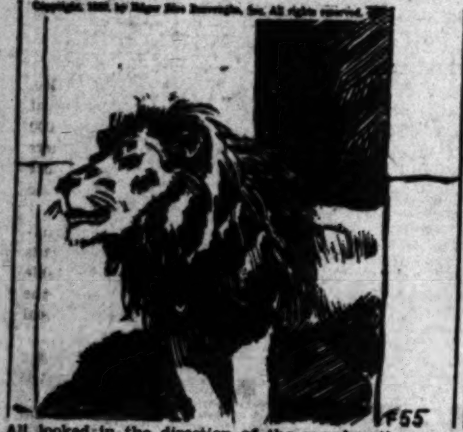
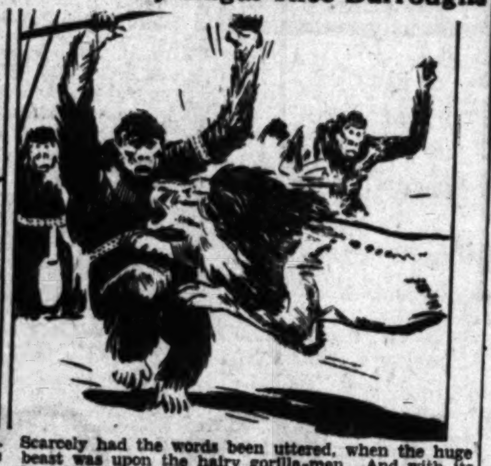
TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

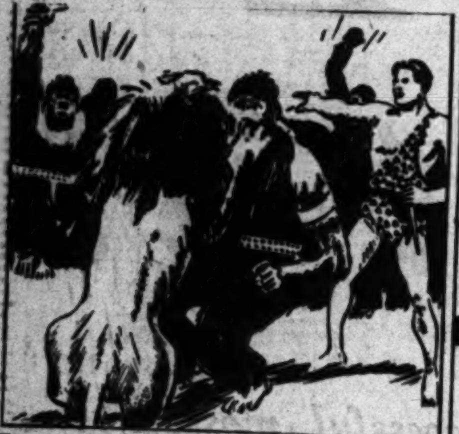
Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.



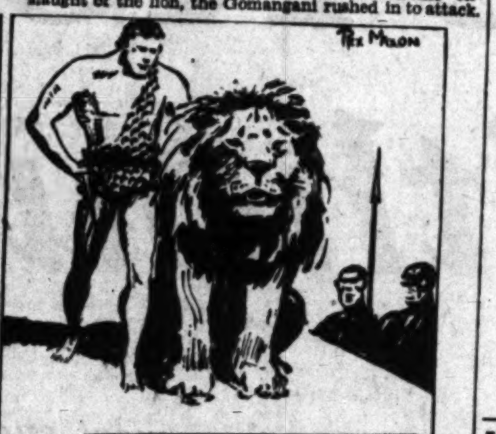
All looked in the direction of the reverberating roar. Just within one of the windows, standing like a statue of golden bronze, they saw a huge, black-maned lion. An instant he remained motionless. Then again the palace trembled with his mighty roar. Towering above them all, Tarzan of the Apes, looked down upon the great beast below him. In quick elation he raised his voice above the growlings of the Bolgani. "Jad-bal-ja!" he cried and pointed toward the Bolgani, "Kill! Kill!"



Scarcely had the words been uttered, when the huge beast was upon the hairy gorilla-men. And with its leap, there came to the ape-man a daring plan to save himself and those dependent upon him. "Quick," he cried, to the Gomangani. "Fall upon the Bolgani Here, at last, is the true emperor Numa, King of Beasts. He slays his enemies, but he will protect Tarzan of the Apes and his friends." Seeing their hated masters falling back before the terrific onslaught of the lion, the Gomangani rushed in to attack.



Tarzan took his place among them with drawn knife, keeping close to Jad-bal-ja, directing the lion from one victim to another lest he fall by mistake upon the Gomangani, the old man or even La. Twenty Bolgani fell before the rest managed to escape. Then Tarzan called Jad-bal-ja to heel. "Go," he said, turning toward the Gomangani, "and drag the body of the false Numa from the dais, for the true emperor has come to claim his throne." With a grim smile the ape-man whispered to La: "I think we shall be safe, now!"



Tarzan ordered Jad-bal-ja to sit upon the dais. Addressing the simple blacks, he said: "See! The new emperor does not have to be chained to his throne. Three of you go to your people. Summon them to the throne room that they too may see. Hurry, that we may have many warriors before the Bolgani return in force." Away sped the messengers while the others gazed at Tarzan as though he were indeed a god who had worked a miracle with a savage beast of the jungle, not knowing he and the lion were friends of long standing.

ENFORCEMENT REPORT NEAR

Law Commission Due for Suggestion Soon

January 1 Set as Probable Date for Statement

Group Not in Accord as Yet on Plan, Says Rumor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP) — A real showdown within the next few days on just what recommendations will be suggested for the prohibition situation was forecast tonight within the ranks of President Hoover's law enforcement commission.

It was said authoritatively that the eleven members have yet to reach the point of deciding upon the major recommendations to be contained in their dry-law report.

The arrival in Washington today of Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa, who has been holding court in St. Louis the past three weeks, will enable the entire commission to be present tomorrow.

REPORT BY JANUARY

Although several of the members have agreed it would be physically impossible to whip a report into shape before Christmas, it was the consensus it could be on President Hoover's desk by January 1, next, or shortly thereafter.

There is unanimity within the commission on at least one point—the members are tired of their prohibition task and are anxious to transfer it to other hands. Several particularly are interested in other phases of the commission's law-enforcement work and a majority feel more time must be given their private business than has been permitted during the intensive work of preparing the prohibition report.

COMMISSION BUSY

The commission has been busier during recent weeks than at almost any time in its nearly two years of existence, shaping up the final factual basis of its report.

The work ahead was described as the actual drawing up of the major recommendations.

From at least one quarter conviction was expressed that the report will be unanimous. Although varying views are known to exist within the commission it is held possible these may be confined to individual opinions to be added to the main document.

Second Largest Bank in Miami Closes Doors

MIAMI (Fla.) Dec. 22. (Monday) (AP)—The City National Bank, second largest financial institution of Miami, will not open its doors today under instructions of the board of directors, which adopted a resolution to that effect at midnight.

The board declared heavy withdrawals "due to malicious rumors" concerning the bank's condition are responsible for the decision. It was added by the board the closing is in line with an effort to protect interests of depositors.

The City National Bank of Miami Beach, the City Trust Company and the Guardian Trust Company, subsidiaries of City National Bank in Miami, will not be affected by the closing, it was announced.

Fake Snakes Chase Away Setting Hens

WACO (Tex.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Taking advantage of a nature-implanted fear and of the experience of the whole hen tribe, James A. Hague, 18-year-old resident of Robinson, this county, has solved the problem of how to effectively stop setting hens from going near the nests. He makes imitation snakes with a ghastly realism, using old stockings and twisting, sewing and painting them to resemble the real snake to an unbelievable extent. The snakes are coiled around the nests, and the result is a series of squawks from the hen and the abandonment of that particular nest for all time. Chickens also are kept from the back steps of the house in the same manner.

Five Men From California Get Council Places

BERKELEY, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) Two members of the faculty, two former members, and an alumnus of the University of California have been named on the National Council for intellectual co-operation, under the chairmanship of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

They are Herbert E. Bolton, professor of history; David P. Barrows, professor of political science; Wesley Mitchel, now of Columbia University; John C. Merriam, now president of Carnegie Institution of Washington, and William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education.

Libraries Will Close Thursday

The Los Angeles Public Library will observe the usual holiday hours in celebration of Christmas, it was announced yesterday.

The entire library—central building and branches—will close at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, and will remain closed all day Thursday.

MARE ISLAND SHOPS GET CRUISER WORK

VALLEJO, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—An additional appropriation of $29,400 for reconditioning of shops at Mare Island navy yard has been granted by the Navy Department, yard officials are advised. The shops are being prepared for construction of the new cruiser, No. 28.

Police warn autoists not to leave their valuables in their cars.

FLO IRWIN BODY HELD AT MORGUE

Funeral Plans for Star of Past Await Arrival of Sister May From East

The body of Flo Irwin, internationally known as an actress for nearly fifty years, was in the County Morgue last night pending arrival of her sister, May Irwin, likewise a star of musical comedy for many years, from New York to complete funeral arrangements.

Death occurred Saturday night at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, supposedly from a heart attack. She was stricken earlier in the day in her modest flat at 1449 Echo Park avenue. An autopsy will be performed today.

Miss Irwin was 71 years of age and had resided at her present address six months. She had told neighbors of being on the stage for fifty-two years, adding that she had done her last bit before the footlights two years ago.

May Irwin wired the Coroner's office that she expects to arrive in Los Angeles Wednesday and take charge of her sister's body. The two were on the stage together in vaudeville and musical comedy and had been inseparable up to the time Flo came to California three years ago.

The latter had appeared in practically every leading theater in the United States and Canada and spent three years as a star in England. The heyday of her success had passed, however, before motion pictures became popular.

Miss Irwin was married twice. One of her husbands was a former New York Senator. She leaves a married daughter in Chicago.

Mexican Groups Threaten Revolt to Force Tax Cut

TORREON (Coahuila, Mex.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Open rebellion against payment of taxes to state and city governments was threatened today by fifteen agricultural chambers of commerce of Coahuila.

The chambers, representing as many towns and municipalities, sent an ultimatum to the Governor demanding that property and production taxes be reduced by half. They declared that in case this is not done, their members will refuse to pay any taxes whatsoever.

The petitioners said the existing economic crisis left their members in such a condition that they are unable to meet the present taxation.

Civic Memorial Proposed for Senator Phelan

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Among the last official acts of James Rolph, Jr., as Mayor of this city prior to his induction into office as Governor is the naming of a committee to suggest a suitable civic memorial to the late ex-Senator James D. Phelan. Among suggestions is that a State park be named for the philanthropist, public official and patron of the arts.

Angry Husband Killed by Mate

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Dec. 21. (AP) — George H. Hilsinger, 45 years of age, warrant officer in the Quartermaster Corps at Fort Wordan, was shot and killed instantly by his wife late today.

Hilsinger, officials reported, became enraged when he returned to his quarters to find his wife entertaining three friends and upbraided her. Mrs. Hilsinger, they reported, seized a .32 caliber automatic pistol and fired point blank at her husband, the bullet striking him in the forehead.

Two Arrested in Gem Theft

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 21. (AP)—Two men with thirteen diamond rings valued at $1700 in their possession were arrested here tonight ten minutes after they are said to have kicked in a window in the Goldstein Jewelry Store.

The men, identified by authorities as George Ross, convict, of Seattle, and Ernest Weaver of Butte Mont., were captured after a chase in which Policeman Olson fired four shots.

NEW YORKER FOUND DEAD ON RAILROAD

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Roy Wilsom, member of the New York Produce Exchange, was found dead today between the tracks of the New York Central Railroad near the Woodlawn station in the Bronx. Police reported that he fell from the train Saturday night on the way to his home in White Plains, N. Y. Physicians said they found no evidences of foul play. He was 35 years of age and unmarried. During the war, he served as a naval officer.

DISASTER FACES SMALL OIL MEN

Prairie Company to Quit Supplying Market

Will Mean Extinction of 10,000 Independents

Hoover and Wilbur Take Steps to Intervene

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, said tonight preliminary reports from investigators in Kansas and Oklahoma indicate the extinction of 10,000 or more small independent oil producers if the Prairie Oil and Gas Company withdraws from the market January 1, next.

The investigation was ordered yesterday by Secretary Wilbur, chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation Board, after the producers had protested to him and President Hoover.

The preliminary report has been submitted to Secretary Wilbur and an additional inquiry is being made.

Dr. Smith said extinction of the small independent producers would be "a distinct loss to the country" and a severe blow to independent oil development.

The Prairie Oil and Gas Company, in recently announcing its intention to withdraw from the market, said its stocks on hand were much greater than demand and its storage capacity was exhausted.

President Hoover called the Oil Conservation Board into session yesterday afternoon and preliminary plans were discussed for assisting the independents. The board lacks power to act in other than an advisory capacity, Secretary Wilbur explained. He declined to divulge the tentative program.

Dr. Smith tonight said the conservation board should propose to other companies and consumers the question of taking over the oil which heretofore has been purchased by the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, from the independents.

The great danger, Dr. Smith declared, is that if the wells are forced to shut down at this time, they probably will stay shut down for years and might never reopen.

STANDARD OF INDIANA ASKED TO EXTEND AID

INDEPENDENCE (Kan.) Dec. 21. (AP)—E. G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil of Indiana, today was asked by Alfred M. Landon, chairman of the steering committee of oil producers of Southeast Kansas, to purchase enough oil from the field to "keep these fields alive."

Efforts are being made to find a market for Kansas oil as a result of announceemnt of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company that beginning January 1, it will not accept any more deliveries.

Previously Mr. Seubert, telegraphed Mr. Landon that he appreciated the acute situation, but was not responsible, as it was "brought about by circumstances over which we have no control."

Mr. Landon's telegram today said: "You do have control over the situation as it now stands. You can easily buy from the Eastern Kansas fields the small amount of crude necessary to keep these fields alive instead of filling your requirements from the newer, flush fields.

"Thus you can live up to your responsibility to your old customers in the State in which you have thousands of gasoline stations, and to the public, to prevent this great waste of a vital natural resource necessary to the economic life of future generations and indispensable in times of war."

Mr. Landon also requested Mr. Seubert to give authority to his representative at a meeting to be held soon, to make a definite proposal as to what the Standard company "can do to prevent this great catastrophe."

GOV. REED APPEALS TO OIL COMPANIES

TOPEKA, Dec. 21. (AP)—Gov. Reed today asked assurance from the Standard Oil Company of Indiana that it would co-operate in working out plans to meet the situation arising through announcement of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company that it will withdraw as a purchaser of crude oil after January 1.

Gov. Reed yesterday addressed appeals to other leading oil company officials following a meeting of independent Kansas oil men at Chanute at which it was announced the Prairie company's action deprived the Kansas oil producers of an outlet for 10,000 barrels of crude oil daily.

Nanking Forms New Plans for Court Program

NANKING, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has formed its program for reorganization of the mixed court in the French concession at Shanghai, it is learned. Negotiations for the Chinese will be handled by Dr. C. T. Wang, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and M. Wilden, French Minister, as soon as the latter reaches the capital.

It is understood the basic element in the plan is to make the court purely Chinese, with the status of the special district court in the International Settlement.

Shrine Becomes Public Museum

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.) Dec. 21. (AP) The Gov. William Blount mansion, 138-year-old shrine, has been made a public museum. The home, built near the banks of the Tennessee River by Gov. Blount, has housed many noted guests.

DUSSELDORF CITIZENS BUILD TERRARIUMS

DUSSELDORF, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Members of a local association interested in aquariums and terrariums are giving their free time to build a terrarium in the city's East Park. The workers include men from all classes of the population. The terrarium will house amphibia, reptiles, insects and invertebrates.

POLICE TESTING FOOD BLUE LAW

Sunday Purchasers Asked to Appear in Court

Baltimore Forbids Dealing in Perishables

Patrons of Delicatessen Shop Questioned

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21. (AP)—Many food purchasers today were summoned to appear before a magistrate tomorrow as police laid a blue law test at the door of the delicatessen shops. The sale of perishable food, police said, is prohibited on Sunday.

Two uniformed officers stationed outside of a shop in the residential part of the city, questioned each person who emerged with a bundle.

The first to be questioned was a man who had bought a small sack of flour for biscuits and a tin of peaches. He was asked to appear in court. The next customer was a woman and the officers ruled by purchasing a tin of potato chips and a bottle of orange juice she had broken the law and should appear before the magistrate.

Inside the store the owners seeing a test case was being made tried to learn what they could sell. At no time did the officers interfere with the actual purchasing of goods, but took the name and address of all who they believed had secured perishable goods.

No charges were placed against the customers.

TOWN FLEES, THEN FLEAS FLEE TOWN

Ravenous Leapers Get Into Australian City, Laugh at Insecticide, Hop Away

COOLANGATTA (Australia) Dec. 21. (AP)—Big fleas have little fleas, and so did Coolangatta.

Myriads of ravenous fleas invaded the town, but at the end of three days disappeared as quickly and mysteriously as they came.

Every store sold out insecticide and urgent calls were sent to other towns for fresh supplies. People who bravely ventured forth to spray places where the insects were thickest retreated hastily, spraying themselves.

France Losing Button Trade

PARIS, Dec. 21. (AP)—The button industry of France is feared dying. Italy and Japan have ceased to buy French-made buttons and manufacturers are seeking to bolster trade.

ANDY'S FAMOUS NO. 348 AGAIN CLUTTERS TRAFFIC

PONTIAC (Mich.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive) — Old 348 has returned to the streets of this city after an absence of one year. The comic-strip car made famous by Sidney Smith is owned by a real Andy Gump, who jumped into prominence two years ago when after a personal appeal to Gov. Fred W. Green he obtained the famous 348 license plates.

Last year he was not successful because the first 1000 license plates usually are reserved for State officials and their friends, and someone closer to the Governor wanted the plates.

This year's campaign was opened in July and Andy has just been notified that his efforts to get the old "348" were successful. Andy Gump, that is his real name, is purchasing agent for an automobile manufacturer and is widely known in automobile circles chiefly through his unusual business cards, which carry a picture of the comic strip Andy, drawn by Cartoonist Sidney Smith.

THIRTEEN PRISONERS WIN PAROLE

More Than Hundred Cases Considered in Clean-up Session of Prison Board

SAN RAFAEL, Dec. 21. (AP)—Cases of 118 convicts were considered by the State Prison Board, which closed a two-day session at San Quentin prison today. Penitentiary officials said it was the heaviest docket the board had had in a two-day session. Board members are trying to clear the calendar as much as possible for their successors, who will come in with the new State administration.

Mrs. Lolah Wheeler, known as one of the most beautiful women prisoners, was among the thirteen inmates granted an immediate parole. She was received from Los Angeles county a year ago under sentence of two consecutive three-year terms for issuing bad checks.

Other immediate paroles included Frank Williams, Tulare, automobile theft; Tony Nuich, Los Angeles, still possession; H. A. Lawson, Santa Clara, operating a still; William George Brown, Napa, embezzlement; Raymond Arigan, Kern, grand theft. Each had served one year.

The board disposed of the other cases by setting forty-eight future dates, postponing thirty-two cases, denying fifteen pleas, continuing four and deporting six prisoners.

Farm Bureau in 'Clean-up' Week for Membership

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) — With approximately three-fourths of the work completed for membership campaign of the Farm Bureau this season, those in charge of the drive have announced that the period between the 29th inst. and January 3, will be known as "clean-up" week.

The membership committee of the Farm Bureau asks that all centers co-operate in cleaning up their campaigns during this period. Some centers in the county have completed the work of soliciting every farmer in the district.

Heading the campaign as chairman is A. A. Sprehn, with Albert West and Mrs. L. E. Formway as other members of the committee.

PLANE PUTS NEWSPAPER ON DOORSTEP

Texas Pilot Makes Detour to Serve Lone Subscriber at Town of Norias

NORIAS (Tex.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Besides having the distinction of being the headquarters of Caesar Kleberg, assistant general manager of the 1,200,000-acre King ranch, the town of Norias, which consists of one two-story residence and a railroad depot, is probably the only single-copy newspaper daily delivery point on a regular airplane line in the United States. The newspaper, which is printed in Dallas, is wrapped in heavy paper and faithfully delivered in the afternoon of the same day that it is issued.

There is no other house within many miles of Norias and the airplane has to go somewhat out of its direct route to bring the paper here. The pilot of the plane brings the big ship down low and he rarely fails to drop the day's copy of the newspaper almost on Kleberg's front doorstep.

China Planning Road Building

SHANGHAI, Dec. 21. (AP)—China has started to take its road-building seriously. Seeking to expand the highway system and to give the auto trade a chance to grow, a national good-roads conference has been called here in April.

MAN KILLED BY AUTO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. (AP)—August Legrande was killed here today when he was hurled from the running board of an automobile from which he was trying to jump before the car hit another machine.

FATAL EPIDEMIC TRACED TO MILK

Five Dead and 500 Stricken in Ontario Town

Septic Sore Throat Spread Closes Up Dairies

Pasteurization Measures May be Resorted to

KIRKLAND LAKE (Ont.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Five residents of this pioneer town of some 6000 population have died and 500 others are seriously ill with septic sore throat which has spread quickly to an epidemic.

Officials of the Ontario Department of Health and local physicians are agreed the disease is traceable to the town's milk supply. For the present all milk produced by local dairies is being destroyed.

Camps of miners near by have not been affected, as canned milk is the staple ration used in them.

There are only thirty hospital beds in Kirkland Lake, so nearly every home in the town has been turned into an improvised hospital. Nearly every family has at least one patient among its members and in a few instances entire families are suffering and being cared for by more fortunate neighbors.

The epidemic is likely to result in the pasteurization of the milk supply of Kirkland Lake and that of other Northern Ontario communities.

SWISS POPULATION DOUBLES IN CENTURY

ZURICH, Dec. 21. (NANA)—There is still plenty of room on the Alps, of course, but in the last hundred years it is estimated that the population of Switzerland has doubled. The census for 1830 showed that 2,000,000 Swiss abounded in their country, that of 1920 3,800,000 and the new census now being taken is expected to reveal about 4,100,000.

JUNIOR TENNIS TOURNEY OPENS

Palomar Club Event to Get Under Way Today

Brilliant Field Entered in Junior Boys' Class

Seventy-two Matches Billed for First Day's Play

JAY COHN

Play in the junior events of the first annual Southern California midwinter tennis championships will start this morning on the Palomar Tennis Club courts under the direction of the Los Angeles junior chamber. About seventy-two matches have been scheduled for today with several feature battles sure to be played, as the third round in the junior men's singles will be completed.

Several nationally prominent stars have entered the three junior events—junior boys' and girls' singles and boys' singles 15-years-and-under—and plenty of class is assured. The seeded stars in the junior boys' singles, in their respective order, are Billy Doeg, Pacific Southwest junior boys' champion; Jay Cohn, two-times national boys' champion; Harold Steiner, Leonard Patterson, Russell Galloway and Larry Myers. Thirty-seven stars representing most of the State are entered in the junior boys' event.

Thirty-one have entered the junior girls' singles, and the feminine luminaries in this division are equally as prominent as in the boys.' Dorothy Workman, Pacific-Southwest junior girls' titlist, tops the draw, with Carolyn Babcock, Beverly Hills open junior crown holder; Ruby Bishop, Pasadena star, and Marion Wood, Fullerton luminary, completing the seeded list.

The boys' event is being competed in by twenty-one players. The four seeded celebrities are Jay Cohn, first; Gene Mako, Southern California scholastic champion, second; Jack Creamer, San Marino ace,

Pampas Four on Way Here

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 21. (AP)—Four Argentine polo players, Diego Cavanagh, Juan Benitez, Daniel Kearney and Luis Duggan, left here today for Chile en route to California, where they will compete in winter tournaments at the invitation of the Midwick Polo Club. The Argentines will play as the El Pampero team.

CANTLON WINS FEATURE RACE

Shorty Cops Legion Event; Walt May is Second

Climaxing a day of thrills and crack-ups, "Shorty" Cantlon continued his sensational driving at the Legion Ascot Speedway yesterday to win his third consecutive main event before a crowd of approximately 10,000 fans. Despite the fact that he again lapped the entire field, Cantlon was given a good deal more competition than in previous races. This is probably due to the fact that every one of the entrants qualified in less than 30s.

SHORTY CANTLON

Walt May, driving the Dayton Thoroughbred special was closely pressed by his partner, Francis Quinn, in the Gabhart special, for second place. Quinn started the race in last place and worked his way through the field until he was only a car length from May, when they finished. May had a hard time staving off the desperate rally of Quinn, which brought the crowd to its feet cheering. Arvel Brummier, after several pit stops, finished in fourth position, and Lou Moore in fifth. The winner's time was 50m. 21 3-5s., which was extremely fast, considering the fact that the race was stopped on two different occasions because of cars stopped on the track.

LOTS OF EXCITEMENT

Excitement prevailed from the start of the Helmet Dash until the finish of the ten-lap consolation race. The lead changed three times in the dash, with Ernie Triplett finally winning. Stubby Stubblefield had the lead when the three entrants hit the first curve. Chester Gardner, however, shot by Stubblefield, much to the amazement of Stubby and everyone else. Stubby hit a slippery spot in the track and made a complete revolution while Triplett was crowding the fence to get by him.

Gardner by this time was well

DE GLANE, LUTZE FEATURE MATCH

French Star and Life Guard in Main Event

Strangler Favored to Beat Louis Stocca

Myron Cox Makes Mat Debut in Curtain-Raiser

BY RALPH HUSTON

The wolves are howling along Don George's trail already. No sooner had the popular local grappler wrested the world's heavyweight wrestling crown from Gus Sonnenberg than all of the hopeful mat stars in the vicinity took off, in full cry, for a championship match.

NICK LUTZE.

No less than four of the contenders will appear in the Olympic Auditorium tonight, when Lou Daro, the genial promoter, offers his final program of the year. Although it is not billed as such, the card really is a double main event. Nick Lutze, the grappling life guard, faces Henri De Glane, French champion, in the final bout of the evening; and Ed "Strangler" Lewis, the ex-champion, engages Joe Stocca, massive Italian. Both bouts are for two falls out of three to a finish. All four are clamoring for title bouts.

Just to make the affair more exciting, Sonnenberg will make his first public appearance since losing his crown, challenging the winners of the two feature bouts.

DE GLANE CHOICE

De Glane is expected to win the feature battle, but he should be hard pressed. Lutze hasn't been seen in action for some time, and is out to step back to the throne of local favoritism. He hasn't had a championship match for about two years, and he is in great shape to wage a winning championship campaign. Lutze has faced nearly every top-notcher in the game, and he has had fair success. Only Sonnenberg did not face the young challenger, but the ex-champion has agreed to meet Lutze early next year if the lifeguard can win over De Glane tonight.

De Glane, while not a consistent winner, has been very impressive in his local bouts. He is the European Greco-Roman champion, and while he depends largely on the holds peculiar to this form of the grappling sport, he is conversant with the other methods, and has shown a knowledge of every variety of attack and defense. He ought to win.

Lewis probably has the best chance to get a championship match with George. He has beaten everybody in the wrestling game except the present champion and Sonnenberg. He

THE ANCIENT REVEILLE

Christmas has called—and I want to go home;
Christmas has whispered—and out through the night
There's something which beckons to those who must roam
Far from the berries of scarlet and white;
There's something which beckons—and out on the road
We follow the way of a dream that is old,
And weary the travel and heavy the load
Of those who may never turn back to the fold.

Christmas has called—but the fog gathers in
And covers the far-away, long-ago track
That leads to a morning of tumult and din
From the drum and the horn of the hurrying pack,
From the lost reveille of the swift fading years
That wander so far from the far-away tryst
As one stumbles on through the shadows and fears
And turns to a dream that is lost in the mist.

Jack Sharkey's Angle

ONE of the neatest tangles facing 1931 will be settling upon the name of the challenger to face Max Schmeling. Max Baer is still at least a year away and Carnera is still 4000 miles away.

This seems to leave Sharkey and Stribling standing alone. Just before he stepped into the ring to handle Ernie Schaaf against Baer, I asked Sharkey what he thought of the situation. It was simple enough to the Boston fighter.

"I don't see where there is any argument," he said. "I fought Stribling once and won. I know it was no whirlwind scrap but it was the only way one could fight Stribling to win. And I was out to win. Later, only a short while ago, when Stribling was offered $50,000 to meet me in a charity bout, I offered to fight him for nothing and I meant it. He had $50,000 guaranteed and I couldn't make a dime. He turned it down. I couldn't go any further than that. I don't think any challenger ever went that far before."

Which is true enough. That move at least insured Sharkey of another chance to slip back into the argument where he probably will meet the winner of a Stribling-Carnera or a Stribling-Campolo mix-up.

PASADENA CHAMPION

Tony Manero, sleek young New York professional, yesterday won the first of the many local midwinter golf tournaments, when he topped a fast field in the third annual Pasadena $4000 open. PASADENA TIES SHEIKS

League Leaders Held to Even Score; Sons Annex 1-to-0 Contest From Magyar Outfit

One upset and one set-up was registered at each of the two City Soccer League fields in the games played yesterday afternoon. At Loyola Field, "home of the Los Angeles City Soccer League," the fast and prancing Pasadena A.C.C. youngsters played the Hollywood Sheiks to a 1-1 tie in the feature game, while the Victorias swamped the Scots, 5 goals to 1, in the game which opened the program.

Over at Tournament Park, Pasadena, the scrappy Sons of St. George nosed out the brilliant Magyars, 1 goal to 0, in a feature upset, and the L.A.A.C. clubmen stopped the winning streak of Johnny Bain's Richfield Oilers by chalking up four goals to their opponents' none in the first game of the afternoon. By virtue of their win yesterday and the Mags' loss, the Mercury eleven jumped into second place for at least another week.

The second game at Loyola Field found the Pasadena soccer boys playing one of the best games of their lives to hold the Sheiks, who were league champions last year and runners-up in the State playoffs also, to a standstill. Most of the Crown City aspirants of soccer are comparatively young and very fast on their feet, so the Hollywoodmen had plenty of work to keep the ball out of the youngsters' hands.

The two elevens played score-

BUTLER WOULD ENDOW SPORTS

Sole Support of Athletics by Alumni Suggested

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, in his annual report today suggested a permanent endowment by alumni "to bring to an end the importance of gate receipts and put baseball, golf, rowing and football on an equal basis."

Calling attention to current criticism of the manner in which intercollegiate athletics, especially football, is conducted, Dr. Butler said:

"The enormous cost of football and the enormous revenues produced are a constant and justifiable source of academic as well as public criticism.

"If all colleges would consistently restrict themselves to participants of undoubted academic qualifications and without any financial inducement or assistance to participate in athletics, the situation would be simple. Upright institutions are punished on the playing fields.

"The public knows little or noth-

GENARO FACES WOLGAST IN TITLE SCRAP FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—The Christmas holidays cut sharply into the national boxing schedule this week but fail to hinder Madison Square Garden from staging a flyweight championship bout.

Frankie Genaro, National Boxing Association title-holder at 112 pounds, and Midget Wolgast, Philadelphia, recognized king of the weight in New York and Pennsylvania, will clash over the championship route of fifteen rounds at the Garden Friday night.

Wolgast achieved recognition here and in Pennsylvania when he won an elimination tournament staged at the Garden last spring. Genaro, a ring veteran of 29, captured the crown in the eyes of the N.B.A. two years ago, when he won a Canadian elimination tournament, defeating French Belanger, Canadian title-holder, in a challenge match.

Wolgast is only 21 years old and is one of the fastest men in the ring. He is not a damaging puncher but generally succeeds in bewildering his opponents with the storm of leather he tosses their way.

Other bouts on the national schedule include:

Monday—At Chicago: Edgar Norman, Norway, vs. Willie Oster, Boston, eight rounds. At Rochester, N. Y.: Jackie Brady, Syracuse, N. Y., vs. Abe Lichtenstein, Rochester, welterweights, ten rounds.

Tuesday—At New York, Broadway Arena: Ruby Goldstein, New York, vs. Willie Garafola, New York, welterweights, six rounds. At Indianapolis: Walter Pickerd, Indianapolis, vs. Meyer (Mo) Cristner, Akron, O., heavyweights, ten rounds.

SHATTERS PAR IN FINAL ROUND TO WIN WITH 287

Mortie Dutra Takes Second Place at Brookside Park; Tony Again Leads Pack in First Tourney

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

"Push 'em up" Tony Manero, 25-year-old Elmsford (N. Y.) professional, turned back a page in local golf history yesterday when he banged out a great par-smashing closing round of 34-35—69 over the Brookside Park municipal course yesterday afternoon to win the third annual Pasadena $4000 open tournament with a seventy-two-hole total of 73-71-74-69—287.

Call it coincidence if you like, but for the second consecutive year "Push 'em up" Tony has played Santa Claus to the Manero family by winning the first tournament on Southern California's midwinter money schedule—and as a year ago at Catalina, a Dutra finished in second place.

WALTER HAGEN

At Pasadena, however, it was Mortie Dutra who trailed the sensational young New York Italian, while Olin carried the Dutra banner into the money on the magic isle.

Mortie, professional of the Virginia Country Club, had three pars to tie Manero for the lead in the afternoon round but he took a five at the sixteenth hole and then three-putted the eighteenth for a total of 76-69-71-73—289, two strokes back of the flying Tony.

ESPINOSA IN MONEY

In view of the rabid pro and con discussion concerning the relative merits of the new and old ball, it is interesting to note that Manero and Dutra alone finished better than 290, whereas fourteen players bettered that mark a year ago.

Al Espinosa of Chicago, who played some of the finest golf of the entire tournament, tied for third money with Herman Barron of Port Chester, N. Y. Al was tied for the lead at the end of fifty-four holes, but had trouble getting started in the afternoon and took a 74 for a total of 71-73-72-74—290. Barron crashed the "big money" gate with a final round of par golf for 74-70-75-71—290.

The 291 bracket included Tommy

CONVERSION RULING MAY BE CHANGED

Alexander Wants Football to Drop Extra-Point Kick After Touchdown

ATLANTA (Ga.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Abolition of the extra point after touchdown will be favored by Coach W. A. Alexander of Georgia Tech, president of the American Football Coaches' Association, when the coaches assemble for their annual meeting in New York the 29th inst.

BILL ALEXANDER

The Dixie mentor, director of Georgia Tech's gridiron destinies since 1920, said he didn't plan to bring up the much-talked-of extra point, but expected it to be one of the chief questions as the coaches prepare their recommendations for the rules committee.

Regarding the extra point, Alexander said: "It is not fair for a team to march down the field to a touchdown and fail to kick the extra point and then have the other team grab a a fumble, score and kick the point to win."

"Talk to any coach who has lost games by such a margin and they

TROJAN CAGERS MEET UTAH AGGIES TONIGHT

Coach E. L. Romney and his Utah Aggies basketball team will make their 1930 debut in Los Angeles tonight when they play coach Sam Barry's University of Southern California cagers in the first game of a two-game series in the Trojan gymnasium. The Farmer quintet was in town a year ago on a similar barnstorming tour.

SAM BARRY

The agriculturalists will play the Trojans tomorrow night in the second game of the series, and will then engage in two contests the latter part of the week. The strong Los Angeles Athletic Club team will endeavor to subdue the visitors on Friday night in the Mercury gymnasium, and the Pacific Coast Club quintet will furnish the opposition to the Utah team on Saturday night at the new Armory in Long Beach.

The tour of the Utah Aggies last year was far from triumphal, the visitors losing most of their games against local opposition, but they have hopes of doing better this year. However, every local team, with the possible exception of the Pacific Coast Club, will be favored to trip the Utahans. The L.A.A.C. five, conquerors of the Trojans, will probably be the toughest opposition that the Farmers will have to face locally.

Sam Barry's Trojans are just rounding into form after a poor start, and should be in fine fettle

WILL ROGERS STARS AS ROVER FOUR TRIUMPHS

Will Rogers, humorist, writer, self-appointed ambassador, cowboy, after-dinner speaker and what not, proved his hand as a polo hero yesterday at the Uplifters' Field. Rogers led the Rovers' riders to a 15-to-8 victory over the Buccaneers, captained by T. Lyell Puckett, the pride of Alhambra mallet followers.

Rogers, ably assisted by his son, Will, Jr., Reggie Weiss and Dr. Rex Duncan, smashed the Bucs under foot. The Rovers took command in the first four chukkers of the game and they were never headed despite a hectic rally in the last period of play by the Buccaneers. Reggie Weiss led the scoring column with five goals. Will, Sr., playing at back, was responsible for a good many tallied by his forwards and he scored two himself. Will, Jr., gathered in three goals and Dr. Duncan four for the winners. A pony kicked in the other for good measure.

Winslow Felix tallied four times for the losers, Lionel Pedley twice, and Lyell Puckett twice.

Line-ups:

FIREMEN PLAY FLICKERTAILS

Intersectional Game Will Be Staged Thursday

Nodaks Have Carried Off Title Three Times

Glen Jarrett Is Outstanding Star of Invaders

LES GRIMES

The "Flying Flickertails" from North Dakota University romp into town this morning from Grand Forks for their intersectional game Christmas Day at the Coliseum with the Los Angeles Fire Department football warriors. The Nodaks with Coach Jack West in command, will go straight to the Alexandria Hotel and then journey to the Coliseum where they work out for the clash.

Thirty-two footballers will be in the party that arrives at 8:22 a.m., the advance man announces. The Nodaks are very anxious to make a hit with Los Angeles fans as they would like to get on the schedule of either the Bruins or the Trojans next season.

North Dakota has won three straight championships in their own conference. This year they lost but one game and that was a nonconference affair to Army. They are members of the North Central loop.

In Glen (Red) Jarrett, the Nodaks have one of the outstanding stars of the Midwest. Jarrett has scored on every team that the North Dakotans have played this season. He was a marked man in his own conference at the start of the season, but he ran wild against the opposition.

Bill Blewett, coach of the Firemen, will send his charges through a light drill this afternoon at Harvard Playground. The Firemen are on edge for the clash. Blewett drove his players hard last week and he believes his team will be in the best shape of the season when they line up against the Nodaks.

Harry Fremont has been named to take Capt. Lee Grimes's place at quarterback. Grimes is out with a broken hand. The rest of the first-string backfield combination will be Nolan and Byers at halves, and Don Moses at fullback.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Fire Department headquarters and Dyas stores.

NAVY REFEREE MAY OFFICIATE AT BENEFIT

Lieutenant-Commander Duke Kenworthy and Lieut. Jack Kennedy of the Navy have been invited to referee the bouts on the benefit card Friday night at the Pasadena Arena. The program is being staged for the unemployed in the Crown City. The two naval officials are considered among the best referees in the game today and Matchmaker Morrie Cohan hopes they will participate in his show. The bouts will be amateur affairs.

MILLIONAIRES, HAWKS MIX

Los Angeles Ice Hockey Squad Makes Final Home Stand Tonight Against San Francisco

The Los Angeles Millionaires, led by Dan Carrigan, will take the ice tonight at the Winter Garden against the San Francisco Black Hawks. It will be the final home appearance of the Millionaires until January 3. They will head north Wednesday for a series of four games in San Francisco and Oakland. Women will be admitted free tonight.

The Los Angeles team, due to its youth and speed, is favored to turn in another victory. They are making a strong bid for the California Hockey League championship and are going after every game as if it was the deciding one.

With Tom Carrigan at goal and Dutch Singer and Archie Gray at defense, it is not likely that the San Francisco veterans will do much scoring. Dan Carrigan will play center ice for the locals. The Millionaires have several capable forwards in Wolf Peltier, Lindsay Carver, Guidos Roy, George Brown, Jack Pilkin, Johnny Bruenteau and Ted Jacques.

Peltier is the only real veteran of the outfit, although Manager Carrigan has also been playing for a long time. The remainder of the team averages around 21 years of age. The Millionaire youngsters are combining to make their team the fastest in the State league.

The outstanding veterans on the San Francisco Black Hawk team are Manager Lloyd Cook, Leo Cook, Ganton Scott and Walter Broadfoot. The latter has long been considered one of the best goalies in the league. Two years ago Scott was the leading scorer, while he also tallied plenty of goals last season. He will be a marked man tonight.

The Sacramento rink is now being erected and it is likely that the next time the Black Hawks come south they will be representing that locality. Cook's team is using San Francisco as its home only until the Sacramento rink will be finished.

ALABAMA'S GRID ELEVEN PARKS IN ARIZONA CITY

in captivity. He's a whale and must weigh all of 240 pounds, although down at a mere 215.

Freddie Sington, who won all-American honors from practically every critic of note, is not as large as Clement, but shapes up as the type of player capable of doing even more damage than the mammoth Alabama captain. Sington plays running guard on offense and with his admitted 215 pounds of beef should cause the Cougars all kinds of trouble. He has small legs, compared to Clement, but a huge torso.

HOWARD SMALLEST

The smallest man in the Alabama line is Howard, guard, and he weighs 180 pounds. That's some indication of the size of the southerners and nearly all the others are considerably bigger than the "midget."

Cain Campbell, Suther and McRight, the starting backs, are all around 175 or 180 pounds, Campbell being the smallest of the group.

When asked point-blank whether his present team is better than the one which defeated Washington, 20 to 19, at the Rose Bowl in 1926, Wade countered and declared that he didn't know.

"We have not met as powerful teams as we did then," said Wade. "Our toughest opponent this year was Vanderbilt, but I don't feel that Vandy was as powerful as the Georgia Tech team of 1925. We licked Tech that year, 7 to 0. I know the other teams on our schedule this year were not as strong as some of those we encountered in 1925."

"But your own team has not been extended, has it?" questioned the writer.

TEAM EXTENDED

"Well, we have been extended," said Wade with a smile, and then somewhat counteracted that statement by saying: "We have scored three or more touchdowns in every game but two, Vanderbilt and Georgia and we scored twice in each of those games."

"You had only 13 points scored against you all year, didn't you?" was the next question.

"Yes, that's right," replied the soft-spoken Alabama coach, and let go at that.

"What do you think of Washington State?" (Wade saw the Cougars beat Villanova.)

"Washington State has a powerful defensive team, one of the strongest I have ever seen," was Wade's answer. "Villanova never got beyond their own 40-yard line."

"What about Washington State's lack of offense in that tussle?"

"Well, I think the players were back east on a lark, in fact, I saw some of them before the game and remarked to Hank Crisp, my assistant, that perhaps it would be a good plan for us to go over and offer to help Babe Hollingbery give his men a pep talk," said Wade laughingly.

"I know Washington State can play better offensive football than that displayed at Villanova. They are not fooling me."

RUGGED ELEVEN

Although Wade himself won't admit it, southern newspaper men, and there are ten of them along, state that the present Alabama eleven is far more rugged than either of the two previous teams which came to the Coast.

"There is no Pooley Hubert or Johnny Mack Brown on the present teams, but it is a powerful, rugged outfit," said Zip Newman, who is sports editor of the Birmingham News—"There's one of the ends right there," said Zip, pointing to a chap who weighed all of 190 pounds. "That's the average size of our boys."

Incidentally Johnny Mack's younger brother, Billy, is along with the team as a back. Also his father-in-law, Judge H. B. Foster.

The train stopped here only one hour tonight so there wasn't much chance to give the players a thorough once-over and then file a comprehensive report of what went on.

The party pulled out for the Grand Canyon at 8 o'clock tonight and will arrive in Pasadena around 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Wade's team will stop at the Vista Del Arroyo and practice at Tournament Park or Occidental.

Alabama's party of approximately 180 persons includes a number of notables, among them Dr. George H. Denny, president of the university. Dr. Denny was west with the team in 1925, also.

HEWITT ON STAFF

Tiny Hewitt, who was a great fullback for Pop Warner at Pittsburgh many years ago and followed this up with several years as a star in the Army line-up, is Wade's backfield coach, this being his first year with the Crimson Tide, which ought to be some indication of where the "Bama boys get their punch," for Hewitt was one of the really great line plungers of football.

There are thirty-five players on the squad: Ends, Elmore, Moore, Dobbs, Ben Smith, Dothrow, Taylor; tackles, Sington, Clement, Godrey, Sims, Barker, Jackson; guards, J. Miller, Howard, Whitworth, Sanderd, Fry, Leslie; centers, Eberdt, Sharpe, Huston, Hood; backs, Cain, Suther, McRight, Campbell, Boykin, Brown, Holley, Tucker, Long, Causey, Hansen, H. B. Miller and Bellini.

The coaches, besides Wade are Hank Crisp, Shorty Probst, Jess Heeley and Hewitt. Probst scouted Stanford for Wade prior to the 1927 Rose Bowl game. Jeff Coleman, business manager, is running the special train.

Jimmy Johnston, the lad who rose from his blankets late in the afternoon of the memorable, 7-to-7 game with Stanford, is also along. Jimmy scored the touchdown which tied the score.

Gridmen Laud Hawaii Teams

The trend of football toward the air in offense will make Hawaiian squads "big shots" nationally, in the opinion of two coaches who yesterday brought back two mainland teams on the Lassco liner Calawaii after games in the islands.

They are Bert Heiser, coach of Chaffee Junior College at Ontario, with twenty-five young stalwarts, and George O. Romney, athletic director of Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, with a squad of eighteen.

Lacking weight, the coaches agreed, the Hawaiians have turned to laterals and forward passes with a vengeance and will scintillate as the game becomes more open as it is doing rapidly.

Chaffee beat Kamehameha Academy, 12 to 0, and McKinley High School, 14 to 6, in a Shrine game for charity before 13,000 fans the greatest crowd at an island gridiron game. Romney's team lost, 49 to 13, to the University of Hawaii, although the first downs were practically even. Hawaiian players racially could represent the League of Nations, the coaches said. The Calawaii departed Honolulu six hours late to accommodate the two teams.

ERVAST TO RUN CHRISTMAS DAY

Californian Shows Form in Sizzling Workout

AGUA CALIENTE (Baja California, Mex.) Dec. 21.—Ervast, equine star of the West, in making ready for his winter debut in the Christmas Handicap, opening feature of the Agua Caliente eighty-two-day meeting, has worked three-quarters of a mile in 1:13 1-5. The Californian was under a tight pull and traveled on the outside of the track, considerably farther than the normal distance. The Christmas is at the same distance, three-quarters of a mile.

Trainer Walter Fenwick, when Ervast was cooling out, declared the "Big Train" to be in good shape and voiced the opinion that he would be well able to take care of himself when pitted against prominent eastern racers now training at Agua Caliente for the initial test.

The Audley Farm Stable, W. R. Coe, "Boots" Durnell and the La Brea Stable are "pointing" some swift ones to shoot at the Long Star. Kay Spense has been grooming Nellie Custis, winner of the $10,000 Tanforan stake, Easter Stockings and Knights Call, for the argument.

Benny Creech will choose his starter from Black Majesty, Conclave, Vanity and Maya, all of which have been going great guns of late. Creech brought his handicap stars out early from Maryland. They enjoyed a short rest at Imperial Beach, after which they were sent into intensive training.

Indications point to a field of ten or more for the inaugural feature entries, which close Monday, the 22nd inst., with weights and declarations on the following day. These have been prepared especially for the opener: Ervast, Hatrick, Alex Pantages, Shasta Bullet, Hey Diddle Diddle, Up, Scimitar, Conclave, Caruso, Lamp Black, Nifty, Draymont, Schooner, Eskimo, Good and Hot, Morango, Challenger II, Black Majesty, Ironsides, Nellie Custis.

Royal Giants Capture Pair

The Philadelphia Royal Giants ran their winning streak to eleven straight games by defeating the Commercial Club, 3 to 2, in both games of yesterday's Wrigley Field double-header that wound up the first half of the Winter League race. The Giants came from behind to capture both clashes.

Foster whiffed sixteen Commercials to best Campbell in the first game and Cooper outpitched Hank Hulvey to cop the afterpiece.

The two games were the best seen so far in the Winter League, the Commercials forcing the Giants all the way.

It was announced that the first-half champion Royal Giants will play two games Christmas Day in Wrigley Field to open the second half. The Shell Oils will furnish the opposition.

The box score of the first game yesterday follows:

ing about all this and assumes that a student is everywhere a student and that there are no elements of differences between the contestants save skill.

"An outright, adequate and permanent athletic endowment by the alumni would at one stroke bring to an end the importance and influence of gate receipts and put baseball, golf, rowing and football on an equal basis."

He suggested an athletic league of nations might be needed to end the abuses he sees threatening the whole scheme of intercollegiate athletics.

Until something is done, he said, "Columbia must remain one of those colleges which pays the penalty, if penalty it be, of insisting on the primacy of intellectual ideals and intellectual accomplishments."

COEN NOW STARS ON KANSAS TEAM

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 21. (AP)—Wilbur F. Coen, Jr., the Kansas City youth who gained renown on the tennis courts as protege of Big Bill Tilden and member of the United States Davis Cup squad, has turned to new courts to conquer. As a substitute forward on the University of Kansas basketball squad he made a brief appearance in the exhibition victory over the Missouri Tigers here last night.

Junior Coen was runner-up to Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, in the national clay-courts tennis tournament here last summer.

SKIIER IN LONG LEAP

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 21. (AP)—Alf Engen of the Utah Ski Club made a practice leap of 210 feet on a ski course in the Wasatch Mountains today, smashing the State record by fifty-three feet.

Indians Honor Southlanders

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Southern California soccer players registered at Stanford received Circle "S" awards from the Stanford student executive committee yesterday. They were: Robert B. Burns, Hollywood; Swanton D. Dalton, Beverly Hills; Preston B. Plumb, South Pasadena. Carl J. Knecht of Los Angeles, received his numerals for playing on the freshman soccer team.

Bobby Smith Wins Fleet Boxing Title

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 21.—Bobby Smith, promising young heavyweight from the U.S.S. Tennessee, won the unlimited division boxing championship in the Pacific Coast battle fleet finals here last night when he was awarded a technical knockout over Jeff Hoyt, U.S.S. Lexington entry, at the opening of the fifth round.

Smith, using a straight left jab and hard rights effectively, was all over his opponent from the start and only Hoyt's ability to take punishment enabled him to stand up under the bombardment of blows. Smith opened a bad cut over Hoyt's right eye in the third round and kept jabbing at it until the optic closed entirely. Hoyt's seconds refused to let their charge continue when the gong sounded for the start of the fifth round.

Dreman, walterweight from the U.S.S. Mississippi, defeated Plott, defending champion from the U.S.S. Relief, in a six-round slugfest that stole the show. Both took everything the other could give, but Dreman was more effective from long range and won with fast rallies in the fifth and sixth sessions. In another sensational bout, Ray Butler, clever bantam from the U.S.S. Melville, easily won the decision over Reyes of the U.S.S. Mississippi. Although outboxed, Reyes made matters interesting with wild swings that several times connected and threatened to send Butler to the canvas.

Six out of the eight ring titles went to Unit A entries. The results follow:

Flyweights—Padilla (U.S.S. Nevada) defeated Echaves (U.S.S. Lexington,) technical knockout, fourth round.

Bantamweights—Butler (U.S.S. Melville) defeated Reyes (U.S.S. Mississippi,) decision.

Featherweights—Dardeen (U.S.S. California) defeated Snyder (U.S.S. Relief,) decision.

Lightweights—Kreiner (U.S.S. Lexington) defeated Bacon (U.S.S. New York,) decision.

Welterweights—Dreman (U.S.S. Mississippi) defeated Plott (U.S.S. Relief) decision.

Middleweights—Shaw (U.S.S. New York) defeated Barclay (U.S.S. Omaha,) knockout in third round.

Light heavyweights—Roberts (U.S.S. Tennessee) defeated Zalagar (U.S.S. Omaha,) decision.

Heavyweights—Smith (U.S.S. Tennessee) defeated Hoyt (U.S.S. Lexington,) technical knockout in fifth round.

reception for the Notre Dame boys today will be a degree or two more frigid than the one of some weeks past. This, you understand, is not a case of sour grapes on the part of the Los Angeles football public, which has other uses for grapes, but rather because Saturday's game lacks the jim-cracks of collegiate rivalry, however, important it may be from the standpoint of the personnel involved.

Tickets for the tilt are at B. H. Dyas and, if the present box-office run continues, they will soon be as scarce as Irishmen at Notre Dame.

Due to the rush and crush of business at the main ticket office, a new bureau for dispensing ducats to the All-Notre Dame versus West-South game at the Coliseum has been opened at the Elks' Temple, opposite Westlake Park, members of the committee sponsoring the game declared yesterday. The office is kept open until 9 o'clock every night.

Foothill Loop Cage Schedule Is Announced

It bids fair to be a busy basketball season for the six teams of the Foothill prep cage circuit this year, with the announcement this week that play will be held twice around.

The 1931 schedule was officially given out this week by Normal C. Hayhurst, secretary of the Foothill League.

Lightweight cagers are to play preliminary games to the varsity. Tuesday afternoons and Friday nights have been set as weekly battle dates.

Following is the 1931 Foothill Class A and Class B schedule as announced by league heads this week:

January 9—Muir Tech at Hoover, Burbank at South Pasadena, Whittier at Monrovia.

January 13—Monrovia at Hoover, South Pasadena at Muir Tech, Burbank at Whittier.

January 16—Hoover at Whittier, Monrovia at South Pasadena, Muir Tech at Burbank.

January 20—Burbank at Monrovia; South Pasadena at Hoover, Whittier at Muir Tech.

January 23—Hoover at Burbank, Monrovia at Muir Tech, Whittier at South Pasadena.

January 30—Hoover at Muir Tech, Monrovia at Whittier, South Pasadena at Burbank.

February 6—Hoover at Monrovia, Whittier at Burbank, Muir Tech at South Pasadena.

February 13—Whittier at Hoover, South Pasadena at Monrovia, Burbank at Muir Tech.

February 17—Hoover at South Pasadena, Muir Tech at Whittier, Monrovia at Burbank.

February 20—Burbank at Hoover, South Pasadena at Whittier, Muir Tech at Monrovia.

COLLEGE RELAY EVENTS LISTED

Southland Conference Teams Clash February 21

CLAREMONT, Dec. 21.—First announcement of events for the Southern California College Relays here February 21 was made this morning by Graduate Manager Glenn C. Turner, following final decision in a committee meeting here Thursday. The tournament, in which more than 200 athletes are expected to participate, will be the first big event on the 1931 track-and-field program.

Competition in the tourney will be divided into three sections: College, junior college and freshman. The college division will be open to the eight members of the Southern California Conference. Five varsity track events will be staged, including the four-man 880-yard relay; four-man novice mile relay; a distance medley, four-man shuttle high hurdles and a football feature, which is open to grid players only. The frosh events will be a sprint medley, and one other race yet to be decided.

The junior colleges will compete in six track events; four-man 440-yard relay; four-man 880-yard relay; four-man novice mile relay; four-man shuttle high hurdles, four-man two-mile relay and a 100-yard novice dash.

In addition, there will be two open events, four-man mile relay and a 100-yard dash.

Six field events have been scheduled, and all will be open. They are the pole vault, shot put, high jump, broad jump, discus throw and javelin.

No team trophies will be awarded, but individual medals for the first three places in each event will be given.

The tournament is underwritten by the eight members of the Southern California Conference, and thirteen junior colleges in the Southland. It is hoped that the event may become an annual affair. It is the first meet of this kind to be attempted in California, Turner said, and popular support indicates its success.

"We are in no way attempting to buck the A.A.U. southwest relays, which will be held at Claremont the following week," Turner added. "But we hope the Southern California college relays will continue annually."

The members of the Southern California Conference are: Pomona, Occidental, Whittier, Redlands, Caltech, San Diego, La Verne and Santa Barbara, recently given membership. Junior colleges supporting the tourney are, in the western division: Pasadena, Glendale Compton, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Fullerton and Santa Ana; in the eastern division, Riverside, Chaffey, Citrus, Pomona, Santa Monica and San Bernardino.

The committee on arrangements is headed by Coach Bob Strehle, varsity mentor at Pomona College. Southern California Conference members are besides Strehle, Coaches Joe Pipal of Occidental, and Verne Landreth of Whittier. Junior College members are Oak Smith of Long Beach, Hershel Smith of Compton and Dean Glen Worthy of Glendale.

Final preliminary arrangements for the first tournament have been made. The committee has been working on plans for the relays for nearly a year, hoping to stage an important meet to open the Southland track-and-field season.

Entries will be restricted to one relay team in each event from each institution, and no more than two men from each school in the open events.

Graduate Manager Turner will be in charge of the first meet, which will be run off by the Pomona College student managerial system, under Robert Elliott, senior manager, aided by recognized officials. One reason for the selection of the Claremont oval, it was stated, is the efficiency of the Pomona managers, who handled both the freshman and varsity all-conference meets last year.

If the tournament becomes permanent, a different institution will be host each year. The Pomona track is one of the best in Southern California, and under good weather conditions several outstanding marks are expected to be made in the initial competition.

Officials for the event will be announced later.

ALL-STAR MAT BILL ARRANGED

won from the latter when Gus missed a flying tackle in their first bout, and was injured, forfeiting the match, but he has never actually beaten the ex-king. He has never wrestled George.

Lewis is still one of the best grapplers in the business despite his long career on the mat. He is the smartest wrestler in the business, and in recent years has relied on his experience, more than strength, to win his matches. He ought to beat Stocca, a comparative unknown, but the latter has a reputation for being a strong, rough grappler, and one who will give Lewis a hard engagement.

The "Strangler" probably will attempt to let Stocca wear himself out, but if the Italian giant can batter him down by rough stuff, it will be no great surprise to close followers of the mat game. Lewis has a $5000 forfeit posted with the State Athletic Commission, which accompanied his challenge to the winner of the Sonnenberg-George bout, but he will have to prove his right to a championship match.

Myron Cox, another young Venice life guard, who became interested in the grappling game through workouts with Lutze, makes his debut in the opener against Don De Laun.

Daro is staging his bimonthly card tonight, as Wednesday, the regular time, is Christmas Eve.

FALCONS TURNED BACK

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Running up their highest score of the season in a wide-open National Hockey League game, the New York Americans defeated the Detroit Falcons tonight, 6 to 4.

Los Angeles Prep Cagers Invade North

The Los Angeles Preps, an all-star basketball squad composed mostly of players who performed on last year's championship Lincoln High five, returned yesterday from a successful invasion of the San Joaquin Valley and San Francisco section seeking more worlds to conquer.

On their trip the Preps defeated Madera High, 41-13; Madera American Legion, 45-8; Tracy, 49-13; Dinuba Sun-Maids, 51-30, and Burlingame, 36-9. The outstanding victory was over the Sun-Maids, valley champions who had won their last night games. The Preps also offered to meet the best high-school team in San Francisco but were unable to get a game.

Manager Norman Lasbury is seeking more games for his all-star squad and can be reached at 434 Clifton street, Los Angeles.

PACHO COLLECTS ELEVENTH KNOCKOUT

Bobby Pacho gave away seven pounds and knocked out Hymie Rubio in the second round of the scheduled six-round wind-up at the Main Street Athletic Club Saturday night. The bout wound up a great six months for the young Mexican, it being his eleventh knockout in twelve starts. The Olympic Auditorium wants him for a bout shortly after the first of the year.

After an absence of more than a year from the downtown club Joe Bitto returned to hand Tony Cadena a pasting. He knocked the Mexican kicking in the first round. Ad Cadena held Homer Gaines, colored lightweight, to a draw in six rounds. Louis Ramos scored a technical knockout over Bartola Magino in the fourth round of a scheduled six-rounder and Manuel Davila took the decision over Sailor Nebres in the four-round curtain raiser. The Main-street club will be the only local boxing arena to remain open during the holidays. A double main event is scheduled for Saturday night.

MANERO WINS $4000 OPEN

Shoots Par-Smashing 69 in Final Round to 'Annex First Place; Mortie Dutra Finishes Second

CHEER FOR HAGEN

Horton Smith, last year's Pasadena open winner, and Walter Hagen completed the first ten to finish in the heavy money with scores of 292.

Walter can be well satisfied with his showing at Pasadena. Those who saw him in action can testify that "The Haig" is far from washed up. He finished only five shots back of Manero and up to the greens played as well as anyone in the tournament. By the time the Los Angeles $10,000 open rolls around, we look for Walter to be playing championship golf. He is definitely on the "come back" trail.

Manero's finish under pressure was brilliant. A stroke out of the lead at the thirty-six-hole mark, Tony dropped another stroke when he carded a third round of 74. At this point Mangrum, Espinosa and Mortie Dutra were tied for the lead with scores of 216. Wiffy Cox of Brooklyn, who dropped back into the $50 class with a final round of 77, was in second place at 217, while Manero and Hagen had 218.

Tony had the tournament in the well-known bag at the sixty-three-hole mark, however, when he knocked in three birdies to be around the first nine in 34, two under par. He came back in even figures for a 69, and no one in the tournament could catch him. Tony collected $950 more than he did a year ago when his winnings amounted to $50.

Espinosa started out raggedly in the afternoon, being three over par at the sixth hole. He rammed down a beautiful twenty-foot putt on the seventh for a birdie and made a remarkable recovery to get a 3 at eight. Al made a try for another 3 at the ninth, but hit the ball too briskly and missed coming back to take a 5 that hurt.

DAWSON VICTOR

Amateur prizes went to Johnny Dawson of Chicago, who took low gross with a total of 74-72-77-76—299. Low net went to Russell (Buddie) Thompson of Oakmont with 74-78-75-73—300-4—296.

Those who finished just out of the big money, but won $50 each were Ralph Guldahl of Dallas, Tex., Craig Wood of Bloomfield, N. J., Olin Dutra of Brentwood, Joe Kirkwood of New York and W. H. Cox of Brooklyn, 294; Harry Cooper of Chicago, 295; Chet Baer of Bakersfield, 296, and Fred Morrison of Glendale, George Von Elm of Rancho, and Ernest Martin of Los Angeles, 297.

It might be mentioned that Martin, leader at the halfway point, received a bad break on the thirteenth hole of the morning round when his tee shot hit a boy. The youngster was taken away in an ambulance and Ernie's game was naturally affected. According to reports, however, the boy was not badly hurt.

SUCCESSFUL TOURNEY

Pasadena officials were bubbling over with enthusiasm over the outstanding success of the tournament. A fine gallery of approximately 3000 watched the play yesterday, and it was reported last night that the gate came close to paying all expenses as well as the $4000 purse.

The Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce deserves a great deal of credit for the fine manner in which the tournament was conducted. Max Turner officiated in great style as chairman of the tournament committee. He had lots of help from President Lathrop Leishman and other members of the young men's organization.

A. K. Bourne and John H. Eagle, who sponsored the tournament and guaranteed the prize money, also come in for a cheer, as does Jack Malley, Annandale professional, and one of the leaders in pioneering the tournament.

A. H. Painter officiated at the first tee in his customary efficient manner.

MR. AND MRS. COOKINGHAM WIN AT LOS ANGELES

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Cookingham won the mixed foursomes played yesterday at the Los Angeles Country Club with 185-27—158. Second place went to Mrs. V. B. Prophet and Dr. P. E. Holubeck, 184-22—162. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Quinn and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Davidson tied for third prize, 187-24—163.

in the lead, but thinking the race was only one lap he coasted around the turn and Triplett went by him to win the event. Stubblefield came up so fast that he finished within two car lengths of the Belvedere Bad Boy. The time was 1m. 34s.

Triplett took the lead on the first lap of the main event and lost it to Stubblefield on the fourth turn when he broke a drive shaft. The race was held up for several laps at this point when Lou Moore in the Gilmore Lion spun around in the middle of the track while four cars swerved by him. His mount stalled in the middle of the track and he climbed out of the seat and stood in front of it for two laps with cars speeding by on each side. Attendants finally hauled it off the track without accident.

On the sixteenth lap Stubblefield's jinx caught up with him and left him with a punctured tire. Stubby drove into the pits and came out later only to go into a bad spin and then finally quit on the seventy-ninth lap when a wheel came off and sailed into the fence.

CANTLON HANGS TO LEAD

Cantlon picked up the lead when Stubblefield dropped out on the sixteenth lap and lost it to Brunmier on the twenty-third turn. Brunmier reigned until the fifty-fifth lap where Cantlon went by and was never headed. Brunmier was forced out of the race on the seventy-fifth time around after having difficulty with his oil line. After a brief stop he came back to finally wind up in fourth place.

Chester Gardner, who turned out with a high-powered mount, rammed the north railing on the forty-fifth lap and was thrown head first out of his car. The race was again held up while the wreckage was cleared. Gardner suffered only slight injuries.

In the twenty-lap consolation race, Kelly Petillo lost a wheel, causing his mount to plunge into the fence. Petillo was unhurt and this race was also stopped while the wreckage was removed. Billy Winn won the event for the second consecutive time. Swede Smith nosed out Lester Spangler for second place on the last lap.

Stubblefield set a new track record for one lap in the qualifying trials when he traveled the distance in 28.17s., breaking Walt May's mark of 28.30s., which has stood for several months.

third, and Jack Knemeyer, Los Angeles city boys' titlist, fourth.

The draws for only the junior events were made yesterday by tournament officials. The draws for the four senior classes—men's singles and doubles, mixed doubles, and women's singles—will most likely be made Wednesday night. Play in the senior divisions will start Christmas Day, instead of Friday, as previously announced. This was necessitated by the opening of the men's singles to sixty-four players, and the men's doubles to thirty-two.

According to word received from the Palomar Club last night Keith Gledhill, former national junior boys' singles and doubles champion and recent conqueror of Johnny Van Ryn and Sidney Wood, will not be able to come south for the meet as he is sick in the hospital. Ray Casey, one of the San Francisco stars, will come down to play doubles with Ellsworth Vines, Gledhill's doubles partner.

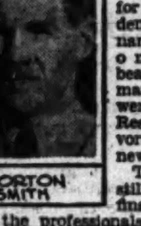
NEW GOLF BALL WINS SKIRMISH

Pros Await Windy Day to Make Final Decision on Bigger Oval

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

The new golf ball, the only one after January 1, next, has won its first skirmish with the men who earn their living playing it. The revised larger and lighter ball was ruled standard equipment for the Pasadena open tournament and only pellets bearing the mark of 1931 were permitted. Results were favorable to the new model.



HORTON SMITH

The jury is still out and the final verdict from the professionals will not be returned until a tournament is played when the wind is blowing. The Pasadena tourney was played in calm weather.

The scoring showed no change as a result of a change in balls. There were about the normal number of birdies, just as few eagles, and the run of pars as in days of yore when the ball was smaller and heavier.

The usual division of opinion developed among the players. Some thought they could not putt as well as before and claims were made that the new ball was "rimming the cup" too much. Golfers seldom agree on any part of the game. However, the consensus was in favor of the oversize ball.

NO DIFFERENCE TO HAGEN

"I don't see that the new ball is any harder to play than the old one," said Walter Hagen, the old master. "Any way, it's here and it doesn't make any difference what we think about it."

Tommy Armour, Professional Golf Association champion, spoke up in defense of the latest edition.

"I like it," he said. "My shots through the fairway are better, especially the irons. Yes, it's a pleasure to play it."

No one was surprised to hear that Mortie Dutra, Long Beach (Cal.) pro, liked it. He had a round in 69.

"Yes, it's O.K. with me," he said.

Tony Manero, who has played lots of golf in many places, was not prepared to condemn the new ball, but he admitted a mental complex.

"I know it won't go as far as the old one and I have been trying to hit it harder than I should," was his reaction.

Harry Cooper was short with his putts and wondered if it was the fault of the ball or his putter, but Johnny Dawson, who went to the semifinals in the British amateur, said he liked to play it.

Charley Seaver, young Los Angeles amateur, who was a semifinalist in the last national amateur, was not playing well, but did not blame the ball.

"I don't see that the ball makes any difference," he said. "It's my game that's wrong."

EINSTEIN AWAITED

Horton Smith's diagnosis awaits confirmation by Prof. Einstein.

"The new ball is harder to putt," said the tall pine transplanted from Missouri to New York.

"The weight is not centralized as it was in the old one and this ball is more apt to rim the cup."

Fellow-pros suggested that this involved relativity and it was fortunate perhaps that Einstein was on his way to California.

Golf fans who can hit any golf ball, new or old, into a trap or the rough, said they saw little difference in the distance or direction of the ball leaving the players' clubs.

Spectators who have played the Brookside course, scene of the tournament, many times suggested that the charge of being a bad putting ball was perhaps unjustified. They said the cups were in tricky places on the greens.

Players who participate in tournament golf only by following the stars watched the performance of the new ball with interest. Many of these never will break 100 with any size or weight ball, but they have hopes. All agreed with Hagen.

"Anyway, it's here."

SOCCER ALL-STARS TO PLAY CHRISTMAS

Four teams of selected soccer players will do battle in two games scheduled for Loyola Field on Christmas Day, with one tilt starting at 1 p.m. and the other at 3. All of the forty-four players chosen are international players who are members of the teams in the City Soccer League. The purpose of the pair of games is to give the league officials an opportunity to select a squad of the best players in the league to represent the local loop in a game at San Francisco after the first of the year. A similar group of stars will be selected to represent San Francisco, which will play a return engagement here some time later.

MELODY FILLS CHRISTMAS AIR

Carols in Local Broadcasts Presage Holiday

Yuletide Programs Provided by Stations Here

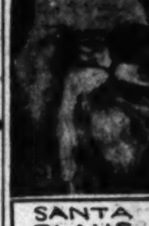
High Lights of Radio Bills Briefly Noticed

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Clint Brush, L. C. Fox and Glenn Hood, instrumentalists.

World-wide news, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

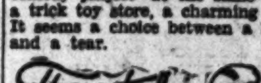
The thundering of Santa Claus's reindeer as they sweep down from the North is fast embracing the waves of radio—both the chain and local broadcast stations are beginning to flood the air with exquisite Christmas music.



SANTA CLAUS

Willie will certainly smack his brand-new baseball an awful crack and with the shattering of a neighbor's window pane the Blue Monday Jamboree, KHJ at 8 tonight, romps in with two hours of mirth. Santa Claus will shut his eyes and scamper home when he sees what these imps of the air do to him and his. Well, they'll cross his reins, no doubt.

The bitter-sweet story of a crippled child who wins the affection of a crusty old bachelor, of exceptionally powerful emotional appeal, KECA at 7:30 p.m., a National Broadcasting feature, while KFWB at 8 p.m., weaves into a web of Christmas carols, age-old Charles Dickens's immortal story, "Christmas Carol." It's too bad KNX has "The Vanishing Act"—a Christmas comedy playlet—at the same hour, a trick toy store, a charming miss. It seems a choice between a laugh and a tear.



They tell us that—

One of the sweetest souls to have lived in this metropolis, one who had become the fairy godmother to children in Los Angeles hospitals and sanatoriums and whom they lost not long ago, is to have a memorial service. KNX at 10 this morning. The kiddies called her "Aunt Cookie — Faye Laundreth Hamilton.

"The Beautiful Blue Danube," a duet with Lewis James, and two songs with the Brigadiers' Quartet—Nannette Guilford, Metropolitan soprano, an N.B.C. Her first appearance on radio since 1926. KFI at 6:30 p.m. A group of old-time carols.

For those interested in political and kindred subjects by experts, KECA at 4:15, 5 and 5:15 this afternoon. Visit Washington; Merle Thorpe, James McDonald.

A musical novelty, songs composed by McHugh and Fields, "The Night Before Christmas," recited by Don Clark; the Columbia "Mardi Gras," KHJ at 6 p.m. Opens with "March of the Toys," 'Round Towners' Quartet; Rich's Orchestra, Come on, let's "go Christmas."

Rochester Civic Orchestra, an N.B.C. high light, KFI at 7. Special version of "Silent Night." An excellent repertoire; "Adeste Fideles," other Christmas selections, Bizet's "Carillon" from "L'Arlesienne Suite," Rimsky-Korsakow's "Christmas Eve" suite—you will hear the "Polonaise" from this beautiful work. You can't help but get the Christmas spirit.

We hope Mr. KNX doesn't fall off the ladder while trimming his Christmas tree—he will do this on the air at 2:30 today. For six years Radioland has watched this act of courage, for Mrs. KNX will superintend it, no doubt.

Just before locking the back doors and chasing the cat out, KFI at 10:30 tonight, Six Christmas songs by Peter Cornelius. The "Virgin's Slumber Song," Emmy Rohmeder, soloist. Here's another for drowsy eyes: KTM at 8:30, a lullaby program, thirty minutes, Dorothy Dee at the organ. "Chinese Lullaby," "Russian Lullaby" are just two of a sleepy repertoire.

Guy Lombardo will bring his orchestra from WABC to you, KHJ at 7 tonight, with seven song hits including a new one, and the Lady of Smoke—no, it's "Lady in the Smoke"—sings a contralto solo to be selected. That's not the title—it means it's a secret. A Columbia high light.

"Everybody likes it, really—I called KECA and asked "Tell me, just as if you were telling your mother, what do you think of KECA's 'Between the Yawns' program, 9:15 a.m." They said it's really excellent—the fans like it.

And Noreen Gammill has jumped from one wave to another. Recently with KFI, we find her now at KTM at 8 tonight. Character sketches, something different.

GRIDIRON RULE FACES CHANGE

are certainly sold on doing something about the matter," he added.

"Suppose there was no extra point and the score stands tied at 6-all. You will see plenty of football. Both teams will open up with everything in their bag trying to score. And the public likes offensive football. You surely wouldn't have one team in a shell for the afternoon."

Coach Alexander said he expected some 300 coaches from throughout the country to attend the New York meeting. Chick Meehan of New York University, and Harry Stuhldreher of Villanova, are in charge of the plans. Alexander said Knute Rockne would be unable to attend.

weight that catches and holds any crowd. He is at least a year away, or maybe longer, but he is young and strong and the most willing of the lot to let a left or a right fly for chin or body. It may be recalled that Jack Dempsey started no wild uproar on his first visit to New York when he tackled Lester Johnson.

Baer more than once came close to stopping a good heavyweight and a far more experienced fighter. He was not ready for a boxer of Schaaf's skill and experience, but he came near to crashing through on a fighting heart and the old wallop. And a little better timing—such as work and training and experience bring—will add a lot to a wallop that is now a trifle crude.

West and South

The Far West is looking with more apprehension to a southern invasion of football than it usually shows for an eastern foe. Alabama and Georgia Tech have tackled the West Coast leaders three times so far without a defeat. The record stands at two southern victories and a tie against Washington, Stanford and California. One answer is that southern teams have much better December weather to work in. A northern team or an eastern team trying to get ready in December's snow and slush and whipping north winds has little chance to get in shape or keep in shape after the season closes.

Alabama's big, powerful team is sure to be in condition. These games to southern entries are no joy rides. They are all football. It is seldom that two teams carrying so much power ever meet. Washington State has the power to match Alabama's displacement, for in Hein, Schwartz, Edwards and others the Northwest has the needed poundage to prevent any pulverization, which so many other teams, facing Alabama, suffered last fall.

Up to the Colleges

Bystanders attempting to patch up differences between the Army and Navy or other institutions, which have decided differences, face a tough racket. This is something the rival camps have to settle for themselves upon a basis that is strictly even for both sides, or as close to an even thing as one can get in starting from scratch. It would not make so much difference if football games carried less importance. But as the late Bill Hanna, who was covering football back in the '80s remarked, "Football is the most overemotionalized sport I know about." If different universities face entirely different conditions it is impossible to start them together on even terms from scratch. But there are enough rivals facing the same conditions to make up all the needed schedules.

CHEVAL DE TROIE WINS

MARSEILLES (France) Dec. 21. (AP)—Cheval De Troit today won the Parc Bolley Stakes, a steeplechase of two miles and a quarter, by two lengths from Sea Rover, with Hannibal third in a field of ten starters. The race was worth $2250 to the winner.

What you going to give her Jim?
5 facials, 6 manicures, 3 finger waves and 2 shampoos
— in short, a Weaver Jackson gift certificate

A Christmas Hint to MEN:

A WOMAN never feels quite so queenly as when she is relaxed in a Weaver-Jackson beauty shop, getting swell attention.

Your WIFE or GIRL or SECRETARY (or all three) will just about jump up and down with joy if you give her a Weaver-Jackson certificate calling for several dollars' worth (any amount) of luxurious beauty service. (She can select her own services).

Every time she uses it, she'll shut her eyes and emote: "Gee, but he's a grand fellow!"

Just walk in bravely to a Weaver-Jackson shop (no danger) and ask for a certificate for any sum, or (lacking courage) phone or have your secretary phone Trinity 3561 and they'll mail it at once.

(Permanent waves $8. Other services from 50 cents up.)

THOROUGH TEST OF AREA PENDS

Prairie Oil Prepared to Go 8000 Feet in Wildcat

Project Reported Drilling Below 7930 Level

The Prairie Oil and Gas Company is equipped to go to at least 8000 feet in Sexton No. 1 wildcat, located on the Sexton ranch, east of the Ventura-avenue oil field and will, it is expected, have to go that deep to penetrate the Pliocene formation.

Sexton No. 1 yesterday was making progress with the drill below 7930 feet in sand and shale, without oil showings. From 6000 feet to 6800 feet this deep test has encountered frequent showings of oil along with gas, although no data is available as to whether it correlates with projects that found production in the Ventura-avenue field.

The producer nearest to Prairie Oil's Sexton No. 1 is the Associated Oil Company's Lloyd No. 9-A, which is yielding 3000 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 7400 feet. This well is understood to be higher on the structure and the oil is flowing from the lower Pliocene formation, or Fernando shale.

With the exception of several minor fishing jobs which were overcome by redrilling, Prairie Oil's Sexton No. 1 has met with little mechanical delay in a test which may eventually extend the producing area of the Ventura-avenue field. This project was originally started by the Federal Oil Company about two years ago and went to 4800 feet, where it was suspended. The Sexton ranch lease later was acquired by Prairie Oil.

Another venture which is expected to spud in today is Prairie Oil's El Capitan No. 1, located on a portion of the El Capitan ranch, adjoining the General Petroleum Corporation's Erburu lease, nine miles west of the Elwood oil field. El Capitan No. 1 has boilers installed and is equipped to make a thorough deep test of a district that so far has developed considerable shallow production at a depth of about 1500 feet. General's seven wells on the Erburu lease are good for about 150 barrels of 20-deg. gravity oil each and to aid the State-wide curtailment program have been shut in. General's Erburu No. 8 developed into a deep test and is drilling below 3800 feet. It is one mile west of Prairie Oil's El Capitan No. 1.

LOST HILLS TO GET NEW DEEP TEST

General Petroleum to Try Luck in Vicinity of Universal Project

LOST HILLS, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The General Petroleum Corporation plans to seek deeper oil-bearing sands which are believed to exist in the Lost Hills and now being sought by Universal Consolidated Oil Company and George F. Getty, Inc.

General's well has been staked approximately 250 feet south and 250 feet east from the northwest corner of Sec. 13, 26-20. It will be an offset to Getty's Lincoln Drilling Company No. 1-A on Sec. 12, 26-20, which is under rigging and nearing drilling stage, following striking of a salt water flow at its present total depth of 2068 feet.

Universal is believed to have succeeded in its search for deeper production at Lost Hills, inasmuch as the Temblor formation has been cored. With the oil-bearing formation at bottom resembling in practically every detail that at Kettleman and Belridge, it seems assured that Universal has the making of a well in its No. 49, although it must be recemented this week.

Continuation of Hobbs Proration Program Pends

ARTESIA (N. M.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Continuation of the Hobbs proration program will come up for a hearing January 5, before James P. Hinkle, land commissioner-elect, who will take office in Santa Fe January 1. The present oil proration program will expire January 10, after six months of operation in the Hobbs pool.

The agreement which provides a daily flow of 35,000 barrels will likely continue to be the same. There would be little inducement to increase the daily pipe-line runs under the present market conditions, according to opinions expressed by operating companies.

Daily pipe-line nominations have averaged approximately 30,000 barrels because there is little or no market for Hobbs oil.

Round Mountain Test Reported in Oil Showings

ROUND MOUNTAIN, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The Range Oil Company, drilling on Sec. 36, 28-28, in this field, is said to have encountered encouraging showings of oil and gas at a depth beyond 3000 feet.

Range has 255 acres under lease in the area, 215 of its being the Harbert property and forty being the Christensen ranch. The present well is on the latter.

LEA FIELD WILDCATS INTEREST

Main Attention Centers on Various Projects in New Mexico County

ARTESIA (N. M.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Wildcatting in Lea county commanded the major portion of attention last week, although two or three wells in the southeastern area developed considerable interest.

In Southern Eddy county the Getty Oil Company has abandoned efforts to make a deep test of its Dooley No. 6 on Sec. 20, 24-29, and has completed it for a shallow well at 1353 feet.

Several production tests were made in the new well and during a recent test it made 448 barrels of fluid in eight hours, 65 per cent of which was basic sediment and water.

The shallow producer was given a rating of 800 barrels daily or better. The Getty Oil Company is now furnishing all of the crude oil to the State Highway Department from this area.

The Ohio Oil Company has completed its McDonald No. 1 on Sec. 15, 22-36, in the Eunice area as a gasser, after having developed 20,000,000 feet of gas at 3904 feet. The National Securities Oil Corporation Linan No. 1 on Sec. 33, 18-37, is being closely watched since it developed a nice flow of gas at 3860 feet.

OPERATIONS IN KERN OIL FIELD TOLD

Start on Trio of New Projects During Week Chief in Interest

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Three new oil wells in three Kern county fields were started during the past week. They are Standard Oil Company's McPhail No. 2, Sec. 26, 28-27, Kern River and Petroleum Corporation's Sill No. 9, Sec. 26, 28-28, Kern River and George S. Wright's Glide No. 1, Sec. 3, 28-28, Round Mountain.

Tests for water shut-off included H. A. Bardeen's Ramsey No. 1, Sec. 10, 10-23, Pattiway district and Union Oil Company's Belridge No. 17, Sec. 26, 27-20, Belridge.

Two deepening jobs are being carried on in the Sunset field by the Wellington Oil Company. They are wells No. 2 and 3 on Sec. 8, 11-23, on Maricopa Flats.

Abandonments reported for the week in Kern included Belridge Oil Company's No. 9, Sec. 35, 27-20, Belridge and H. A. Bardeen's Klipstein No. 1, Sec. 18, 10-23, Pattiway district.

Third Test for Oil Planned on Farm at Delano

DELANO, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company is preparing to begin again drilling on the Quinn ranch southeast of here. According to terms of the lease, a well must be spudded in before the end of this year if the company is to hold its drilling rights.

This will be the third attempt Chanslor-Canfield Midway has made to complete a well in this area. The last test was abandoned when granite was struck in a wildcat well on Sec. 23.

Maricopa Test Deepest in Area

MARICOPA, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) The Birch Oil Company has succeeded in wresting the deep drilling record from Union Oil Company on Maricopa Flat. Birch's Maricopa No. 2 well on Sec. 7, 11-23, is beyond the 7856-foot mark where Union ceased drilling in its Houchin No. 4 well on Sec. 10, 11-24.

Brown shale formation is at bottom of the Birch well. Indications are that it will be drilled to a new record depth for Kern county, unless production is obtained or mechanical difficulties forbid further drilling.

OIL INDUSTRY PLANS JINKS

While no official announcement of the theme has been made, it is expected by many oil men that oil curtailment, which has been the paramount issue before the industry this year will play an important part in the farce comedy to be presented Tuesday noon at the Biltmore Hotel, when California oil men hold their Christmas Jinks.

W.H.GEISS.

W. H. Geis, president of the Arrowhead Oil Company and chairman of the Wildcats Committee which will stage the entertainment, announced that the luncheon will take place at noon, followed by a delightful program of vaudeville specialties and musical features. The Wildcats themselves will stage the playlet.

OLD MINE VALUES HOLD UP

Kennedy Property at Jackson Continues to Yield Fine Returns After Long Operation

JACKSON, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—With surprising regularity, production continues from the bottom levels of the Kennedy mine, in this district—the deepest gold mine in the United States. With the exception of shutdowns caused by fire and other unavoidable circumstances, it has been yielding ore and handsomely rewarding its comparatively few owners for forty-five years. According to information obtained from a reliable source, it is giving no sign of exhaustion, notwithstanding the fact that current production is coming largely from its deepest level, which is 4800 feet vertically below the collar of its huge shaft.

The company's sixty-stamp mill is treating 7000 tons of ore monthly, or an average of about 233 tons daily, it is officially learned. Although President E. C. Hutchinson declines at all times to make public the value of the ore reduced, current output is known to be yielding a good profit. In reply to questions he merely smiles and says the values have persisted "from the grass roots to the present bottom level, 4800 feet vertically."

VALUES PERSIST

Despite the sphinx-like policy of the management, the Kennedy and its equally famous, and almost as deep, neighbor, on the north, the Argonaut, have demonstrated beyond doubt the persistence of Mother Lode ore bodies to phenomenal depths, which condition, coupled with the world-wide cry for greater production of gold, is largely responsible for the current and steadily increasing revival of mining operations on California's vein system for many miles north and south of the two great producers named.

Mine receipts, returns from bullion and concentrates sold of the Central Eureka Mining Company, operating at Sutter Creek, a short distance north of the Kennedy and Argonaut Mines, for the ten months ended October 31, last, officially made public recently, totaled $326,000. This is at the annual rate of $391,200, and compares with $357,570 for the fiscal year ended April 1, last. With a force of 140 miners and millmen, the company's forty-stamp plant is reducing an average of 4000 tons of ore monthly, it is officially stated.

OLD EUREKA ACTIVE

Current production is being obtained from the 2000 and 2100-foot levels of the Old Eureka property, frequently referred to as the Hetty Green mine, the late female financial wizard having owned it at one time. It was purchased five years ago by the Central Eureka at a net cost of $150,000 from the Old Eureka Mining Company, which previously had paid Mrs. Green $500,000 for it. State records show that, in the early days of California mining, the Old Eureka produced ore valued in excess of $12,000,000 above the 1700-foot level, which, in elevation, corresponds with the 1900-foot level of the Central Eureka, adjoining on the south.

Following acquisition, the Central Eureka resumed development of the Old Eureka at depth and, in the last two and a half years, has expended $200,000 in addition to the purchase price in equipping and preparing the property for renewed production, which is now getting under way. Its more expeditious and economical operation will be accomplished, it is said, by the management, upon the completion of the 1550-foot north drift being extended by contract on the 2540-foot level of the Central Eureka shaft to connect with the 2300-foot point in the Old Eureka shaft. This drift, proceeding between two parallel veins about seventy feet apart, has already been advanced more than 300 feet. It is expected to be completed about August, next.

New Belridge Well to Start

BELRIDGE, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) Belridge Oil Company is preparing to drill its No. 35-8, on Sec. 35, 27-20, 500 feet south and 500 feet east of the section's northwest corner. It will offset the Associated Oil Company's Reward No. 4 well.

The Richfield Oil Company's Belridge No. 1 well on Sec. 22, 27-20, tested wet on the nine-inch casing cement job at 5580 feet. The well is coring ahead and is down nearly 5900 feet in hard shale and oil sand.

Cavern Shaft Contract Let

PHOENIX, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Charles H. Dunning of Phoenix, on a bid of nearly $60,000, has secured a contract for sinking an elevator shaft in the Carlsbad Caverns at Carlsbad, N. M.

The Pacific Elevator and Equipment Company was low bidder, for $18,429, for installation of the elevator and equipment. Construction will await the availability of funds to the credit of the National Park Service in Washington.

Miller Takes Lease on Mine

Fred K. Miller, former engineer for the California Corporation Commission, has secured a ten-year lease on 200 acres of mineral ground at Grass Valley from the Empire-Star Company.

The area embraces a part of the old North Star mine and sections of virgin country west and south of the townsite. Vigorous developments are scheduled to start early in 1931.

SHELL DRILLS AHEAD IN SEMITROPIC HOLE

SEMITROPIC, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Drilling ahead beyond 8450 feet continues in the Williams No. 1 project on Sec. 17, 27-23, at Semitropic, where the Shell Oil Company is drilling a test hole. Brown shale continues to be the predominating formation at bottom.

TARIFF BAR ON FOREIGN COPPER HIT

South African Visitor at Oatman Takes Issue With Gordon Campbell

BISBEE (Ariz.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—There is some disagreement here concerning the advisability of levying an import tax upon copper produced in foreign countries. The idea is favored by Gordon Campbell, president of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, who has stated his belief that the present low metal price is due to increased production from African and Canadian mines as well as to the general business depression. He expresses his opinion that the low period of depression probably has been reached, but that the uphill climb will be slow.

There is disagreement by a visitor from South Africa—Thorold Field who sees no menace to the American producer in the development of the copper industry in Rhodesia. He asserts that the copper industry simply is suffering with every other line of business from world-wide depression, and predicts increasing consumption until a ready market is afforded for the product of all American mines.

Calumet and Arizona is expected to reduce its production to 15 per cent below its present schedule of 7,500,000 pounds per month

F. Gerald Sherman, for twenty-five years connected with the Phelps Dodge Corporation here and in Douglas, has resigned the post of consulting engineer of the mining department of the corporation.

In deference to the camp's dominant industry, copper and brass will have a large part in the construction of the $300,000 Cochise County Courthouse to be built in this city. All heating pipes will be of brass, while bronze will be used in window trimmings.

HOBBS AREA POTENTIAL SHARPLY UP

Four New Completions Boost Total Figures by 66,273 Barrels

ARTESIA (N. M.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Four new wells completed in the Hobbs pool during the first fifteen days of December added 66,273 barrels daily to the field's potential output, which was given as 1,076,329 barrels from 134 wells and 120 units.

On the previous report, issued shortly after the 1st inst., the field's potential was placed at 1,010,056 from 130 wells and 116 units. The average daily pipe-line run during the first half of the present month was 31,207 barrels, as compared with 31,031 barrels daily for the last period in November.

The Sun Oil Company drilled in the field's biggest new producer during the fifteen-day period by completing its McKinley No. 4 on Sec. 5, 19-38 at 4200 feet. Flowing through open casing, the well was given a potential rating of 21,708 barrels daily.

California Oil Production Up for November

The total production of crude oil in California during November amounted to 18,109,459 barrels, an average of 603,648 barrels per day. This is an increase of 15,130 barrels per day over October production.

Total stocks of crude and all products in Pacific Coast territory increased during the month 810,285 barrels. The total stocks at the end of the month were 180,310,770 barrels. The total stocks at the barrels. The total stock decrease for 1930 up to November 30, was 4,452,963 barrels.

Seventy-six wells were completed during the month with an initial daily production of 53,049 barrels, compared with eighty-two wells completed during October with an initial production of 60,139 barrels.

ANGELENOS GET LEASE ON MINE

Stafford Gold Property in El Dorado Acquired

Rough Diamond Placer Near Vallecita Reopening

You Bet-Red Dog Operators to Have Steam Shovel

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The Swift Gold Dome Lode Mining Company, Ltd., of Los Angeles has taken a long lease on the Stafford gold property near Georgetown, in El Dorado county, and has started developments. Equipment has been ordered, and arrangements made to drive a 700-foot tunnel to the ledge. The plant will be electrically operated. Good ore is reported as being exposed. The property is on the Mother Lode.

Reopening of the Rough Diamond gold placers near Vallecita in Calaveras county is being carried forward by the Ingstrom interests of Los Angeles. An electric hoist and compressor have been installed and the 320-foot shaft is being sunk 110 feet to bedrock. At this depth a deposit of gold-bearing gravel is anticipated. About $30,000 is being spent on the project.

Charles Thompson and associates of Los Angeles are installing steam-shovel units at the historic gold deposits in the You Bet-Red Dog field, east of Grass Valley. The placers rank among the most noted in California and were worked for more than forty years by the hydraulic method. When white miners ceased work hundreds of Chinese sluiced the diggings and are said to have garnered several fortunes. The new equipment is designed to handle a large yardage of gravel at low cost.

The improved reduction plant at the Cloverdale quicksilver mine near Cloverdale will be placed in operation about January 1. Addition of another 100-ton furnace to the plant is scheduled next spring. Late work in the Beaumeister and Cloverdale properties is credited with placing a large tonnage of profitable ore in sight, with most of the new work done in virgin country. The properties are controlled by the Nevada Quicksilver Company, which is working two cinnabar producers near Lovelock, Nev.

The Princess Mining Company has arranged to install a pumping plant to keep its gravel property near Magalia free from water. The pumps will be stationed at the surface and the water pumped through a 500-foot hole sunk to bedrock.

TEXAS LAKE AREA TAKEN FOR POTASH

Recovery of Product by Evaporation From Water Plan of Purchaser

TAHOKA (Tex.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Sale of Double Lakes, situated near here, has just been made by Cass O. Edwards to Uel Stevens of San Antonio, who will, it is stated, construct a large evaporation plant for extracting potash from the brackish water of the lakes.

The proposed plant will cost approximately $500,000, and will be capable of handling 1000 tons of potash-bearing brine daily. Double Lakes have been thoroughly prospected for potash by means of test wells. These wells resulted in the discovery of an almost inexhaustible brine stratum, ranging in depth from four feet to eighteen feet and running high in potash and magnesia contents.

In some of the wells the brine showed a potash content of as much as 12½ per cent. The price paid for Double Lakes was $80,000. A royalty also will be paid on each ton of potash and other commercial substances that may be obtained from the brine.

Fruitvale Hole of Standard at New Low Level

FRUITVALE, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) Far beyond the depth attained in any other Fruitvale well at this date, Standard Oil Company's KCL No. 5-4 well in that district, on Sec. 26, 29-27, is coring ahead through the hard, sandy brown shale formation, the drilling down over 6500 feet.

This deep level represents about 2500 more feet than usually is drilled to obtain production at Fruitvale, where wells generally are brought in between 4000 and 4100 feet.

The KCL-5 lease at Fruitvale, operated by Standard, has a daily allowable of twenty barrels.

NEW MILL ON SLATE FOR MINE

Operating Company of Linden-Coburn Estate Planning Project

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Construction of a mill is promised by L. J. Coburn, treasurer of the operating company on the Linden-Coburn property in Groom Creek district, south of Prescott. The first work will be construction of a road from the Senator highway to the mine, a distance of a mile and a half. The first mill unit is to handle fifty tons of ore a day. This ore is to come from the Vera and Cottonwood veins, just above the mill site. The property has been developed by three shallow shafts and eleven tunnels.

Several dams are being built by Victor Hoffman of Phoenix to store water for operation of Oak Creek placers.

About 200 tons a day of sodium sulphate is being mined by the Arizona Chemical Company near Camp Verde. R. A. Asbury, manager, states that a shaft has been sunk 100 feet into a second deposit of the sodium. A force of over fifty men is employed, exclusive of the force of contractors who haul the product to the railroad at Cottonwood.

WILDCAT IN BEACH AREA ON DOCKET

Hines Petroleum Will Drill Test Project in Santa Monica Limits

Announcement was made yesterday by K. Jack Hines, president of the Hines Petroleum Corporation, Ltd., that his organization is putting in foundation for a wildcat well with which it expects to test Santa Monica for oil, the well to be drilled at Twentieth street and Ocean Park Boulevard. The company has 100 acres under lease in that area.

In order to meet the requirements of a Santa Monica city ordinance which was enacted when drilling restrictions in that city were lifted some time ago, the company had to pay $600 for a permit to erect a derrick and drill there, and in addition had to post a $1000 cash bond and a $25,000 surety bond.

It is expected that the well will be started soon after the beginning of the new year.

Old Fortuna Reopened Under Ten-Year Lease

SUPERIOR (Ariz.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The old Fortuna mine again is under development, with a ten-year lease taken by the Silver Consolidated Mining Company, which also has interests in Tuolumne county, California.

Years ago the local ground, just over a ridge from the Silver King camp, was explored through long tunnels, but to no great depth, one of the openings being 1100 feet in length. The new management is going down for values, and, in a ledge over four feet wide, has eighteen inches of solid ore, carrying $23 to the ton in lead, zinc and silver.

The district is one noted for its value in base ores. It has been hard to reach heretofore, but is expected to be more in the public eye as soon as better roads have been provided. The silver and lead markets also are too low to stimulate operation at the present time.

Find Reported in White Horse at Mineral Park

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—At Mineral Park a fine body of ore is reported cut in the White Horse property in a drift 250 feet from the 300 station of the shaft. A large quantity of ore is on the dump, sampling well in lead, copper, gold and silver. The ledge is said to be about six feet wide. A. Swan is in charge of operations.

Wylie C. Pettis and D. U Beaver recently made an inspection of the Pasadena group, now under option to C. F. Robbins, with whom Mr. Pettis is associated. Statement is made that it is proposed to push an extensive program of development work.

A mill of large capacity is reported to have been determined upon by the Boriana company to handle its entire output in relatively economical manner. The first operation is the development of water on the ground, to avoid lifting 1500 feet from Willow Creek.

NEW TOM REED FIND ATTRACTS

Aztec Vein Strike Holding Up Better Than Expected

Existence of Deep Ore Value Believed Demonstrated

Revival of Other Properties in District Forecast

OATMAN (Ariz.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The Aztec vein, newly cut on the 1100 level of Tom Reed, appears to have materialized even better than had been hoped by the management, though nothing very definite has been made public thus far. Probably it is too early for a decision, save that the vein, about six feet wide, carries good gold value, with the metal in much finer form than known in the other vein or above in the Aztec.

There is speculation whether the shoot may not be a new vein entirely. Whatever the results of further development, there appears to have been demonstration that the Aztec section of the Tom Reed estate carries deep values and that the property, almost abandoned several years ago, as worked out, has before it many years of profitable production.

The find also has given new life to the district and is expected to stimulate deep prospecting in a number of properties that found pay rock nearer the surface. On the 800 level drifting is being pushed along the Aztec vein, with report of good ore. The results on this level are much better than on the 400 drift on the same vein.

Tom Reed's mill is running steadily, with addition to the supply expected soon from the Siders-Wimberley lease, just fully equipped, with 4000 tons of ore broken and ready for haulage.

The Sunnyside vein, recently cut on the 500-foot level, is stated to be of relatively low grade, but the management is drifting in hope of betterment of both quality and quantity.

A four-foot body of $25 ore is reported in a twelve-foot ledge under development in the Tin Cup property. Changes are being made in the mill, to secure better extraction and a larger water supply is being developed.

Standard Oil to Redrill Project at Devil's Den

DEVIL'S DEN, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Redrilling of Standard Oil Company's Alferitz No. 1, test of the Devil's Den district on Sec. 14, 25-18, will be necessary because of loss of tools during reaming.

The well had an original depth of 1545 feet and was reamed to 1425 feet. Loss of the tools necessitates plugging back to where the surface casing was set at 1002 feet, and redrilling will begin there.

Standard Boosts Flow of Project

TAFT, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Standard Oil Company added about ninety barrels daily oil flow to its potential at Midway through completion of its No. 112 well on its 33-G lease.

The well was brought in several weeks ago and after some water trouble finally was completed. Water accompanying the oil amounts to thirty barrels daily. The project has a depth of 4715 feet. The nine-inch casing was recemented at 4601 feet.

POSO CREEK PROJECT NEARS COMPLETION

POSO STATION, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—The General Petroleum Corporation is near production in another well at Poso Creek. Its Sill No. 9 on Sec. 26, 28-27, is down 2037 feet and in blue shale and oil sand formation. This is the only active job in the field.

NEW SERVICE'S BEGINNING SET

Silver-Java Pacific Sailing Fixed for Wednesday

Silverbelle to Be Pathfinder on Run to East Indies

Dollar Skipper Slated for Change of Command

BY WALDO DRAKE

Christmas Eve will be celebrated at the local terminals of the General Steamship Corporation by dispatch of the British motorship Silverbelle to the East Indies as pathfinder of the fourteen-ship tri-service express fleet of the new Silver-Java Pacific Line. Her departure also will establish Los Angeles Harbor as the Pacific Coast terminus for another trans-Pacific freight fleet.

Silver-Java Pacific Line was formed recently by combination of the fleets of the Silver Line, Ltd., and the Java Pacific Line, each contributing seven modern express freighters to the merger. The fleet has been divided into three distinct monthly services, viz: "A" service—from Los Angeles Harbor, via San Francisco, to Manila, Singapore, Rangoon and Calcutta; "B" service—from Los Angeles Harbor, via San Francisco, to Macassar, Sourabaya, Samarang, Batavia, Singapore, Rangoon and Calcutta; and "C" service—to all the "B" fleet ports, plus Belawan-Deli and Penang.

Six of the seven "Silver" ships carry refrigerated cargo, while of Java-Pacific's seven Dutch vessels, three are brand-new motorships built particularly for the East Indian-California trade. These are the Tabian, Tabinta and Kota Gede; the Tabian being due here from Amsterdam on her maiden voyage next Sunday.

The Silverbelle, spick-and-span as a new yacht after a lengthy overhaul at the Los Angeles shipyards in preparation for her pathfinding voyage, moved to the General Petroleum dock last night to load bunkers and this morning will begin loading case oil, sardines, canned fruit and machinery. She is a unit of the "B" fleet, her first port being Macassar.

CAPT. RIDLEY WILL GET NEW SHIP

Dollar Line will honor Capt. Makepeace Ridley, in port yesterday in command of the President Johnson, with command of the new 31,000-ton President Hoover, it was reliably reported yesterday. The President Hoover, largest merchantman yet built in an American shipyard, and launched on the 9th inst., at the yards of the Newport News (Va.) Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, is to be commissioned next June for service between California and the Near-West. F. L. Jordan, chief engineer of the President Johnson, is scheduled to accompany Capt. Ridley to the President Hoover.

The President Johnson, completing her seventh world cruise here, will go to San Francisco tomorrow to go out of service for one trip for general overhaul. Her place in schedule will be taken by the President Hayes, recently withdrawn from Dollar's Manila-Singapore service. The President Fillmore, sister-ship to the President Johnson, also is scheduled for an overhaul lay-up and her place will be taken by the steamer President Monroe. Of the 125 travelers brought in by the President Johnson yesterday forty-seven disembarked here.

Capt. Lawrence H. Westdahl, operating superintendent of the Dollar Line, was down yesterday from San Francisco to meet the world cruiser.

French Line's new express steamer San Antonio, first of six passenger-carrying freighters being built especially for California-Continent trade, arrived on her maiden voyage from Le Havre last night. She made port too late to pass quarantine and will dock this morning.

Other units of the six new steamers are the San Diego, due here January 16; the San Francisco, due February 14, and the San Pedro, San Jose and San Mateo.

An offshore wind descending from the mountains struck the coast here about 10:30 a.m. yesterday and whipped up a severe chop, harassing the small craft. Many small yachts already had put to sea and some concern was felt regarding their safety, although the sea died down some shortly after noon.

The wind, blowing first from the northeast, made the seas unusually rough at Avalon, and the Wrigley liner Catalina, scheduled to depart from Wilmington at 10 a.m. for the island, was held at her dock. As the storm abated, however, the Cabrillo was substituted and departed Wilmington at 1 p.m. for Avalon, whence she was to sail back at 4:30 p.m.

No casualties were reported and no calls for help had come into the local Coast Guard base late yesterday but all patrol boats had been cautioned to keep on the lookout for small craft in distress.

Lassco's cabin liner Calawaii put in from Hawaii yesterday with 171 travelers and 133 bags of Christmas mail, and a heavy cargo of sugar, alcohol, coffee and canned and fresh pineapples. Capt. Sawyer reported departing Honolulu six hours late to accommodate two returning mainland football squads. Returning passengers included John Schoepflin, retired banker of Buffalo, and Walter J. Carrothers, appraiser for the Territorial tax bureau.

James H. Smiley, district manager for the Federal Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, was re-elected president of the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California for 1931 at the week-end meeting of directors. Others elected are Clarence H. Matson, first vice-president; Robert Vernon, second vice-president; C. B. Sweet, secretary, and Fred A. Sumption, treasurer. Installation will be held early next year.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Although the working agreement between the Atlantic Far East and the Pacific westbound conference has been disrupted for a week, no reaction has been noticed by marine men here.

The Pacific conference has adopted a policy of watchful waiting. Any rate cutting by the Atlantic group, leaders indicate, will be met by the Pacific conference.

With more than 300 passengers for California ports, the liner Virginia is scheduled to berth here tomorrow from New York and Havana.

SEATTLE, Dec. 21.—Bids for the construction of a seagoing steel-log barge for operation between Nehalem Bay, Oregon, and Gray's Harbor will be opened here tomorrow. Construction cost of the log carrier, which is to be operated by the Markham-Callow Company, is estimated at $100,000.

The barge will load and discharge its own cargo, specifications calling for a forty-ton locomotive steam crane. Two rudders and a trailing chain will aid navigation. The contract calls for completion next May.

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 21.—The Italian steamer California, which will inaugurate a new era in Pacific-Mediterranean commerce on her arrival here next month, is a children's ship, stated Capt. Desiderio Tonietti, master of the motorship Leme, now loading here. Capt. Tonietti supervised the completion of the vessel and was her master on her first trip to her owners.

The ship, with accommodations for 180 passengers, is built in keeping with Premier Mussolini's edict that families should be large, the captain said. The vessel is especially arranged for the convenience of children and large families.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont — "Fast and Loose." Youth, romance and thrills are presented to good effect. With Carole Lombard.

California, Main and Eighth—"Toda Una Vida." Senora Carmen Larrabeiti's emotional acting marks this Spanish version of "Sarah and Son."

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Min and Bill." A drama of the water front which runs from slapstick to tragedy. Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood — "Morocco." Von Sternberg's drama, styled to repression and realism, is a definite contribution to the screen. Gary Cooper and Marlene Dietrich.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Paid." A dramatic piece of theatricalism with an exceptional performance by Joan Crawford.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Road to Paradise" and "The Fourth Alarm."

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Princess and the Plumber." Light but entertaining romance between Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Fast and Loose."

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Remote Control." Radio and mystery served up by Billy Haines.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Follow the Leader." Ed Wynn in a funny screen version of his stage play, "Manhattan Mary."

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Renegades." Foreign Legion adventures and Myrna Loy.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Captain Thunder." Victor Varconi proves a good-hearted bandit chief and Charles Judels is very amusing in a character role.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Ex-Flame." Supposedly a new version of "East Lynne," but you will not notice any resemblance.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Dubarry, Woman of Passion." The notorious figure of history is ably portrayed by Norma Talmadge.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Laughter." One of the really smart comedies of the year. With Nancy Carroll.

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Lincoln." The masterly art of a great director and the acting ability of a reputable star make of this biographical impression a fine picture worth seeing.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"River's End." Charles Bickford plays a dual role in this rather satisfying outdoor feature.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"River's End."

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard — "Tom Sawyer." Mark Twain's classic of youth is enacted by some clever youngsters.

STAGE

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Elmer the Great." Reviewed in today's Times.

Music Box, Hollywood near Gower—"Peter Pan." Scenically sumptuous revival of Never-Never Land fantasy with Marion Clayton a gay Peter Pan. Sure to delight youngsters, especially.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

Cuban Boys Get Farm-Minded

HAVANA, Dec. 21. (AP)—The 4-H Club idea has spread to Cuba. The island's back-to-the-farm movement among other things includes an extensive crop diversification plan, and provides for organization of boys' clubs similar to those in the United States.

Mayfair Adopts Flashing Foils

LONDON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Flashing foils are taking the place in Mayfair of tap dancing in Park avenue—they make milady slender. Fencing, particularly good for the waistline, is most popular with the sub-debs.

SCARS OF NURSE WIN JUDGMENT OF $1250

Scars won for Eleanor H. Eells a $1250 judgment against the Angelus Hospital Association in Superior Judge Hahn's court. Miss Eells, a special nurse, testified that she was injured on the night of March 18, 1929, while attending a patient in Angelus Hospital. According to the plaintiff, she was bruised severely against a door which was thrown open carelessly by Ruth Pentland, a regular hospital nurse. Tumors developed, and an operation was necessitated, Miss Eells testified. While on the witness stand she exhibited scars to the jury of eleven men and one woman, as evidence in her case for $15,262 damages.

HEAD OF TECHNICOLOR COMPANY TO RETURN

Dr. Herbert T. Kalmus, president of the Technicolor Corporation, will return to Hollywood today. For the past six months, Dr. Kalmus has been in Boston, at the home laboratories of the Technicolor company. During this time he has been conferring with a group of the company's scientists on new developments of the Technicolor process which he plans to put into operation at the Hollywood plant immediately.

GIBRALTAR BOASTS OF ROYAL HUNT

King George of England, King Alfonso, Spain, Ride to One of Oldest Packs

ALGECIRAS, Dec. 21. (NANA)—In this neighborhood the hounds of the only "royal" hunt in the world meet on Wednesdays and Saturdays throughtout the season.

The Royal Calpe Hunt has its kennels at Gibraltar and two Kings are its patrons, King George of England and King Alfonso of Spain, though neither is enjoying the sport at present.

The hunt was established in 1813 and became "Royal" in 1906 when King Edward VII and King Alfonso became patrons. The present master is the Marquis of Marzales. The hunt button bears the crowns of England and Spain. There are no fences, but streams and ditches and the open cultivated hills and moorlands are pleasure enough in riding to one of the oldest packs of hounds in Europe.

Parasite Flies Battle Florida Orchard Pests

ATLANTA, Dec. 21. (AP)—More than 20,000,000 of the Trix cousins, small parasitic flies, have been released in Georgia in the last two years to battle fruit insects.

Trichogramma minutum and its cousin, Macrocentrus, are the scientific names of the tiny Trix cousins. Given a chance they destroy the oriental peach moth and the codling moth.

Parasitization of apple and peach orchards in Georgia is under supervision of the State Board of Entomology. A laboratory, one of the few of its kind, has been established at Cornelia where the Trix cousins are bred artificially and supplied to farmers. The demand is greater than the supply.

Six Destroyers Sent to Heap

VALLEJO, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Mare Island navy yard is advised of the Navy Department's authorization for the scrapping of six more outworn torpedo boat destroyers. They are the Somers, Percival, Kennedy, Mullany, Ludlow and Chase.

EARLY CHRISTIAN CHURCH EVACUATED

OPPELN, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Excavations on the site of the old Piasten castle here, where a new Upper Silesian government building is to be erected, have disclosed finds indicating that an early Christian church stood here. Historians have generally assumed that Christianity entered Silesia from Oppeln, and this appears to confirm the assumption.

ITALIANS CHECK UP AMERICA'S AVIATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Trained in war and peace flying, Commander Paolo Sbernadori will watch America's aviation progress for four years as air attache of the Italian embassy. Commander Sbernadori earned his wings in the World War. He has been flying since 1915.

GUESTS PAWED, SAYS WIFE

ART TREASURES GOING ABROAD

America's Persian Collection Loaned to England

Objects Worth $6,000,000 on Three Vessels

Exhibit to Gather Works Scattered for Centuries

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP) — The bulk of America's wealth of Persian art, surpassed only by the collection of the Shah of Persia, is in three ships on the high seas and bound for London.

The objects, divided for safety, and valued at between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, were loaned by private collectors and museums for the international exhibition of Persian art at the Royal Academy January 5 to February 28.

The American Institute of Persian Art and Archaeology, devoted to research in one of the world's oldest civilizations, gathered the loans in this country and Sir Joseph Duveen of London stood the expense of shipment and insurance.

SCATTERED FOR CENTURIES

The exhibition will bring together Persian art which has been scattered over the world for centuries.

Every known type from earlier than 3000 B. C., to the present will be represented in exhibits.

"For more than fifty centuries art of high quality has been produced in Persia, a record of continuous activity hardly equaled in any other region," said Myron Bement Smith, secretary of the American Institute. "Evidence is accumulating that in Persia we shall find the immediate antecedents of the Sumerian culture, one of the oldest that has yet been studied."

MUSEUMS MAKE LOANS

Among American institutions making the largest loans to the London exhibition were the Metropolitan Museum of New York, the Museum of Fine Arts of Boston, the Art Institute of Chicago, the Pennsylvania and University museums of Philadelphia, the Textile Museum of the District of Columbia, the Fogg Art Museum of Harvard University, the Detroit Institute of Arts, the American Numismatic Society of New York, the City Art Museum of St. Louis and the Cleveland Museum of Art.

Some of the private collectors sending pieces are Horace Havemeyer, Valentine E. Macy, Jr., Mrs. Rainey Rogers, Phillip Hofer, Miss Lizzie Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Lewisohn, George C. Stone and Mortimer Schiff.

'Hats Off' Idea Lands Mexican Mayor in Jail

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Mayor Auditas Flores of the village of Texcalyacac, State of Mexico, has been arrested on a charge of assault. He is alleged to have taken his office so seriously that he personally assaulted various persons who were so bold as to forget to doff their hats to him when passing him, and afterward giving them jail sentences.

The Mayor's arrest followed his assault of the village judge, who had the audacity of disagreeing with him when Flores suggested he imprison a citizen who had been so "disrespectful" as to be in his presence with his hat on. The judge lodged a complaint with the State Governor.

Mud Splasher Draws Fire in Berlin Court

BERLIN, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Pedestrians who received a mud bath when a chauffeur drove his truck through a puddle of water next to the curbstone in a Berlin street filed a complaint, and the chauffeur was summoned to court.

The evidence showed that he had plenty of room to turn out and avoid the puddle, and the court imposed a fine of 3 marks on him. Similar decisions have been rendered also by Bavarian courts.

MEXICO SLACKENS METAL PRODUCTION

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Federal imposts on metal production during October totaled 753,854.57 pesos, showing October metal production to be slight as compared to other months.

The metal imposts by months, presenting comparative figures indicative of production were: January, 744,154.04 pesos; February, 1,187,744.76; March, 955,805.80; April, 813,533.09; May, 961,681.81; June, 930,839.56; July, 822,151.39; August, 711,640.35; September, 791,465.73, and October, 753,854.57.

RAINS BENEFIT MEXICAN WHEAT

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Reports from agricultural belts north of here indicate that wheat fields are in excellent condition. In the States of Coahuila, Durango, Nuevo Leon, and parts of Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi, there is enough moisture in the ground already to assure a wheat crop, reports say. Rains there have been steady but not heavy.

BOAT CONCESSION REQUEST REFUSED

A request by Capt. Scotty Lacade for permission to operate the Cabrillo Beach fishing boat concession has been refused by the Playground and Recreation Commission, which has granted F. W. De Long another year's renewal on the ground that he has met every demand made on him by the department and is giving satisfactory service.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. R. GUERRERO

Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Al fin del párrafo primero de mi Plática anterior dice "pasao poca" en vez de "pasado época".

"Se ponía tan alegre siempre que, a raíz de cualquier pena, hacía una visita al sitio donde lo guardaba!", leemos en el cuento que hemos venido repasando. La locución "a raíz de" significa "a inmediata proximidad", y, en sentido figurado, "inmediatamente después": "Fulano se pone la camisa a raíz del pellejo"; "A raíz de terminada la guerra mundial se produjeron crisis sociales y económicas en toda Europa". "De raíz" significa "completamente", "de manera absoluta", "de la raíz arriba": "Es preciso arrancar esas plantas de raíz"; "Corte usted de raíz esas malas inclinaciones de su hijo, antes de que lo dominen por completo"; "Me costó bastante sufrimiento; pero me quité de raíz el vicio de fumar"; "Para acabar con las guerras civiles hay que arrancar de raíz los odios y prejuicios de partido". "Echar raíces" quiere decir "establecerse definitivamente en un lugar" y también, "afirmarse o arraigarse una pasión": "Gonzáles ha echado raíces en Los Angeles"; "La piedad y la devoción echaron hondas raíces en mi madre".

Más adelante dice el relato que "ya una vez (Gasparín) en la carretera, se paró un momento indeciso". El diccionario define así la voz "carretera": "Camino público suficientemente ancho y a propósito para poder transitar por él toda clase de carruajes". Esta clase de caminos, nos dice la Enciclopedia de Espasa, construidos con arreglo a los conocimientos científicos, se dividen en carreteras del Estado, provinciales y municipales, según sean costeadas con fondos de la nación, de la provincia o del municipio. Las del Estado se clasifican en carreteras de primero, segundo o tercer orden, según tengan un ancho de 8, 7 o 6 metros, medido entre las aristas interiores de las cunetas (ditches), en los desmontes (cuts), y entre las exteriores de los terraplenes (embankments) y de los muros de contención (retaining walls). Se consideran como de primer orden las que unen a Madrid con las capitales de provincia, departamentos marítimos y puertos dispuestos para el comercio de exportación e importación; los ramales (branch roads) que unen un ferrocarril o carretera con dichos puntos, o los que enlazan dos ferrocarriles y pasan por una población de 15,000 habitantes. Tienen igual categoría las que pasan por una capital de provincia o centro de población o tráfico de más de 20,000 habitantes, para unir dos o más carreteras de primer orden.

Se comprenden en las de segundo orden las que enlazan dos capitales de provincia, un ferrocarril con una carretera de primer orden, o las que desde una de éstas o de un ferrocarril van a un pueblo cabeza de partido o con vecindario mayor de 10,000 habitantes. De tercer orden son las que unen dos o más pueblos de una misma o de distinta provincia, sin reunir ninguna de las condiciones expuestas para las de primero y segundo orden.

Para evitar confusiones, nos dice en otro lugar la Enciclopedia citada, conviene distinguir las carreteras, caminos anchos y firmes construídos con arreglo a la ciencia de ingeniería, de los "caminos carreteros", que son aquellos que se han formado naturalmente por consecuencia del tránsito rodado (vehicular traffic), sin obra alguna, y de los "caminos de herradura", propios únicamente para el tránsito a caballo.

"Caminos vecinales", nos dice la obra dicha, son los destinados al servicio particular de los vecinos de un pueblo para sus haciendas, términos o montes, y costeados de fondos municipales. Legalmente, en la frase "caminos vecinales" se comprenden todos los caminos de dominio público que no son carreteras nacionales ni provinciales. "Camino de hierro" es lo mismo que "vía férrea" o "ferrocarril"; "camino de ruedas" es equivalente a "camino carretero"; "camino de servidumbre" es el que cruza una o varias propiedades para dar paso a las que no tienen otro medio directo para comunicarse con un camino público; "camino de sirga" es el que se construye al lado de los canales o ríos, y paralelo a ellos, para conducir a la sirga balsas (o embarcaciones; "camino real" highway) es el construído a expensas del Estado, más ancho que los otros, capaz para carruajes, y que pone en comunicación entre sí poblaciones de cierta importancia; "camino rural" es el que se hace para el servicio de las propiedades rústicas; y "camino particular" es el que construye un particular para su servicio exclusivo o el de sus propiedades, aunque pase por terrenos ajenos.

Consulte el lector con su maestro o con el diccionario el significado de las siguientes locuciones castellanas: "Echar cada cual por su camino"; "Ir uno por buen camino"; "Todos los caminos van a Roma"; "Ponerse uno en camino"; "Abrir camino"; "Salir al camino"; "Ir una cosa fuera de camino"; "Traer a uno a buen camino."

KHORASSAN KNIGHTS TO INSTALL OFFICERS

A public installation of officers of the dramatic order of Knights of Khorassan, an auxiliary to the order of the Knights of Pythias, will be made January 17, 1931. Officers to be installed include James W. Henry, Royal Vizier; C. A. Davis, Grand Emir; Harry A. Georgi, Secretary; William G. Vaughan, Treasurer, and Lester E. Manor, Trustee. Representatives of the Knights of Khorassan selected to attend the Imperial Palace, which meets in Cincinnati in August, 1931, include Frank F. Merriam, Lieutenant-Governor-elect of California; Simpson McClure, Fred H. Jones, Past Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, and Stanley R. Simpson, assistant superintendent of mails of Los Angeles.

TREE-PLANTING START SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

The work of starting the planting of trees at Fernangeles and Stonehurst playgrounds is to be started today by the Playground and Recreation Department, which has asked the Civil Service Commission for permission to reduce the rate of pay from $4.75 a day to $4 in order to put more men to work.

"MAMMOTH-MAN" HUNTED IN HOLE

Human Remains in Grave of Mastodon Sought

Indiana May Yield Trace of Ancient Persons

Skeleton of Beast Expected to Give Desired Data

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Dec. 21. (AP)—Everett Burmaster, one of the Buffalo Museum of Science staff members supervising the excavation of the giant mammoth recently discovered in Indiana, will attempt to find some trace of human life in the huge pothole in which the skeleton of the prehistoric animal has been preserved.

The mastodon is supposed to have died in the mire of this great hole more than 20,000 years ago. Search will be made for the skull, bones, pottery or other articles that may have survived the ravages of decay.

Aside from providing the most complete specimen, the huge skeleton of the mastodon or prehistoric elephant will not furnish anything new to the scientific world that might result in a radical shift from present theories of the evolution of the species, according to Dr. Charles J. Fish, director of the museum.

The paleontology of the mastodon has been thoroughly delved into and there is small probability of any further light being thrown upon it by the discovery of the Indiana specimen.

However, if the specimen can be excavated intact, it will provide scientists with the accurate measurements of the mastodon, Dr. Fish says. Figures now available have been arrived at from specimens assembled from fragmentary discoveries.

DOODLEBUG DOES TRICKS IN NEW YORK

Freak Plane Astonishes Crowd by Landing and Taking Off in Small Plot

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) J. S. McDonnell, Milwaukee designer and pilot, demonstrated today the flying abilities of his latest creation dubbed "The Doodlebug." The pilot-engineer whose strange plane lost its tail during a power dive at Mitchell Field a year ago and despite its crippled condition came down to a nearly perfect landing, astonished a large crowd at the Glenn Curtis airport at North Beach today by landing and taking off inside a 100-foot circle. The machine also displayed a change of pace of seventy miles an hour while flying.

The machine is a low-wing monoplane equipped with slots and flaps and powered with a Warner motor. It flew with flaps down at thirty miles an hour and with wings in conventional positions, slots closed and flaps raised it made 100 miles an hour.

Flying east from Chicago, McDonnell said, he landed on farms beside barns instead of hunting large landing fields. The Doodlebug is to be put into production in 1931.

NEW BUS SERVICE PERMIT GRANTED

Permission for Frank G. Lower to operate an interstate bus service between Los Angeles and Chicago over the southern route, with a parlor-type bus with reclining chairs, has been granted by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation of Los Angeles, provided the applicant provides a proper loading terminal and does not load from the street.

GOLD OUTPUT OF MINE GA[illegible]

TONOPAH (Nev.) Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—Twenty bars of silver-gold bullion valued at $25,000 were produced by the Tonopah Mining Company in the last half of November. The company's Desert mill treated 1000 tons of ore from the leases on the Mizpah and Belmont mines, with 700 tons received from the Mizpah.

Output of the leases is steadily increasing and Manager Horace A. Johnson of the Tonopah Mining expects the January yield to approximate 2500 tons. The gold ratio carried by Tonopah ores compensates to some extent for the heart-breaking silver slump.

Shipments have started from the old Tolicha district. Ore is arriving at the Desert mill from the Landmark property, where John Weaver is reported to be mining a five-foot width of shipping ore. The material is accompanied by a body of mill ore about fifteen feet wide. Values are in gold with a trace of silver. Commencement of production follows several years of disappointing work, but a new and important camp appears in the making as a result of the new discovery.

The Gold Metals Company of Los Angeles has started shipping to the International Smelter, at Toole, Utah, from the 120-foot level of its Sullivan mine at Manhattan. The ore is said to be fairly high-grade. Development of the rich vein on the 170-foot level continues to expose shipping ore, according to late reports from the property. The management is preparing to recondition the old War Eagle mill and place it in commission.

The rich gold strike made several weeks ago in the Grapevine range, below Bonnie Clare, seems to be developing into a discovery of importance. The owners are mining a rich shoot showing free gold, with a strong ledge indicated. Several claims are being prospected and numerous locations have been filed.

For several years Indians have appeared at Beatty, Goldfield and other desert camps with chunks of rich gold ore for sale. The wily redmen have steadfastly refused to reveal the source of the high grade but the new strike is thought to have been one of the long-sought places. The discovery [illegible] an Indian prospector, [illegible] claims to Tonopah [illegible]

[illegible] high-grade are [illegible] Utah smelters.

Negotiations are [illegible] sale of the extensive [illegible] below Rawhide to the [illegible] Dredging Company. [illegible] owners of the property [illegible] corporation is said to [illegible] $75,000 for the placers [illegible] they are allowed [illegible] thoroughly test the [illegible] years for completion [illegible] The area is reported [illegible] over $250,000 by the [illegible] method.

CHANCE DICTATES FRAUD DISCOVERY

Milton O. Shaw

Eight years ago two eastern college boys, just graduated and all but broke, pooled their resources, bought a second-hand car and started for California. But for that little incident, the plundering of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association by Gilbert Beesemyer, its manager, might still be unknown and losses even more staggering might have gone on piling up until a still more evil day.

Milton O. Shaw, a product of Marion, Ind., was graduated from Ohio State University in 1922. He majored in accounting.

And there he was in Columbus, all educated up and nowhere to go.

"Well, Milt, what y'going to do?" said one of his pals.

"I don't know," the red-haired, smiling and frank open-faced graduate replied, "guess I'll look around a bit and try and get a job."

"Well," said his pal, "I've hardly enough to get a ticket to Bakersfield, where my folks are. Let's go together, buy a Ford and drive out."

They did and eventually they wheezed into Bakersfield in 1923. Shaw got a job with the Standard Oil Company and stuck. Then he took the State civil service examination, passed and got a job in the San Francisco office of the State Corporation Department. For five years he worked in it. Last April he was transferred to the State Building and Loan Commissioner's office.

Barely more than a few days ago he came to Los Angeles, was set upon the books of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association and it was not long until a plundering that already had reached $8,000,000 was stopped. Milt Shaw found it.

PLAYER ON GOLF LINKS FALLS DEAD

George H. Hiles, Attorney, Stricken at Long Beach Country Club Course

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 21.—George H. Hiles, widely known patent lawyer, dropped dead here today while playing golf on the Virginia Country Club course. He had teed off and was walking down the fairway when he collapsed. Attending physicians attributed death to acute indigestion. The body was removed to the Patterson & McQuilkin mortuary here.

Mr. Hiles was 53 years of age and was associated with the firm of Lyons & Lyons, Los Angeles. He made his home here, occupying an apartment at the Cooper Arms.

Handbill Ban in City Asked

A suggestion that Los Angeles follow the lead of Redlands, Pomona and other near-by cities in adopting an ordinance prohibiting the throwing of handbills on porches and lawns has been made to the City Council by Charles H. Smith.

The Council referred the matter to its Public Welfare Committee.

DAM SUIT PLANS TO BE PONDERED

San Gabriel Project Before Supervisors Today

Legal Action to Dispose of Bond Issue Question

Course Set for Consideration Prepared by Mattoon

Plans formulated by County Counsel Mattoon for a friendly suit to determine whether the county has a legal right to use the $21,000,000 balance of the $25,000,000 bond issue voted for a high dam in San Gabriel Canyon, for three dams and a spreading ground to take the place of the abandoned project, are scheduled for consideration today by the Board of Supervisors. County officials hope to have a Supreme Court decision in the matter some time in February.

The plan of procedure to get the legal machinery started has been outlined somewhat as follows:

COURSE DETERMINED

The Board of Supervisors, with not less than a four-fifths vote, will adopt a resolution declaring the county has been prohibited by law from proceeding with the high-dam work.

Following this action the board, with not less than a four-fifths vote, will adopt another resolution providing for a change of plans for flood control in San Gabriel Canyon because of the prohibition by law from proceeding with the high dam and because of a change of conditions.

PRELIMINARY TO SUIT

This will be followed by the refusal of the chairman of the board to assign the bonds to the new project until there has been a decision of the Supreme Court showing he has a legal right to do so. He will refuse to assign the bonds on the ground they were voted for the express purpose of raising money for one high dam in the canyon and not for three and a spreading ground.

The flood-control district then will file a mandamus suit to compel the chairman to assign the bonds for the new work on the ground that the original project is prohibited by law and that conditions have changed since the issue was voted.

ENTRY INTO COURT

The issues then will be taken to court, with County Counsel Mattoon representing the board and Attorney Vincent Morgan, special flood-control counsel, representing the district.

It will be the contention of the district that the balance of the money may be used for building a project that is to carry out the same purpose or intent of the high dam.

Work on the high dam was stopped by order of the State Engineer following a landslide at the site selected for the project.

One of the tasks before the court will be to decide whether the State Engineer's order constitutes a prohibition by law forbidding the Supervisors to proceed with the work.

Gridiron Star Electrocuted in Bathroom

Wilbert J. Lubbering, 17-year-old high school football star of San Fernando Valley, was electrocuted by an electric heater in the bathroom of his home at 15747 Rayen street, Van Nuys, yesterday morning, according to a police report.

His sister, Anna, told detectives she heard him cry out soon after he entered the bathroom. Rushing in she found him in the bathtub with the heater on his chest and both hands gripping it tightly. She immediately disconnected the heater from an outlet and removed the stove from her brother's body.

After police were called members of the fire department worked vainly for an hour with an inhalator in an effort to revive Lubbering. The body was taken to Schwimleys' undertaking establishment in Van Nuys.

TAXI PERMIT REFUSED

A request by the Lincoln Motor Livery Company, which largely serves the Los Angeles Athletic Club, for permission to operate a machine additional to three already used in taxicab service, has been turned down by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation on the ground that an insufficient showing of public necessity and convenience has been made for it.

CHILD DIES FROM BURNS IN CHURCH

Marian Townsend Victim of Flames After Costume for Operetta Ignites

Her role in what was to have been a Christmas operetta cost the life of 10-year-old Marian Townsend of 5122 Dahlia Drive.

MARIAN TOWNSEND

She died at the California Lutheran Hospital yesterday afternoon from third-degree burns suffered when a flimsy costume which she was wearing became ignited from a gas grate while the children were being dressed for the performance at the First Presbyterian Church, 4848 Eagle Rock Boulevard.

According to Dr. H. B. Crawford, president of the board of trustees of the church, the child had been costumed for her part and was playing about the room when she began to dance and swirled the train of her dress into the flames of an open gas heater. An instant later the fire had enveloped her and she ran screaming from the room. Witnesses overtook her and threw a coat over her to smother the flames but, in her agony, she broke away from them and eluded her would-be rescuers until her whole body was seared.

She was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and later removed to the California Lutheran Hospital where she died. An inquest will be set today.

After the tragedy the plans for the operetta were abandoned.

Marian was a fifth-grade pupil in the Dahlia Heights school. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Townsend. Her young brother is R. S. Townsend, Jr. Funeral arrangements are to be made today.

PARKING LIMIT ASKED

Herman Meyer and others have petitioned the City Council to establish one-hour parking zones at Fifty-third and San Pedro streets. The Council referred the request to the Police Commission and to the Traffic and Lighting Committee.

HEALTH BODY GIVEN MAP

The assessment district map for the sewering of the Westholme-avenue and Lindbrook-Drive district has been referred to the Health and Sanitation Committee by the City Council.

NATALIE MOOREHEAD, film actress, and Alan Crosland, screen director, were married yesterday at a quiet ceremony at the Ahwahnee Hotel in Yosemite, according to word received here last night.

ALAN CROSLAND

The marriage of the couple has been anticipated for some time, as an announcement of their engagement was made last April, with the nuptials expected some time in July. Picture work has delayed the wedding until the trip to Yosemite. A small party of friends accompanied the couple. The bride's sister, Miss Regina Moorehead of Santa Barbara was bridesmaid and Gordon Hollinghead was best man.

Miss Moorehead, former wife of Raymond H. Phillips, obtained her divorce in Reno in January of this year. She got the decree on grounds of cruelty after six months and three days of matrimony. Phillips was an auto salesman.

Crosland was also divorced from his first wife, Mrs. Juanita Fletcher Crosland, in February of this year. Mrs. Crosland obtained her decree in Cannes, France, on charges of curelty and desertion.

MRS. FAHY'S HEARSE HAS BREAKDOWN

Cortege Delayed in Desert for Several Hours After Accident to Motor

After a delay of several hours on the desert, when motor trouble halted the cortege of Mrs. Claire Fahy, aviatrix, the body arrived here yesterday morning for burial. The hearse had reached a point about eighty miles west of Tonopah, Nev., where the flyer met her death several days ago, when the engine failed. Meanwhile, Los Angeles relatives and friends were greatly concerned over the delay until the cause was learned.

Mrs. Fahy was the widow of Lieut. Herbert J. Fahy, who lost his life in a plane crash in Michigan about a year ago. She received injuries when her plane crashed from an altitude of fifty feet as she was making a take-off. She lay unconscious for nearly a week before her death.

The services were conducted at the A. C. Fillbach funeral chapel in Burbank at 2 p.m., with burial in Valhalla Cemetery.

Mrs. Fahy leaves an 8-year-old son, James, a brother, Charles Breeden of Washington, D. C., and four sisters. They are Mrs. Robert Fry, Mrs. Anna Chew, Mrs. Sadie Sanger and Mrs. Dorothea Headley.

EYE OF SCIENCE STRENGHTENED

Mt. Wilson Telescope Range Doubled by New Lens

Secrets of Greater Reaches in Heavens Revealed

Scope of Universe Known to Man Vastly Increased

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 21.—Addition of a small attachment which weighs less than two pounds and can be carried in an overcoat pocket, has doubled the efficiency of the Mount Wilson telescope, it was learned today.

A high-speed lens, developed by W. B. Rayton of the Bausch and Lomb Company, Rochester, N. Y., and used for spectrographic photography with the Mount Wilson telescope, has given the 100-inch instrument the scope of a 200-inch telescope, so far as exploring the outer limits of creation is concerned.

The lens was developed for future use with the 200-inch telescope which is being constructed for the California Institute of Technology. It was loaned to the Mount Wilson Observatory, but its success has been so phenomenal that Mount Wilson authorities have ordered one made for their permanent use. Research which astronomers thought must await completion of the 200-inch telescope already is under way, with the aid of the new Rayton lens.

MORE WORK TURNED OUT

Even more significant is the fact that, through cutting the exposure time for spectrographic photographs in half, the lens makes it possible for an observatory to turn out twice as much work in a given time. Used in conjunction with the 200-inch telescope, the lens promises to give results in spectrography (probably the most important field for giant telescopes) that heretofore have been regarded as possible only with a 400-inch telescope. In other words, the possibility for solving the riddle of creation has been doubly strengthened by a cunningly fashioned arrangement of glass.

SIZE OF LENS

The diameter of the lens is about two inches, almost twice as much as the focal length, which is one and two-tenths inches. The previous fastest lens for the same type of photography had a focal length of two inches. The larger the diameter of the lens in relation to the focal length, the shorter is the length of time required for exposing the film or plate. So the speed of the new lens may be gauged from the fact that while its focal length is about half the diameter of the lens, the focal length of a newspaper camera equipped to take action pictures with an exposure of one one-thousandth of a second is usually three or four times the measurement of the lens diameter.

SIZE OF CREATION

Used by Dr. Edwin P. Hubble and Milton L. Humason, the lens has made possible the first scientific estimate of the size of all creation.

Dr. Hubble's estimate that the universe apparent to man does not extend more than a certain multiple of millions of billions of light years from the earth is based on Einstein's theory regarding space curvature and a spectrographic study of distant nebulae which would have had to await completion of the 200-inch telescope had not the Rayton lens been made available. To calculate the extent of creation in miles, it is necessary to realize that a single light year is the distance light travels in a year at the rate of about 186,000 miles a second.

LATEST MEASUREMENT

Thus, to find out how many miles an airplane would have to travel to reach the "end of everything," it is necessary to multiply 186,000 by the number of seconds in a year and multiply that product by millions of billions. Due to increasing exactness of his calculations, Dr. Hubble, now in Washington, has not revealed the latest definite measurement of all space to his confreres, but it is known that it is of the order of some millions of billions of light years.

Dr. Hubble found that the speed of nebulae appears to increase regularly, the father the nebulae are from the earth, so by charting the velocities of nearer nebulae whose distances are known, he was able to estimate the distances of the farthest observed nebulae by obtaining their velocities through the displacement of their spectra lines.

He then calculated that if the distribution of stars in observed regions continues to be the same

WOMAN ATTORNEY IN FEDERAL POST

Mrs. Dorothy L. Bromberg

Mrs. Dorothy Lenroot Bromberg, first woman assistant United States Attorney in the Southern California district, now is in possession of her office here. She has been assigned to the handling of civil cases. There are forty-two of these pending, and Mrs. Bromberg began at once acquiring the routine of her new duties.

Mrs. Bromberg is the daughter of former Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, now judge of the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. She graduated in law from the University of Southern California last June and was admitted to the bar last September. She has lived in Los Angeles two years and in California fifteen.

POTS FIRED IN CITRUS ORCHARDS

Temperatures Go Low at Pomona and Elsewhere, But No Damage Done

Because of northeasterly winds temperatures in the Pomona fruit district dropped as low as 26 deg. last night, and it became necessary to fire smudge pots. At 8:30 p.m., the temperature had dropped to 30 deg., in the low areas and it decreased gradually to the low point at 10:30 p.m., according to F. D. Young, government frost expert at Pomona. The strength of the wind, however, kept the air "mixed," according to Young and no damage was expected.

In the district embracing Santa Clara Valley, Ventura, Piru, Ojai, Oxnard, Fillmore and Santa Barbara it was not necessary to smudge. According to E. S. Ellison, frost expert, a moderate east wind precluded any danger from frost in the area.

In the Redlands district smudge firing was extensive except in the vicinities of Rialto, Bloomington and Colton, according to Dr. Albert Moore, government expert. A high wind in those districts kept the air "stirred" and the temperature remained above 30 deg.

The season's record for consistent low temperature has been attained in the district around Loma Linda, where it has dropped to 24.5 deg. the last two nights, and the thermometer has touched 26 deg. on all other nights since the 16th inst.

At Riverside and High Grove there was little smudge firing and the temperature remained around 30 deg. At Corona and other exposed areas there was no need for any fires, according to Leland Johnson, frost expert.

County Asked to Buy Acreage

An offer to sell the county fourteen acres of improved land adjoining the County Farm property will be presented today to the Board of Supervisors in a communication from Jacob R. Sutton, the owner of the acreage.

The land, which adjoins the north 100 acres of the County Farm property, is offered to the county for $1275 an acre.

by Harry Carr

ONE OF Brigham Young's daughters explains his domestic arrangements in a book recently published.

During the period of his greatest matrimonial enthusiasm, his nineteen wives were apportioned separate two-room apartments; the large company of fifty-six children (twenty-six sons, thirty daughters) were maintained together on sleeping porches.

When it came to new dresses, the quality was fixed by edict, but the wives could choose their own colors.

KEEP THE BUNCH

The comparative peace of this arrangement offers a solution to our famous authors who prefer their second wives, but who can't seem to keep themselves from acquiring new editions.

Why not keep them all? The expense would be less than the series of Reno trips. Close examination of a long series of wives always discloses that each had her points.

BRIGHTENING THE DESERT

One T. M. Carroll, a realtor of Las Vegas, Nev., pays for a huge newspaper advertisement to recommend pep for tourists when the work on the Boulder Dam begins.

He says what Nevada needs is—"wide-open gambling and horse racing with the honor of the State of Nevada behind the program."

I have seen gambling under such official, if nominal, auspices. The wheels were all spiked and you were lucky if you got out with your shoes.

MINUTE MEN

The suggestion of a war veteran in The Times has plenty of support. He wants to arm a certain number of trusted citizens in each neighborhood to act as "minute men" to help the police.

A letter similar in intent has come to me from a navy officer stationed in San Diego. Some such plan, it seems, was adopted with success in Brooklyn.

There are plenty of men in this city who have heard bullets whine in the trenches and are not gun-shy. As it is, we have the spectacle of a city of a million and a quarter all but helpless before a handful of armed thugs.

FOOTBALL TRAGEDIES

A very sane young professor of journalism at U.S.C. says we are taking football too seriously. And he is right.

If a young boy in a football suit muffs a slippery ball tossed to him in the middle of a wild scrimmage, he is made by the public to feel that Benedict Arnold was a virtuous character compared with his black iniquity.

SAVING THE MISSIONS

The State Chamber of Commerce has at last realized the importance of the old missions as a tourist attraction. It is no use to ask tourists to come out here to look at the thermometer and whoop over our weather. You gotta show them something.

There are two missions badly in need of immediate help. The termites are in the rafters of San Miguel near Paso Robles and a heavy storm would finish San Antonio de Padua at Jolon; San Antonio is the third and one of the loveliest.

CHURCH GROUND BROKEN

Seven Hundred See Ceremony Marking Start on New Congregational Edifice

Ground was broken yesterday afternoon at Sixth street, Commonwealth avenue and Hoover street, the site where the new First Congregational Church will be erected at a cost of $750,000. Dr. Carl S. Patton, pastor, turned the first shovel of earth after building program directors had loosened a plot with picks.

The new edifice is expected to be ready for occupancy by Christmas, 1931. It will be erected on the $300,000 plot of ground, donated to the church by Mrs. Clara Shatto.

Nearly 700 persons attended yesterday's celemonies. Those on the platform from which the ceremonies were conducted included Dr. Patton, E. P. Clark, member of the board of trustees when the church's present edifice was erected at 845 South Hope street; Miss Mary Scott, daughter of the woman in whose local home the church was organized sixty-five years ago; David Allison, architect; Charles E. Richards, who will direct construction; George W. Prince, Jr., chairman of the present board of trustees, and Mark Davids, chairman of the building committee.

The church choir appeared on the program. Besides the groundbreaking a prayer and hymn completed the ceremony.

The new temple will include an auditorium with seating capacity of 1600—the present membership of the church. Sunday-school rooms will accommodate 800 persons. The structure, facing on Commonwealth avenue, will be of Gothic architecture with a tall tower.

First Congregational Church is one of the city's oldest religious institutions and Dr. Patton one of Los Angeles' leading pastors.

He was pastor for nine years, beginning in 1917, left his pastorate to take a professorship at Chicago Theological Seminary and recently was recalled to the local pulpit.

LOUIS M. COLE HONORED AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

Memory of the late Louis M. Cole, Los Angeles financier and philanthrophist, whose death occurred in September, was eulogized yesterday at a memorial service at the synagogue of the Hebrew Sheltering Home for the Aged at 325 South Boyle avenue. Scores of personal friends and representatives of more than a dozen societies in which he was interested during his life time were present.

Marco R. Newmark presided as chairman and in his introductory remarks voiced an appreciation of the kindness and loyalty of Mr. Cole, which was echoed by all the speakers. First on the program was Abraham Mark, president of the Sheltering Home Association, who told of the help that had been extended this institution by the one whom they were honoring. Judge Harry A. Hollzer made a few remarks in which he gave his appreciation of the character of Mr. Cole. Rabbi S. M. Neches told of the work among those of his race which had endeared Mr. Cole to them. He declared that his aid had brought many from the depths of despair and that his financial help had always been extended, not only to those of his own, but to all races.

TRAFFIC TAKES TWO LIVES

Five Others Expected to Die of Injuries Received in Week-End Auto Accidents

One man was injured fatally yesterday, one died from injuries received several days ago and five were hurt so severely that death is expected, as the result of traffic accidents here.

F. Page Wright, 25 years of age, 1081 North St. Andrews Place, died at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital from a depressed skull fracture received in a collision at Country Club Drive and Norton avenue yesterday afternoon. Richard Everitt, 980 South Manhattan street, was the driver of the second car. He was questioned by police but was not held.

Edward Brooks, 79, of 1122 South Decotah street, died at the General Hospital yesterday morning from injuries received in traffic the 19th inst. The body was taken to the County Morgue.

Sidney Levington, 6, received injuries from which he is expected to die, and his mother, Mrs. Edith Levington, 3414 Brooklyn avenue, suffered a broken shoulder when the two were struck at Mott street and Brooklyn avenue by a car driven by Jesus Mendosa, 2873 Marengo street. The child suffered a skull fracture and a crushed chest, surgeons at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital said.

E. Erskin McLeod, 28, a portrait painter, received probable fatal injuries when he drove his automobile into a Pacific Electric car at Taft street and Hollywood Boulevard last night. McLeod, who lives at 716 North Western avenue was attempting to avoid colliding with another automobile when the accident occurred, according to witnesses. He was taken to the Hollywood Emergency Hospital where it was announced he may die.

Frank Basitien, 40, of 3211 London street, was struck down in front

Wife Returning From Trip Finds Husband Murdered

POLICE UNABLE TO FIX MOTIVE

Victim Apparently Beaten to Death in Fight

Broken Candlesticks and Bottle Only Clews

Friends Testify to Recent Heavy Drinking

With two shattered glass candleholders, a broken milk bottle and several gray hairs as the only clews, police last night were searching for the slayer of John H. Bernhagen, 50 years of age, found beaten to death in his apartment at 1917 South Vermont avenue early yesterday morning.

Preliminary investigation resulted in the belief that Bernhagen was slain as the climax to a drunken fight. Acquaintances declared, according to Captain of Detectives Miller, that he had been drinking heavily for several days recently. An empty bottle which Miller said had contained whisky was found in the apartment.

WIFE FINDS BODY

Otherwise the motive for the murder and the possible identity of the slayer are a mystery. Discovery of the crime was made by Mrs. Bernhagen shortly after midnight when she returned from a journey to Salt Lake City, where she had gone to attend the funeral of her mother.

Mrs. Bernhagen, according to Capt. Miller, found her husband sitting on a cedar chest with his back leaning against a wall. At first she thought he was asleep, but observing blood on his head and clothes, and failing to arouse him, she at once notified police.

Capt. Miller, and Detective Lieutenants Condaffer and Ryan arrived on the scene and found the walls and floor of the apartment spattered with blood, indicating a terrific struggle. An ambulance surgeon pronounced Bernhagen dead.

In the dining-room of the apartment the detectives found the broken milk bottle and the shattered candle-holders. Either one or the other, Miller believes, was used by the slayer in the fatal beating.

DRUNKARDS CHECKED

Working on the theory that the death of the man was the result of a drunken fight Capt. Miller at once checked all persons arrested for drunkenness during the night, but reported no suspects were found.

Bernhagen, according to Miller's report, arriving in Salt Lake City twenty-five years ago from Germany, left there recently after trading farm property for a bungalow court here. This venture failed and Bernhagen was making a living selling fertiliser.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Bernhagen departed for Salt Lake City, where her mother died. She returned yesterday to make the gruesome discovery of her husband's murder.

"I had wired him that I would arrive at midnight," she said, according to Miller. "When he was not at the bus depot to meet me I checked my grips and took a street car home, and then I found him there on the cedar chest."

Acquaintances of Bernhagen stated he had been drinking during his wife's absence and had often remarked that he was unable to make enough money to provide her and himself with a proper living.

GIRLS BANQUET GRID TEAM

Loyola High Athletes Honor Guests

Daisy Lopez and Barbara Gerardi

They had leading parts in fete for undefeated football team.

PROUD of the undefeated football team of the Loyola High School, a Catholic boys' institution, student-body officers and faculty members of the athletic association of the Immaculate Heart High School, a Catholic girls' institution, have been making much ado over the feat of the Lion team members. As part of the reward, a banquet, with the football boys as honor guests, was given at the Beverly Hills Hotel. More than sixty of the leading members of the girls' school and several of the faculty members of both institutions were in attendance.

Barbara Gerardi, student-body executive of the girls' school, presided. Daisy Lopez, president of the Athletic Association of the Immaculate Heart High School, as well as coaches and faculty members of the two schools spoke.

in the regions beyond the reach of telescopes, creation must extend to the distance he set. More directly, he arrived at his estimate through the supposition that if creation extended farther, the amount of light received from the sky by the earth would be more than is the case, and that if creation is smaller than his estimate, the volume of light would be less than the earth now receives.

Equipped with the Rayton lens, the Mt. Wilson telescope has peered millions of light years farther into the heavens than would have been possible without the attachment.

MOST DISTANT OBJECT

The most distant observed object in the heavens is a star cluster, the spectrum of which has been photographed with the new lens. Located in Ursa Major, this nebula is so far from the earth that it would require 80,000,000 years for its light to reach the earth at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, indicating that the light which was recorded on the photographic plate started on its race 80,000,000 years ago. Despite the apparent enormous distance of this nebula, it actually is only in the earth's front yard when placed in its proper position in Dr. Hubble's gigantic creation.

When the new lens is used with the 200-inch telescope, astronomers believe it may be possible to triple the present observable regions by photographing the spectra of nebulae at least 240,000,000 light years away.

NEW SPEED RECORD

The Ursa Major cluster appears to be shooting away from the earth at the rate of 8000 miles a second, the fastest known speed of any celestial body, and a speed which could not have been clocked without the high-speed Rayton lens. The best previous speed of a heavenly body recorded by a spectrographic camera used in connection with the world's largest telescope was 2400 miles a second.

"The exposure time required to photograph this Ursa Major cluster," asserted Humason, "was forty-five hours. With previous lenses the exposure time would have been more than 100 hours.

"The negatives prove that the spectrogram taken with the new camera is vastly superior in definition and density to that photographed with the old lens."

In view of the fact that three-fourths of the Mount Wilson Observatory research requires the use of a spectroscope equipped with a camera fitted with a fast lens, and that practically all the 200-inch observatory research will be spectroscopic in nature, the importance of Mr. Rayton's contribution to astronomy scarcely can be overemphasized, according to local scientists.

with him in Chamber of Commerce work, said he was a real leader of the community and that he measured full-sized to every requirement and requisite of a friend and good citizen.

Judge William Rhodes Hervey told of his work in the Shrine and in the Masonic order. He told of his financing and building of the great Shrine Auditorium while he was Potentate. He also recited his loyalty and devotion to the principles of Masonry.

Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin said that all the tributes paid him by the Red Cross, by the Masons, by the churches and by the organizations in which he was active were overshadowed by the quality of friendship which was peculiarly his. He said there was a bigness about him that made him a child of destiny. He declared that he had left his friends a book—the book of his life, and that every page was filled with a record of good deeds and of kindliness.

Representatives of the Jonathan Club, the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the Produce Exchange, the Chamber of Commerce, the Masonic order, the Red Cross Society, the Uplifters Club, the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association and many Jewish societies were in attendance.

Examination Set in Child's Death

A post-mortem examination of the body of 2-year-old Alicia Pizano, assertedly the victim of a fall from an automobile, will be conducted today at the County Morgue to determine the exact cause of her death.

Meanwhile the mother, Mrs. Custodia Pizano Murillo Basquez, 33 years of age, and the stepfather, Joe Basquez, 29, are held by orders of the Sheriff's homicide detail for questioning as to the circumstances surrounding the child's death. They are booked on a charge of suspicion of murder and Deputy Sheriffs Morrel and Penprase are conducting a thorough investigation. They say the child was injured when she fell out of a car in which the three were riding.

Examination of the body is said to have revealed numerous bruises and lacerations, but it had not been determined yesterday whether such injuries could have been fatal.

ROBBERS MAKE RICH SEIZURES

Nearly $10,000 in Jewels, Furs and Cash Stolen

One Woman Loses $6250 in Valuables to Bold Pair

Fifteen Hold-ups Reported in Week-End Crime Orgy

Executed with boldness and dispatch, two robberies resulting in loss to the victims of gems and apparel valued at $7500 and $95 in cash stood out as the major incidents of the week-end's orgy of crime, police reported yesterday, swelling to fifteen the total number of hold-ups reported throughout the city. The other jobs netted the marauding gunmen almost $2100 in cash and jewelry.

Mrs. A. L. Doudy of 428 South Mariposa avenue was the victim of the principal diamond robbery. Two youthful bandits, she told police, entered her home while she was alone early Saturday night. One kept her covered with his pistol while the other, wearing white gloves as a precaution against leaving fingerprints, roamed about the dwelling, ransacking it of furs and jewelry worth $6250. After placing the plunder in two shopping bags the intruders bound and gagged Mrs. Doudy and fled. She was released a short time later by a friend.

ACCOSTED AT GARAGE

In the other outstanding stick-up, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Knoth of 1118 South Shenandoah avenue were victimized by two men of $1250 in gems, $95 in cash and their automobile. They were held up as they placed their car in the garage.

"Keep quiet and you won't get hurt!" one of the pair warned. He then took the money from Knoth's pocket and inquired, "Where's the ice?"

"You mean jewelry?" countered Knoth. "We have none."

"Oh, you ain't, eh?" grinned the bandit. "Well, we cased this joint and we're here to get it."

AUTO SEIZED

The two then forced Knoth and his wife into the house and threatened them with death, whereupon Mrs. Knoth produced her gems. The bandits then went to the garage, seized Knoth's automobile and drove away.

A woman described by her victims as particularly good looking assisted two bandits in holding up R. E. Bevam, clerk in the Gaylord Apartments at 3355 Wilshire Boulevard, and the Morlee Pharmacy at 8054 West Third street.

The trio entered the exclusive Wilshire Apartments together. Bevam was alone in the lobby. The men instantly produced pistols and forced the clerk into a small closet. At the same time the woman rifled the cash register of $10. Then they fled.

Half an hour later they appeared at the pharmacy. One of the men entered first and ordered a cupful of chocolate from Morris Goldstein. A few moments later he was followed by his companion and the woman. While the men watched the druggist and the front door the woman took $171 from the cash register. Goldstein saw them depart in an automobile. He described the woman as being about 25 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height, 130 pounds in weight, and dressed attractively in a blue coat with a fur collar over a dark dress, and a black turban hat of fashionable cut.

Given no warning, J. W. Gray of 304 East Fifth street was struck down from behind by two bandits as he passed an alley near Seventh and Main streets. As he lay in a semiconscious condition the bandits took $15 from his pockets.

If there was any humor in the situation the joke was on the three bandits who held up W. R. Sterling in a parking station at Seventh street and Maple avenue. After taking the trouble to bind and gag Sterling with adhesive tape the bandits fled with a bill fold, which Sterling told police contained no money.

CAFE ROBBED

Working alone, a bandit made a more remunerative raid in the Lucky Spot Cafe at 4363 Crenshaw Boulevard. Leveling a revolver at Mrs. Burke Malin he forced her to give him $112 from the cash register.

The departure of three bandits from a service station at 496 North Alvarado street after they had robbed J. Johah of $60 was hastened when Johah emptied a revolver at their automobile. None of the shots took effect, however, and the bandits made their escape.

A lone bandit who held up Charles B. Martinez of 3171 Folsom street got only his victim's hat. Martinez reported the bandit climbed in his automobile when he stopped for a traffic signal at Twenty-first and Santee streets and promptly transferred the hat to his own head. The bandit, sitting in the rear seat, ordered him to drive to Avalon Boulevard and Vernon avenue. Here, just as he was about to search his victim, the latter swung on him suddenly and knocked him from the machine. Several passers-by ran toward the scene and the bandit fled, still wearing Martinez's hat.

CONFEDERATE NEAR BY

The same bandit is believed to have robbed M. F. Veston of 1412 Tenth Place of $7 when Neston stopped for a traffic signal at Tenth and Alvarado streets. This time he was followed by a confederate in another machine in which he made his escape.

Dick Oliver was robbed of $60 by a lone bandit in the Union Oil Company station at Washington Boulevard and Los Angeles street.

Earl Freemeyer was robbed of $6 and then locked in a closet by another bandit in the Brown & Hatton garage at 151 North Vermont avenue.

Mack Diamond lost $25 to two bandits who held him up in the Van Fleet & Durkee service station at 2401 Whittier Boulevard.

Herman Rosenblatz was locked in a small room after being robbed of $15 in his tailor shop at 2321 West Pico Boulevard.

HUNDREDS WILL GO TO INAUGURAL

Special Southern Pacific Train to Leave Here for Sacramento January 4

Hundreds of citizens from all over Southern California planning to participate in the inaugural ceremonies for Governor-elect Rolph in Sacramento will leave Los Angeles on special Southern Pacific trains on the night of January 4.

Arrangements for train reservations are being made by a committee under the chairmanship of Al G. Faulkner, whose offices are at 714 South Hill street. Reservations, which provide for special low railroad rates for train accommodations, may be made by telephoning Faulkner's office, FAber 3221.

Faulkner said last night that at the request of Governor-elect Rolph all events in connection with the three-day inaugural ceremonies will be free to the public. He said the special train will leave here with from three to five sections, according to the number of applications being made for reservations from all of the southern counties. These low rates provide for sleeping accommodations on the Pullman cars while in Sacramento.

Represented on the train will be Orange county with Phil Stanton, Joe Burke, William Schumacher; Santa Monica, Mayor Michel, Austin McFadden and others; Long Beach, Lieutenant-Governor-elect and Mrs. Merriam, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jergins, Mayor Fickling, former Mayor Hauge, William Prisk, City Manager Lewis, Walter R. Fleming and others; Riverside county, Frank Tetley, who was recently appointed highway commissioner by Rolph, Will C. Marsh, I. W. Logan and others; Santa Barbara county, Harry Harris and a delegation; San Diego county, J. V. Alexander, George A. Sample and others. In addition there will be large representations from Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties.

Sixty Children Soon Will Give Romantic Play

Sixty children will present "Natalie, the Neapolitan," a musical play, at the Wilshire-Ebell Theater Friday night, January 2. The play is a romantic fantasy in which gypsies, fairies and the nobility of several nations appear as characters.

All of the children are nonprofessional and the leading parts are played by Catherine Kennedy as Prince Le Normand, DeeDee Frances as Natalie, the kidnaped princess, and Betsie Stewart as Titania, queen of the fairy court. One of the features is the baby ballet whose members are Dorothy Sheldon, Marie Baccola, Patty Beems, Madeline Harris, Marie Snell, Peggy Wood, Mary Lampman, Patty O'Neil, Beryl Clair, Mary Ann Jackson, Marylyn Speas and Marylyn Raymond. The children are being trained by Elise Schuyler Garrett.

SMOKE TREE RANCH
PALM SPRINGS CALIFORNIA
SIM CRABILL says:
The basic principles of salesmanship apply whether you're selling hardware or locomotives. And it's the same with advertising because advertising is simply salesmanship in print.
Last week you saw a folder we printed for a bakery concern; above is a somewhat similar folder selling the benefits of a vacation at Smoke Tree Ranch, near Palm Springs. It's a big jump from do-nuts to dude ranches, but the same advertising principles apply to each. Where it's impractical actually to "show your goods" to the prospective customer, the next best thing is to give him an attractive description through type and illustrations. And the impression your prospective customer gets depends largely upon your printer. It pays to employ craftsmen who specialize in planning and producing successful direct advertising.

Business sessions will be held on Saturday and final assembly will be held Wednesday, the 31st inst., at the Coliseum.

YOUTH JAILED FOR TAMPERING WITH CAR

An empty automobile was parked near the corner of Adams street and Vermont avenue and so Robert E. Smith, 23 years of age, of 331 East Ninety-seventh street, climbed into the driver's seat and attempted to drive it. The car belonged to Police Officer H. W. Mack, the latter testified in Municipal Judge Thompson's traffic court. Mack had crossed the street to purchase some flowers, he said. He returned to ask Smith what he was doing and when he asked for the latter's driver's license was answered with a blow in the face, he testified. Smith was placed under arrest on charges of tampering with an automobile. He was found guilty and sent to jail for ninety days by Judge Thompson.

COUNTY'S HEALTH FINE; WEATHER GIVEN CREDIT

With the majority of communicable diseases remaining well below seasonal expectancy, Los Angeles county continued its high health record throughout November and the first half of December, it is stated in a report of County Health Officer Pomeroy.

Influenza prevalence in the county is but a fraction of the usual number of cases, says the report. This is believed to be due to the clear and warm weather thus far enjoyed this year.

As computed from an average of the last five years, diphtheria is but 50 per cent of seasonal expectancy and chickenpox is 10 per cent below normal. Smallpox is comparatively rare, while measles has shown a tendency to increase.

Infantile paralysis has receded to three or four cases a week, and is characterized as an aftermath of last summer's outbreak.

Increase in the number of cases of undulant fever and tuberculosis reported is attributed by the health official to more efficient means of diagnosis now in use rather than to a greater prevalence of the diseases.

Beach-Cleaning Permit Granted

An application by O. L. Johnson for permission to clean the public beach from the Venice Pier south to Avenue 32 and from Avenue 64 south to Del Rey, with a screen, in return for which he is entitled to retain all coins, jewelry and other valuables dropped or lost by beach patrons, has been approved by the Playground and Recreation Commission, on recommendation of Supt. Hoyt.

Johnson, according to Hoyt, has a similar permit to screen the sands of the Santa Monica Beach and reports that his services have been satisfactory to that community. The board already has granted a permit to another applicant to screen the beach between Venice and Santa Monica piers.

Corner-stone of New Episcopal Church Placed

With Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens of the Los Angeles Episcopal diocese officiating, the corner-stone of the proposed $100,000 St. Thomas Episcopal Church at Hollywood Boulevard and Gardner street was laid yesterday.

DEATH SUSPECT TO FACE COURT

Mother Will Be Arraigned Today in Slaying of Son

Long Sleeve Serves to Link Her With Fatal Shooting

Arrest Result of Recitals by Guests at Tragic Party

Accused of slaying her own son, Mrs. Rosa Tarlazzi is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Wood for arraignment on a murder charge today.

Mrs. Tarlazzi's arrest and prosecution is a result of the stories of witnesses who attended a party at her home at 1145 Los Palos street on November 15, last. According to Miss Ruth Biescar, Frank Tarlazzi, the victim, quarreled with his mother early in the evening.

Later, the witness said, Mrs. Tarlazzi and her daughter-in-law, Dorothy Tarlazzi, went into the bedroom and the girl was heard to exclaim: "Mother, what are you doing? Put that down. Are you trying to hurt some one?"

Then a woman's arm covered by a long sleeve, was thrust through the darkened doorway and a revolver spat death. Frank Tarlazzi was fatally wounded. But, according to Miss Biescar, when the shot was fired another woman's hand was grasping the arm of the slayer, trying to avert the tragedy. This arm was sleeveless.

Officers assert that Mrs. Rosa Tarlazzi was the only woman at the party wearing long sleeves and charged her with the murder.

DIME-MURDER HUSBAND GOES TO TRIAL TODAY

Emory Ells, charged with hiring Benjamin F. Brown to kill his estranged wife, Merle Ells, on an installment-plan payment agreement, is expected to go to trial before Superior Judge McComb today. Brown, who was indicted as a codefendant with Ells, will not go to trial until January 12, 1931. Meanwhile alienists are attempting to establish his sanity.

Investigators assert that Brown went to Mrs. Ells's home at 323 East Ninety-ninth street on the night of November 2, last, and shot her to death with a shotgun. Her young son, sleeping in the same bed, was uninjured.

In a confession attributed to Brown by the police, the suspect is credited with saying that Ells hired him to kill his wife so that he might regain custody of their child. In return for the crime Brown was to receive $2000, but obtained only twenty-two dimes as a down payment, according to his asserted confession.

Two to Plead on Raising Bills

Having been indicted on a charge of raising $1 bills to $10, two men, Fernando R. Avila and Martin Flores, are to appear today before United States District Judge James for arraignment and entry of plea.

The two are said to be members of a ring of Mexicans who have been carrying on a widespread campaign of raising bills. They are being held under bail.

Sue Carol and Husband Sued by Architect

Sue Carol, film actress and her husband, Nick Stuart, actor, are named defendants in a suit for $150 filed against them in Municipal Judge Chambers's court by Ray J. Kieffer, architect.

Kieffer asserts that he was retained several months ago to draw plans for remodeling the film couple's Hollywood home. He asks remuneration for drafting sketches, two water color pictures, eight hours' work measuring the home and obtaining data relative to the proposed improvements and six hours' consultation at $4 an hour. An answer denying that the services were performed has been filed. Judge Chambers has set April 23, 1931, as the date for trial.

BERNARD'S CASE UP TO JURY TODAY

Former Chief of Police of Culver City Soon to Learn Fate on Bribe Charge

Superior Judge Craig today will give to the jury the matter of determining the guilt or innocence of Macy O. Bernard, former acting police chief of Culver City, being tried on five counts of bribery. Final arguments were concluded Friday afternoon, when the case was continued until this morning.

Bernard is accused of demanding and receiving bribes in return for "police protection" to a liquor-law violator. His chief accuser, Harry A. Howard, testified that he gave Bernard four bribes of $100 and one $250 pay-off for "protection" of a still and a restaurant where liquor was sold. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kearney prosecuted the case, and Attorney Clare Woolwine and James T. Hogan appeared for the defendant.

WIFE CHARGES DRUNKENNESS

Fear that her husband would come home intoxicated continually prevented her from asking friends to their house, Mrs. Grace Burger asserted in asking for a divorce from Calvin Nathaniel Burger. They married at Ocean Park, July 5, 1923, and separated July 18, last. Superior Judge Westover granted her a divorce.

Today's Bible Text

Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear Him, both small and great.—Rev. xix:5.

SOCIAL EUPHEMISM

We judge from reports of the Shepard trial that the term "polyneuritic alcoholic psychosis" would sound much more refined in society circles than plain "D. T.'s"

SCIENTIFIC PEACEMAKER

Whether we have any mental picture of Einstein's time-space theory or not, most of us can understand his very clear hypothesis of the subject of Hitler and Mussolini, and give him a relatively hearty welcome on that score.

MUST LOOK ELSEWHERE

No, that mysterious shaking of the earth's crust, as recorded by the Harvard seismographic station, was not caused by the hearty cheers of American labor in response to the soviet's invitation to "join the brotherhood."

SNAKES ALIVE!

Had it not been for the fact that the apprehension of The Man in the Green Hat was reported some time ago, we would not have wondered at the trepidation displayed by members of a Congressional committee when Ruth Bryan Owen dangled a five-foot king snake in front of their eyes.

DIVINING "EXPERTS"

Strong Man Swoboda may have faith in his human "divining rod" but most of us will stick to the geologists, or sympathize with the oil man who had just brought in a dry well. He had taken a "tip" on the location of black gold from a fellow with a divining contraption and his conclusion was, "Believe me, the only oil expert is the point of a drill."

FACT AND FANCY

Thomas A. Edison's word picture of the pale-faced, shabbily dressed women who fought with saloonkeepers for a share of the weekly wage, unknown since prohibition, is much more terrifying than Mr. Hearst's "temperance" propaganda showing wealthy gangsters killing each other over the business of selling booze to people who can afford to buy it.

HOW DOES BRAZIL DO IT?

It would look as if our crime suppressers and penologists might learn something about the handling of criminals by "rolling down to Rio" and studying sociological conditions in Brazil. There they would see the largest State in South America, exceeding the size of continental United States, exclusive of Alaska, by 250,000 square miles, free from racketeering, gangster warfare and organized crime, while at the same time there is very little robbery or murder, even in Rio de Janeiro, with its 2,000,000 people.

Americans have been told over and over again that one of the greatest crime factors in their country is the alien immigrant. But in proportion to its population, about 40,000,000, one-third that of the United States, our Latin neighbor has let in a far greater number of immigrants from all over the world in recent years than we have and while Brazil has retained most of them many of ours have left the country. If immigrants were coming to America at the same rate that they are pouring into Brazil, in proportion to population, we should be getting in at least 450,000 a year, while the latest report shows that the number is about 280,000.

Brazil has become a new melting pot. People have been migrating there from Italy, Germany, France, Scandinavia, Bulgaria, Turkey and other countries in large numbers, but instead of introducing a crime problem they seem to have added a strong and influential element to the population. Formerly there were less than 100,000 non-Catholics in the country, but now there are many more, and yet the unity of feeling, all things considered, is remarkably strong.

There are many uneducated people in Brazil. There is much poverty there and much discontent, due to unemployment and other causes. Why, then, with these adverse conditions, should there be so much less crime than in our country? It cannot be because Brazil has no capital punishment or because military service is compulsory. But there is a reason, and it would be worth our while to ascertain it.

A SUBJECT FOR STUDY

Among the tasks which the new Legislature should undertake, or at least start to undertake, is a study of the whole subject of the State regulation of those classes of business in which some degree of governmental oversight has come, correctly or not, to be regarded as necessary.

Unlike many government functions, the function of regulation cannot be conducted in a slipshod manner. It is not the case that poor regulation is better than no regulation, as poor police protection, for example, is better than no police protection. Poor regulation of business is much more mischievous than none, since it hampers and restricts legitimate enterprise, while rascality and thievery are not in the least controlled. And it is, of course, rascality and thievery at which regulation is aimed.

One question which might well be studied in this connection is some method of obtaining co-ordination between the now separate State departments dealing with business matters. There is a State Corporation Commission, a State Banking Commission and a State Commission of Building and Loan Associations, each theoretically supreme in a separate field; and yet in modern complexity of organization, the fields are not actually separate but blend one into the other. Then there is the State Railroad Commission, which in some matters overlaps the jurisdiction of some of the other commissions.

Aside from the inconvenience caused by hazy and overlapping jurisdiction, which results at times in double and conflicting regulation, this separation results in inequality of treatment. Thus there might be a strong and able head of the banking department, and at the same time weak management of the other commissions which would undo much of the good that a strong banking commissioner could accomplish.

California has either not had in some years a really energetic and competent corporation commissioner, or the "blue sky" law cannot be successfully administered by anybody, since as a preventer of fraud the department has been woefully lacking. How inadequate to protect depositors has been the State Building and Loan Commissioner, the Beesemyer defalcations gave eloquent testimony, as the Julian frauds indicted the corporation department or law, whichever was at fault.

If there were none of this regulation in existence, the public would be on notice to guard its own money. As matters stand, the State is put in the equivocal position of pretending to take precautions which, when put to the test, prove to be no safeguard.

There seems no valid objection to combining, for a starter, the Banking Commission with the Building and Loan Commission. The same sort of inspections are indicated in both; the man who understands one set of books can understand the other; the same dangers arise in either; and if both were under the same State direction it probably would be advantageous to both and both could be made equally safe.

It occasionally needs to be emphasized that no State can guarantee its citizens against failures of State banks. Various schemes for the insurance of bank deposits have been advanced and some of them have been tried, invariably without success. Usually all the banks are assessed to make up the insurance fund, which penalizes the sound, well-managed institutions, while it is poor management that ought to be penalized. In no case has the fund proved sufficient. Inspection and rigid enforcement of safeguarding laws are unquestionably beneficial, when efficient, preventing the development of conditions leading to failure, but no system of inspection works 100 per cent.

The system in California has its defects and can be improved, and possibly the grouping of all the regulatory functions together would be an improvement. It goes without saying that merit and fitness, and not politics, should be the guide in appointments to the regulatory commissions. After all, it is the men who administer the system, and not the system itself, which counts for the most.

STAR OF BETHLEHEM

Hollywood has her movie stars and Mt. Wilson, its galaxies of the universe. And now comes Los Angeles with the Star of Bethlehem standing over her towers of trade and homes.

The original Star of Bethlehem may not have been hung in the sky by the Chamber of Commerce of that little sheep town south of Jerusalem, but the light over the Angel City will be swung into its orbit by our local organization.

A huge, high-candle-power electric lamp will be suspended aloft to light a vagrant world. Some may accuse it of crass advertising; but multitudes of men will catch the spirit of it. It would be difficult to employ anything more seasonal, picturesque and inspiring.

With Christmas carols ringing in the streets at every intersection and trees bearing their strange fruitag of gifts and gewgaws, there is little left but a star. But the Star of Bethlehem is the most thrilling of them all. And Wise Men of the West will follow the gleam. Westward the Star of Bethlehem wends its way.

It ought to have a subduing influence upon vice and crime. It ought to furnish enthusiasm to help the weak and protect the life of all.

There may have been blind who could not see the star 2000 years ago. Some will see but electric light over Los Angeles on Christmas Eve. But multitudes will look beyond.

HOYLE OR HYMEN

Undoubtedly something ought to be done to keep the good ship Marriage from foundering. Of the fifty-five weddings of film folk of Hollywood in 1929, but thirty-four have weathered the gale.

A back-East teacher suggests a course in the school curriculum to instruct youngsters in the art of picking husbands and wives. He would teach gentlemen how to prefer blonds and advise tow-heads in the selection of brunettes. A semester for proposing should prove popular.

And yet when a man becomes enamored of a maid, parents, nor professors, nor preachers, nor judges, nor phrenologists, nor sociologists seem able to bring him to his senses. The well-meaning pedagogue may strive to eliminate emotion from marriage; but there is a grave quetsion whether the race would have it so. Even the oldsters would balk at such modernism.

Affection with reason may be ideal; but it seems difficult to secure the proper proportions, according to Hoyle or Hymen. So we continue to make a mess of it.

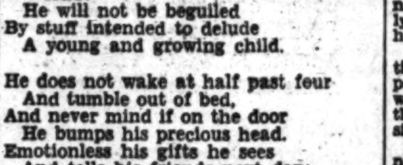
Nature's plan for letting us fall into love is hard to beat. And if mates really love each other, you cannot separate them. Too often money and position enter into the connubial contract.

Engineering may be good for highways; but bossy engineers fail in love. If a professor can bring in a new model that will work, it will have a great run on the matrimonial market. Otherwise let him forever hold his peace.

No matter how many standards we set up for the boys and girls to go by, that is likely what they will do—go by!

SAHARA

The Sahara is to be irrigated so that it will produce enough food to feed all Europe. Some of those sheiks of the desert must have taken time off from Hollywood and inspected our Imperial Valley.



THE ANNUAL DELUSION

By James J. Montague

Small joy, as Christmas closer draws,
Has little Junior Smith;
He knows the talk of Santa Claus
Is just a silly myth.
Such tales, he thinks, are cheap and crude—
He will not be beguiled
By stuff intended to delude
A young and growing child.

He does not wake at half past four
And tumble out of bed,
And never mind if on the door
He bumps his precious head.
Emotionless his gifts he sees
And tells his friends next day:
"I'm sure that Mater bought my skis
And Pater brought my sleigh."

When now and then the kids next door,
Who were not wisely taught,
Exhibit happily the store
That Santa Claus has brought,
It makes poor little Junior grieve,
It pains him through and through,
To know that children can believe
A thing that is not true.

Perhaps in very early youth
An urchin ought to yearn
To know as much of hidden truth
As men can hope to learn,
Perhaps one should revere a lad
Whose views are wise and sound,
But I am glad I never had
A kid like that around.

THE LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

Not Faultfinders

An eating place on San Fernando Road bears the name of Mother's Cubbard, and it's surprising how many motorists drive past it every day without proofreading the sign.

Grown-up Children

Friend Leeway: On Broadway yesterday, I found it doubly hard fighting my way through the crowd in front of one big department store. I h'isted myself on tiptoes and saw that the window before which people were packed contained an elaborate toy railroad, on which several trains were speeding in an endless circle. It was a toy intended to gladden the hearts of kiddies and it certainly was getting a lot of attention. But, by golly, when I looked around I couldn't see a kiddie anywhere except away back on the fringes of the crowd, where they couldn't see at all. The grown-ups had crowded them all out.

It reminded me of when dad took me to see the circus parade. If dad hadn't been bowlegged I wouldn't have known what an elephant looked like 'till long afterward.—Mac.

Betty, Mona and Sally write us along the same line. "All the window-shopping fun the children get," they assert, "is like the horse in horse-radish."

But there are two sides to even that. We once let our twenty-mule team quartet get pasted to a show window in front of one of those displays and had to call out the fire department to pry them loose.

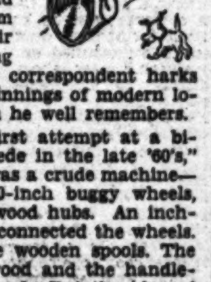
Firemen Forsake Checkers!

Join the fire department and be well read.

The Los Angeles Public Library is doing its bit to make every engine house a reading center, and the books placed in the stations are proving so popular that checkers, cards and other pastimes are neglected, and when an alarm sounds the hardy fire fighters hastily stick bookmarks into the volumes they have been holding before laying them down. Mystery stories, travel, outdoor, adventure and science books are most popular, though the ninety titles dealing seriously with fire problems are much in demand. The records of the library's stations service show that our firemen have read 33,000 books since this service was established not long ago.

Lots of Progress, But No More Fun

The world do move, and a letter from C. A. D., Banning, reminds us how rapidly it moves in the matter of transportation. Now that airplanes bound to and from Palm Springs whir over Banning every day, our correspondent harks back to the beginnings of modern locomotion, which he well remembers.



"I rode the first attempt at a bicycle or velocipede in the late '60's," he writes. "It was a crude machine—made of two 30-inch buggy wheels, steel tires and wood hubs. An inch-square iron bar connected the wheels. The pedals were wooden spools. The saddle was of wood and the handlebars a straight rod. But the idea of the bicycle, from which the idea of the automobile grew, was there. My next experience was with what was known as the kicker. The saddle was in the middle of the top of the frame connecting the wheels, and you straddled that and kicked your way along. Next, an English-made vehicle came on the market. It had a 30-inch rear wheel and two 20-inch front wheels. I bought my wife one, and for a time she was the only woman rider in the town. The vehicle, with a huge wheel in front and a little wheel behind, also tempted me, and what a header a man could take from one of those! That was why they called the low bicycles 'safeties'—you couldn't commit suicide by falling off of one. I bought one of the first of the old Columbia safeties—it weighed 125 pounds. I used to ride that bike as much as 100 miles on Sundays and thought it a lot of fun."

To think that one of our neighbors who once rode a "kicker" may live to see some rocketeer reach the moon.

Joshua Little Says

I can't speak with authority about the first 100 years, having lived less than half that time. But I can positively say that the first forty years are the foolishest.

A Cornell professor, talking to Northwestern University girls, told them how to pick husbands. They need to learn, all right, for some seem to think they ought to pick 'em clear down to the pinfeathers.

"Legislature for India Suggested." As if India hadn't troubles enough already.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

FIGURES WITH A MORAL

[New York Sun]

Senator Vandenberg's calculation of how representation in the House would be distributed among the several States if it were based on voting population rather than on the "whole number of persons" is of chief value as a counter-irritant.

It rests on as unrealistic and unconstitutional a basis as the proposal to exclude aliens from the count, but it serves the purpose of throwing light on the folly of this recurring suggestion. If "the final and most convincing test of a State's citizenship is found in its percentage of actual voters," then the very States which have proportionally the largest number of aliens have also the largest measure of citizenship. Reapportionment on the basis of voting population would give New York ten more members of the House than it has at present, New Jersey six more, Ohio seven more, Indiana four more, Illinois twelve more, Michigan three more and California twenty more. There would be heavy losses in the delegations from the traditionally Democratic States of the South; Virginia's delegation would be reduced from ten to four, North Carolina's from ten to seven, South Carolina's from seven to one, Georgia's from twelve to three, Tennessee's from ten to four, Alabama's from ten to three, Mississippi's from eight to two, Arkansas' from seven to two, Louisiana's from eight to three and Texas' from eighteen to eight. The total representation from these nine States would shrink from ninety members to thirty-four.

There are moments when works of pure imagination are of great value. Senator Vandenberg's fiction may bring other members of Congress back to reality.

THE NECKTIELESS GOVERNOR

[Kansas City Times]

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York assured the country immediately after the election that nothing could be further from his thoughts than any consideration of himself as the possible Democratic Presidential nominee in 1932. All he wanted and ardently hoped for was to be let alone to devote himself to his problems as Governor.

It was in stern adherence to this declaration that he addressed a gathering of hill people of Georgia Saturday night; that it was a "possum and taters" supper; and that the Governor appeared, for the first time since infancy, without a necktie.

Evidently if he had worn the customary necktie he would have choked, and could not have concentrated on the perplexing problems of the New York Governorship.

SOME WERE LATE ANYHOW

[Boston Transcript]

Times Square remains the busiest subway station in New York. During the year ending June 30, last, 95,433,063 fares were collected in the boxes and it is believed that an equal number of persons alighted there. All the public transportation lines in the city carried in that twelve months 3,358,700,000 passengers, or about twice the estimated population of the earth. Standing in line at the Times Square turnstile, allowing two feet to a passenger, they would have made a line 1,600,000 miles long, and many would have been late to work or to dinner.

PRODUCERS AND PARASITES

[Sydney Bulletin]

The Australian Labor party must cut out its old cackle about class consciousness and divide the world anew into producers and parasites. When the man engaged in productive industry realizes that he has to carry the nonproducer on his back, no matter whether the nonproducer calls himself labor or capitalist, we shall be a good deal nearer salvation.

THE WASHINGTON WASH

BY STRICKLAND GILLILAN

These are some of the things some public men and women, etc., hope to find in their stockings next Thursday morning:

Herbert Hoover, the assurance that his relief program is actually relieving some of the suffering in the country, even if the World Court participation measure should flop.

Joe Robinson, confirmation of his hope that Santy has noticed what a good boy he has been lately and will tell the next Democratic national convention about it.

Charley Michaelson, a guarantee that the same Republican will be running the next campaign.

Ruth McCormick, a man doll with red whiskers that she can pull.

Uncle Sam, a round robin signed by all the Senators, promising no extra session of Congress.

Senator Nye, a bloodhound pup, a tin badge and a pair of sneakers.

Senator Shipstead, notice of the resignation of some Republican Senator, assuring him that balance of power he had expected.

Senator Wagner, a note reading as follows: "Yes, we know you are our friend and have been working for us, faithfully.—The Unemployed."

The people of the United States, evidence that Congress realizes the seriousness and imminence as well as the insidiousness of the communistic threat, and will give it a lot of defensive attention.

There is so much hooey emanating from this whispering gallery that now and then a revealing incident tells more than carefully written "history," which often isn't history at all.

At one of those striped-pants-and-spats functions the other Sunday afternoon, somebody with a spirit of fairness remarked very kindly about Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, saying that "If Charley Curtis were to become President, that Dolly lady would make one of the most gracious and successful hostesses that great white mansion ever held." And then, the pacificatory element in the tea being strong, somebody else put in a word for Princess Alice.

• • • •

An old lady from out among the sticks and tanks visiting Washington was asked by her host what she would rather do than anything else while in this city, and she said she would be more happified by a call on "Alice Roosevelt" than by any other possibility in the District.

This friend told Alice about it and that lady at once said: "I should like very much to have her call on me. Tell her so, and to see me on such-and-such an afternoon at 4."

The next morning Mrs. Longworth called the gentleman and said: "I have a better scheme regarding this lady who wants to meet me. If you give me her address I will call on her. I believe that would perhaps give her more pleasure and I am sure it would be showing her more respect."

And the perfectly proper applause of this gracious gesture, Marietta Minnigerode Andrews, the distinguished Virginia artist and historian (who will say anything once, but is too clever and versatile to say anything twice,) said:

"Not only was that gracious of Alice—it was shrewd. That old lady from the hinterland might have had her 'sittin' britches' on and overstayed—what's that laugh at? 'Sittin' britches'? I've heard that expression all my life."

The whole country, regardless of party, rejoiced in the display of scrappiness evinced by our Quaker President recently. The country would rather follow a now-and-then pugnacious President who is now-and-then wrong than a supine one always right. Of course, the demagogues of both parties took advantage of what he blurted out and turned it into buncombe and hokum. Let alone, his statement would never have been misinterpreted by anybody. But as soon as he said what he said everybody who understands Messrs. Buncombe, Hokum & Blah, Inc., knew so well what interpretation those gentlemen would put upon it that the public anticipated the outburst that came. What the public is yelling, however, is, "Keep it up, Bert! We love you best when you fight." Nobody in his right mind has ever misunderstood the President's intentions; all that has been under suspicion was his political ability to get results along the lines of his program. Fighting will do it; for the public is always on the side of the President against the Senate, if other conditions are even halfway equal. People want to love their President and will do so on the slightest provocation.

St. Nick was dashing madly past
The White House, headed home at last
From spying out the various places
For putting smiles on children's faces.
"For years," said Nick, "no babes have dwelt Within those walls; I've always felt Reluctant to go whizzing by Without a pause"—he gave a cry
Of sheer astonishment; for lo
He saw some little children go
In at the White House open door!
He stopped and spied and found once more—
As in the days remotely past—
The White House held some "kids" at last.
Then poleward Santa took his hop
To rummage 'round his toy shop
For special gifts in generous lots
To gladden those three White House tots.

A friend speaking of the President the other day said: "Great leadership is impossible without a great following. It is possible to have a great potential leader without a sufficiently intelligent following to make the leadership noticeable. An old man who had been timber-looking and following a trap line for many years, muddling his way through the trackless forests by means of his knowledge of tree-bark, was given a fine compass. The first time he took that instrument into the woods, he was lost for a week. When they at last found him, after frantic search, he was going around in circles, utterly bewildered. 'Why didn't you consult your compass?' they asked indignantly. 'I did,' he replied, with still more indignation, 'but the damn' thing kept pointin' southwest all the time.' So intelligent leadership is useless unless it is followed."

Now for Reconstruction

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read your editorial—the "Guaranty Mess." I congratulate you on having the courage to tell the truth no matter whose toes are stepped on.

When I came to California, the Los Angeles Investment Company went to the wall and it certainly put a crimp in Los Angeles and the small cities nearby. The people lost faith in everybody and everything. It was so bad that the big men of the city felt they had to do something about it—so they organized and served without salary and saved the Los Angeles Investment Company from going absolutely to smash.

If I may, I suggest that you write another stirring editorial, and it should go on the front page in black-faced type and it should say—that in the World War that rich men in Los Angeles served the Federal government, served without salary, did the little things as well as the big, disagreeable things.

Surely the big men that did little things as well as big things for the government should be willing to do anything, and without price, for Southern California.

These men should see that the Guaranty Building and Loan Company is not looted by crooked or grasping lawyers, that all officials are weighed by a competent committee of the best men in Southern California and a thorough clean-up made.

J. W. S.

Light on Australia

SAN MARINO, Dec. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been asked by a group of people interested in trade in Australia many times, and many questions, relative to statements made by John Edwin Hogg, and published in The Times November 30.

There is much indignation at these unnecessary and uncalled-for attacks on the integrity of a valuable customer of California, and it is felt that the facts should be known.

In reference to the one statement, that of the insinuation of repudiation of debts; it may be of interest to you to read the unanimous resolution of November 12, which has just reached me here. It was announced officially by the Federal Labor Caucus that a motion denying that the Federal Labor party contemplated repudiation of national obligations in any way. It was moved by the Speaker of the House of Representatives (Mr. Makin) and seconded by Dr. Maloney. The terms of the resolution were: "This meeting of the Federal Labor party strongly deprecates and emphatically denies any suggestion of, or association with, repudiation of any financial obligations and will faithfully discharge all lawful commitments. Any attempt to construe labor's financial proposals to the contrary is false, and is designed willfully to mislead the public and to prejudice the Australian labor movement in its lawful efforts to control the financial and economic conditions of Australia in the best interests of the people of the commonwealth."

Apart from all other reasons there is one very good reason that such attacks as made by Mr. Hogg should be deprecated, and as serving no good purpose, and that is that we are consistently urged by the Department of Commerce to recognize the need of greater efforts to foreign trade as essential to this nation's welfare. Our foreign traders and bankers are quite competent to protect their interest abroad, without any calamity howling from those who do not know facts.

Pink Eggs for Europe

Tailless South American hens which lay pink eggs are to be introduced into Europe. Their eggs will be offered commercially following the recent declaration of a scientist that eggs of color are of better quality and whet the appetite quicker than white ones.

VIOR MAN OF GLADNESS, OT GRIEF, SAYS PASTOR

ine Joy Found Not in Chase f Material Pleasure, but in Christ, Sermon's Theme

[illegible] the Savior of the world as a man of transcendent [illegible] rather than a "man of sorrows," Dr. Hugh K. Walker [illegible] congregation at First Presbyterian Church yesterday that [illegible] he had only one more sermon to preach he would [illegible] the theme, "Our Lord of Joy."

[illegible] particular Christmas [illegible] is nothing for which [illegible] so intensely longs as that [illegible] gladness which would re- [illegible] human life its lost ra- [illegible] said Dr. Walker. "Never [illegible] a time when so many [illegible] in and out of the church. [illegible] so bitterly of the dull- [illegible] and dreariness of ex- [illegible] and that in spite of the [illegible] of amusement have been increased 100 fold in these modern days.

A "LOST CHORD"

"With all their seeming merriment, the true joy note is a 'lost chord,' with these pleasure-sated persons," said Dr. Walker. "Bridge and golf, the dance and motion pictures seem powerless to satisfy their craving. Some of them have fond recollections of that wonderful light that never was on sea or land, but it vanished long ago.

And just now they are seeking to recover this lost radiance as eagerly as children look for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, as untiringly as Jason sought for the golden fleece and as devoutly as the knights of old went in search of the Holy Grail. They seek and fail to find, while all the time, Jesus, our Lord of Joy, stands before them, ready to reward their quest. If they would only recognize and acknowledge His Lordship in the Realm of Joy, the lost radiance would be restored and life would become once more one grand, sweet song.

There are many reasons why the Babe of Bethlehem should be enthroned in the heart of the world—but He can produce no higher claim than that He is the Bringer of Universal Joy. That is the crown jewel upon His princely head. Strange to say that there are good people who seem to think that joy—real joy—is not a present possession; it is something that belongs to the next world. In their thought, it is the accrued interest on a life that is spent in a vale of tears. But our Lord of Joy tells us that it is primarily our portion here and now. He gives us His joy, when we give ourselves to Him.

"The Babe of Bethlehem proves His right to be called our Lord of Joy, first of all by making us sure of God. That is the one indispensable need of the soul in quest of happiness. We may be quite able to get along without some things. We can get along on a smaller income; we can get along without the social position we once enjoyed; without the comfortable and well-furnished home that once sheltered us, and a score of other material advantages that we may at one time have thought necessary to our happiness. We discover that they are not indispensable. But here is one thing that is absolutely indispensable. Without it, happiness is impossible and joy is but a dream that mocks us.

"Then, too, this Joyous Lord of ours opens up for us a richer, fuller life in countless ways. He illumines our path. He directs us into new avenues of delight. He shows us how to make the most of our chance of life. This is another need of our bewildered and downcast humanity.

"And last of all, our Lord of Joy brings to all His faithful followers that moral and spiritual enforcement which sends them forth with a new and radiant power into such fields of achievement as angels might well covet and only saints and heroes can enter. It makes of every man a real Christ-Man. We go forth on a splendid adventure, not to look out for Number One, but to help the other fellow, who may need looking after; not to make 'safety first' always our motto but to put safety last, in order to carry out some noble venture. For our Lord of Joy gives us 'the joy of battle.' The Prince of Peace points out a conquest that is an equivalent for war. He increases our courage and gives us more power over all the entrenched evils that have threatened and assailed His Kingdom of Joy. The trouble with the church of today is its joyless Christians. Let us then at this Christmas time go out from gloom to gladness and enter here and now into the joy of our Lord of Joy."

Many DOORS but only ONE Bank

CONVENIENT to your home or your place of business is a doorway to this Bank. It may be called an "Office" or it may be called a "Branch," but it is a door to the Bank...an integral part of the whole Bank, and shares equally with any and all other Branches or Offices the whole strength and protection of the institution.

To say that the strength of the whole Bank stands behind each location where we offer to do a banking business is to state merely a legal minimum. Our policies of management and direction go still further. We endeavor to provide for the patrons of even the smallest of our Branches the fullest measure possible of the many lines of service the Bank is able to render.

Use the doorway nearest and most convenient to you. Through it, wherever it may be, you enter

OFFICER MUST BE OWN 'SHINE'

All the glitter about the boots of Motorcycle Policeman Sam Gold must be the fruits of his own toil, or words to that effect, according to a mandate handed down by Superior Judge Hahn yesterday. Gold had been cited on contempt proceedings, which stated that he was $150 in arrears on his alimony to Mrs. Anna Gold. One of the items he submitted as a necessary expense was $3 monthly for boot shines.

"You'll have to do your own shining, Mr. Gold," asserted Judge Hahn. "Also I'll give you until Christmas Eve to hand Mrs Gold $150 in any kind of United States currency, and from then on you must pay her $107 each month."

Mrs. Gold won her divorce suit when she asserted Gold attempted to throw her from a hotel window in San Francisco in 1927.

DR. SHELDON SHEPARD DEFINES CHRISTMAS

"Christmas is the future casting the rays of the dawn before it," said Dr. Sheldon Shepard at the First Universalist Church yesterday.

"Christmas is the best side of all of us, revealing what we really are," said Dr. Shepard. "Christmas is the prayer of all the race, taking hold of us with a rising faith. Christmas is every person being a little more what he really wants to be. Christmas is a lens through which we see life with new detail and true perspective. Christmas is a forecast of what human relations shall be when men come to themselves."

MONEY-GRUBBERS HIT BY ERNEST CALDECOTT

Condemnation of commercialism at Christmas was voiced yesterday at First Unitarian Church by Rev. Ernest Caldecott in an address on "Jesus as Myth and as Reality." Mr. Caldecott said in part:

"Much of the New Testament record of Jesus is mythical, and from a liberal point of view it does not at all matter if it is all mythical. Man uses symbols, such as Santa Claus, God the Heavenly Father, the stork and Uncle Sam. Jesus, even if He never lived, can be a symbol of better living to us. That is not done when we try to make His name pay dividends such as is true at this time on the part of those who care nothing for righteousness but are ever ready to exploit sentiment. The Jesus, who could never have tolerated our huge profit-making, is the best till-filler at this time. It is as sacrilegious as robbing the body of a dead man. In a larger, better sense, Christmas can be universalized and made to represent the glory of childhood, thus becoming a symbol of hope, of helpfulness and of love."

AUDIENCE TAKEN BACK TO CRADLE OF CHRIST

"At the Manager of Christ" is the topic of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. J. M. Baxter at Rosewood Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Baxter said in part:

"We go back nineteen centuries and take our stand at the cradle of the Christ where the shepherds stood. We have the light of the centuries about us, so that we are able to see even more than they did. The shepherds saw one whose advent was involuntary. They saw what to them was merely a human being, but we behold Him a divine being. Here we have the embodiment of God Himself. Man demanded not an abstract God, but one who has thought and love for him. The shepherds saw one for whose coming there seemed to be but little preparation, but we see Him for whose coming the ages were getting ready. They saw one who appeared humble of circumstances, but we see Him highly exalted. The universe is His, to give, but He gives Himself."

RELIGION IS CALLED LIGHT IN DARKNESS

"Theistic Religion and Modern Thought" was the subject discussed yesterday by Rabbi Julius Leibert at Temple Emanu-El. Dr. Leibert said in part:

"There is a difference between the sciolist and the scientist. The former is content when he knows a little about everything; whereas the latter is not satisfied until he knows everything, even about the littlest things. In this sense the theist may be said to be the true scientist. He probes beyond the sphere of the senses. He pushes past the boundaries set by weight and measurement, and finds himself in a world that transcends his empirical equipment. Religion, anasmuch as it strives after transcendental values of life, is in conflict with the results of science. On the contrary, it is to science what apperception is to perception, what an explanation is to a riddle, what a lambent light is to a darkness-bound traveler."

GOOD WILL ONLY TRUE PEACE FOUNDATION

"The temple of permanent peace must be built on the foundation of good will," declared Dr. Bruce Brown in his sermon yesterday at South Park Christian Church. Dr. Brown spoke in part as follows:

"As long as nations or men hate each other there will always be found some excuse for fighting. I have learned by many sad experiences that when love is dead there is no hope of holding a home together. There can be no universal good will until national and race prejudices are broken down. This comes by the recognition of the brotherhood of the race and the fatherhood of God. The world has never known but one great life that rose serenely above all differences of class, tribe, traditions and color. As the greatest river comes from the greatest mountain, the mightiest of all thoughts, universal peace, founded upon good will among all men, came from that majestic life, unlimited by sect or passion."

CHRIST DESCRIBED AS UNIVERSAL KING

"Christ is not only King of the Jews, He is a universal king, for the day is coming when the kingdoms of earth shall become the kingdoms of our Lord and His Christ," declared Adjt. Frank Howell in his sermon yesterday at Salvation Army Temple.

"Though the Jews, as a race, rejected Jesus, He yet will be king of all the world," said Adjt. Howell. "He is given all power and authority and dominion forever. They placed a robe of mockery upon Him before they crucified Him, but He was king in spite of that. And in the end, when all earthly kingdoms shall fail, His throne shall be established forever."

HOLIDAY OBSERVANCE FAULTY, SAYS PASTOR

"Something is vitally wrong with our observance of the happiest of all days, Christmas," said Dr. J. George Dorn in his sermon yesterday at Hollywood Lutheran Church.

"There flows underneath our Christmas preparations an undercurrent of dread, worry and anxiety which is unnatural," said Dr. Dorn. "When Christ was born there was no room for Him in the inn, and so it is today. That is what is wrong with our observance of Christmas. We have no time for Him, no thought, no love, no service to offer amid all our outside preparations. The day is lacking the spirit of Christ-likeness. We acknowledge Him, possibly even outwardly worship, and then pass by on the other side. There will be thousands of homes in our city where will be all the outward appearances of the day, but the great fact behind it will hardly be mentioned or even thought of."

EVOLUTION SUBJECT OF CHURCH SERMON

The question "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" constituted the subject of the lesson-sermon, yesterday in all branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

To answer the question, the lesson-sermon cited various Bible texts and correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

Among the Scripture selections were these expostulations of Isaiah: "Produce your cause, saith the Lord; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob. . . Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are Gods; yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together. Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought; an abomination is he that chooseth you." Another selection presented Isaiah's counter-statement, "but now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, fear not; for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine."

A passage from Science and Health stated: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development."

PEDESTRIAN TUNNEL FUNDS APPROPRIATED

The sum of $10,250 has been appropriated by the Board of Education, according to a communication to the City Council, toward the cost of constructing two pedestrian tunnels, one under Olympic Boulevard at Orange Drive and the other under Riverside Drive at the Allesandro school. The board asks that when the tunnels are completed the City Engineer so advise the board, with an accounting of the cost of construction.

AQUEDUCT LINE LEARNED TODAY

Route From Colorado Will Be Announced to Board

Engineers to Tell Result of Intensive Studies

Discussion of Selection to Take Place Tomorrow

Final selection of the route for the Colorado River aqueduct will be announced to the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District this afternoon by the consulting engineers employed by the board.

The engineering board of review, headed by Thaddeus Merriman, chief engineer of the New York City water supply system, and including A. J. Wiley, consulting engineer of Boise, Idaho, and Richard R. Lyman, consulting engineer of Salt Lake City, will turn in a report which culminates engineering studies they have made of the possible routes.

Detailed discussion of the report filed today will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Culbertson Hall, California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

Merriman and Frank E. Weymouth, chief engineer of the Metropolitan Water District, will be among tomorrow's speakers. The New York engineer will discuss in detail the report made by his board. Mr. Weymouth will outline facts concerning the many routes surveyed and the studies involved in the six-year survey made by his engineers.

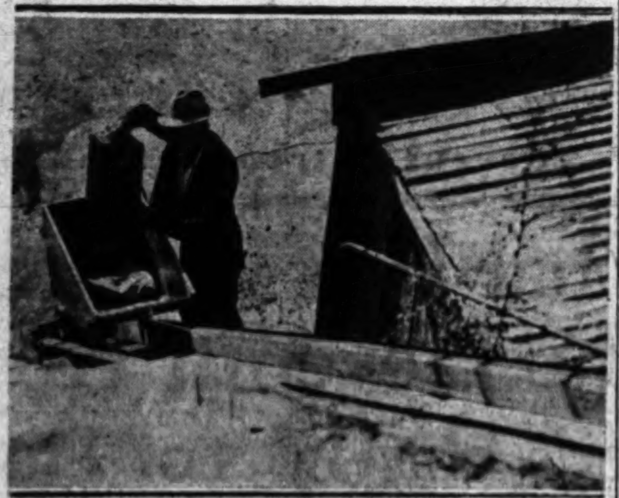
More than 1000 city, county and State officials and citizens of Southern California are expected to attend the Pasadena meeting. Officials of the district have made plans to take care of the meeting in Culbertson Hall at California street and Wilson avenue and for an overflow meeting where a public-address system will pick up the proceedings.

ASSESSMENTS APPROVED

The assessment district map for the improvement of One Hundred Eighty-second street between Vermont avenue and a point 1300 feet east of the avenue has been approved by the City Council.

HILL DWELLING MADE EASIER

Miniature Cable Car Carries Bundles



Charles V. Maris Solves Hoisting Problem

Tired of carrying bundles and household necessities up and down the steep flight of sixty-five steps leading to his hillside home at 3855 North Broadway, Charles V. Maris has solved the leg-wearying problem by constructing what may be the world's smallest and one of the steepest incline railways.

During his spare time Maris built a 100-foot track with pieces of one-inch angle iron, leading from his back door to the foot of the steps on Broadway.

Instead of carrying things up to the house now, all Maris has to do is drive into his garage at street level, turn an electric switch and down comes the miniature cable car. He loads the car—eighteen inches wide and three feet long—walks up to his porch, presses another switch and up comes the car, bundles and all.

Or, if he is up above and wants something from the vegetable man, he shouts his order and sends the little car down for it in forty-five seconds.

"The whole outfit cost me about $125—a one-third horsepower electric motor, cable drum, line of quarter-inch cable, tested to lift 1850 pounds, wheels and fittings," Maris said.

"In the month I have had the car in operation it has met all requirements. If anyone residing on a hill is mechanically inclined a miniature incline railway like this will solve his lifting problems."

The track is built on a 45-deg. angle and the single car and motor can raise or lower loads up to 100 pounds. The car's two lower flanged wheels are larger in diameter than the front ones, making the bottom of the carrier level when it runs up and down the steep pitch.

NEWSPAPER MAN HERE ON WORLD TRAVELS

After a 56,000-mile trip through twenty-two countries, Charles Tulka, a newspaper man of Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, has arrived in Los Angeles. He is the guest for several days of Felix B. Janovsky, Czecho-Slovakian Consul, at 906 South Olive street. Tulka and a companion began their journey in 1926 from Prague and traveled eastward. Tulka plans to travel to Alaska when he leaves Los Angeles.

TESTIMONY DUE TODAY IN MURDER

State Will Present Its Opening Evidence in Horton Slaying Case

Testimony of numerous witnesses intended to weave a network of circumstantial evidence about Lloyd Dye and Gordon Gauss, 22-year-old Long Beach oil-field workers, will be introduced today in Superior Judge Fricke's court when their trial for the murder of Wade Albert Horton is resumed.

Five days already have been spent in selection of a jury to hear the case and the first witnesses are scheduled to testify today.

According to Uugene Blalock and T. P. Menzies, Deputy District Attorneys prosecuting the case, four witnesses will be called today. They will be Dr. A. F. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon; Walter Hewitt, nephew of Horton, and V. P. Gray and William Penprase, deputy sheriffs who investigated the case.

The two youths are accused of being the bandits who killed Horton in his lonely cabin in Mint Canyon, believing that he had a large sum of money hoarded there. One of the bandits was wounded twice by Horton. George Horton, 29, a brother, was uninjured. Later, George Horton died, and the prosecution now has no eyewitnesses to the shooting.

The youths later were captured and, according to the investigating officers, admitted the shooting. When brought to court, however, both defendants pleaded not guilty.

TESTS FOR COUNTY POSITIONS SCHEDULED

Competitive examinations for the following positions have been announced by the County Civil Service Commission: Field investigator in Supervisorial District No. 3 of the department of the Board of Supervisors; clerk in the juvenile division of the District Attorney's department, and museum attendant in the Museum of History, Science and Art. Additional details as to dates of examinations, salaries and qualifications of applicants can be had from Sam J. Chappel of the commission at 1007 Hall of Records.

FILM LEADER VOICES CHEER

J. R. Grainger of Fox Corporation Says Trend of Business Shows Distinct Improvement

Optimistic and in possession of statistics indicating improvement in business conditions throughout the United States and Canada, James R. Grainger, distribution vice-president of Fox Film Corporation, arrived in Hollywood yesterday.

"Admissions at motion-picture theaters in this country and Canada have shown a decided increase during the last five weeks," Grainger said. "More persons patronized motion-picture theaters during the five-week period ending the 15th inst. than during any previous similar period this season. The Christmas shopping period this season shows an increase in attendance at theaters whereas in past years it has recorded a marked decline."

SALES INCREASE

Grainger said that Fox sales for the six-month period ending the 15th inst. were 57 per cent greater than those for a corresponding time in any previous season.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the next four months will find this country and Canada well established on their return to normalcy," he said. "I have reached this conclusion following talks with exhibitors in thirty-seven principal cities of the United States and the Dominion.

Grainger is here to confer regarding the Fox output for 1931-32. The company, he said, is enjoying the greatest prosperity of its history.

BONUSES GIVEN

President Harley L. Clarke early this month distributed bonuses to eighteen offices in the United States and to 108 salesmen and bookers, the awards aggregating $75,000. Ben Gould, manager of the Los Angeles branch, was awarded a bonus of $2500, while the San Francisco exchange received $2000. The company's 200 salesmen are to have an extra two weeks' vacation with pay, from today to January 3.

Grainger will be in Hollywood two weeks. He is accompanied by Mrs. Grainger. They will spend the holidays with her son, J. Edmund Grainger, an associate producer at Fox studio. He said that he will rebuild immediately his Malibu Beach home which was burned a week ago.

LOAN RECEIVER INDICATES AIM

uments and canceled checks involved in Beesemyer's gigantic transactions. He hoped, he stated, thus to discover new evidence for presentation to the grand jury.

While the grand jury is proceeding to hear witnesses, investigators from the office of the District Attorney will continue their check on various business deals handled by Beesemyer.

One in which Chief Investigator Matthews and Dist.-Atty. Fitts are now concerned, it was learned yesterday is the matter of the financing by Beesemyer of the Hollywood Playhouse. Inquiries have been started on other ventures of the self-confessed embezzler and some of his financing will be brought to the attention of other directors. A check of the books of the robbed loan organization shows three loans, totaling $471,000 to the Hollywood Playhouse, according to the investigators. They report that there is now a delinquency of four months on the entire amount.

PLANS DISCLOSED

Carrying over its activities at the close of this afternoon's session, the grand jury tomorrow will probably concentrate its attention on the questioning of State Building and Loan Commissioner Whitmore and George Walker, his predecessor in office. Those expected to be recalled to the stand tomorrow include Ethel Flanigan, chief bookkeeper of the plundered company, and Mary Wilmer, private secretary to Beesemyer.

Ownership of a ninety-nine-year lease on valuable property at Palm Springs is credited to Beesemyer in a dispatch received yesterday from Riverside. The dispatch stated it has just been ascertained that Beesemyer holds the lease affecting a parcel on the main street of the desert resort and that he had planned a $100,000 development there during 1931.

HOLLYWOOD BANK PLAN READY FOR WOOD

Directors of the Bank of Hollywood will confer this morning with State Superintendent of Banks Wood and, according to the resident bank examiner, John R. McFaul, the bank's executives will present a reorganization plan for reopening.

Mr. Wood is expected this morning by train from San Francisco and will go directly to his office in the Associated Realty Building. The series of meetings held by the directors since the bank's closing on the 8th inst. continued yesterday and although the executives said several reorganization plans had been discussed, the final draft of the reopening program will not be announced until after the meeting with Mr. Wood today.

Tale of Bulls Frees Suspect

Because a bull is only a "papa cow" and not a police officer to John Kustera, Slovakian waiter in a restaurant at 229 East Seventh street, he was acquitted on a charge of acting as lookout for a bootlegger in Municipal Judge Northrup's court.

Kustera, according to Police Officers Richardson and McCullon, shouted "Look out for the bulls" when they entered the restaurant to arrest Edward A. Carr. Carr, they said, was in the act of selling two pints of moonshine to a sailor.

Kustera testified he could speak little English and asked for an interpreter. Asked whether he shouted the asserted warning, Kustera declared he said nothing of the sort, because he did not see any cows.

"Not cow—bulls," corrected Deputy City Prosecutor Reynolds.

"But a bull, he is a papa cow," Kustera explained.

Judge Northrup found him not guilty. Carr was convicted of liquor possession and fined $50.

Ruling Awaited in House Suit

Capt. Harry J. Griffin of the Los Angeles Fire Department, and his sister, Mrs. Wanda Blackwell, expect to learn this week the decision of Superior Judge Warne, who has under submission a suit to declare title of a house and lot in Glendale, occupied by Capt. Griffin's father, Henry M. Griffin.

In 1917, when Capt. Griffin went to war, he took $5000 and with about $1000 his father gave him, purchased him a home. A few weeks ago Griffin was married, and his sister, Mrs. Blackwell, sued him for a half-interest in the home, claiming her father had given it to her.

Attorneys Patrick J. Cooney and Thomas J. Clark argued that inasmuch as Capt. Griffin had paid five-sixths the value of the house, his interest in it was of that proportion.

FORMER FEDERAL JUDGE BACK HERE

Coming back to Southern California with a genial smile, Edward J. Henning, former United States District judge here and now special counsel for five of the leading motion-picture exhibitors in the United States, arrived in Los Angeles a few days ago. He is in Los Angeles to spend the Christmas holiday with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw, at 1961 North Normandie avenue.

PHILOSOPHERS TO MEET

Dr. E. B. Starbuck and Dr R. F. Alfred Hoernle, professors of philosophy at the University of Southern California, will take an active part in a joint meeting of the three divisions of the American Philosophical Association to be held at the University of California at Berkeley, the 29th to 31st inst. This is to be a general meeting for the reception of the third series of the Paul Carus foundation lectures to be given by Prof. George H. Mead of the University of Chicago.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

of his home yesterday by an auto driven by Alfred Roche, 42, of 1725 Glendale Boulevard. He is at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with a skull fracture. Roche was taken to Central Police Station for questioning.

Two assertedly drunken drivers are held by police as the result of traffic accidents and near-accidents over the week-end.

Gail Kenny, who gave his address as 1037½ Venice Boulevard, was captured by Officers Peglau and Redican after a pursuit of half-a-mile when he had almost run them down at Fifteenth street and Griffith avenue. He was given a sobriety test by police surgeons and charged with driving while intoxicated.

AUTO RAMS POLE

Lyman D. Perkins, 29, of 935 West Thirty-fifth Place, was booked on a similar charge following a collision at Eighth street and Bonnie Brea in which the victims were Jack Myers, 6500 Santa Monica Boulevard; Mike Cline, 2207 West Eleventh street, and Miss Verna Corum of Huntington Park. The driver was captured by Officers Powell and Malinowski.

Miss Zella Merrifield of San Diego received a skull injury when a car in which she was riding with Frank Drury of the United States Navy, stationed at San Diego, crashed into a pole on Telegraph Road near the Orange county line. Mrs. Rose Marie Merrifield, another member of the party, was severely bruised and shocked and the driver's left leg was broken. All were taken to the General Hospital.

Details of an accident in which Francisco Spinoza, 60, of Clearwater, received a possible skull fracture, were not disclosed. The accident occurred at Clearwater and the victim is at the General Hospital.

J. A. Price, 50, of 1146 Maple avenue, while riding a bicycle on Compton avenue near Washington Boulevard, was struck by a hit-and-run driver last night. He was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital suffering from a possible skull fracture and other serious injuries.

Yuletide Party to Make Happy 2000 Children

The city's largest Christmas stocking will hang in the Philharmonic Auditorium this afternoon as a symbol of the civic generosity that makes possible the party for 2000 poor children given by the Midnight Mission.

When festivities begin at 2 p.m. automobile loads of children from different sections of the city, brought by Parent-Teacher associations, will have arrived and been greeted by Monte Blue, acting as Santa Claus. A program of entertainment designed particularly for the child audience will follow, with members of the 233 Club in charge.

The children will receive from Santa personal gifts and a bag of foodstuffs, sufficient to feed a family of five.

BRIDGE BUILDING PROJECT REFERRED

The matter of constructing a bridge across the Los Angeles River in connection with the improvement of Magnolia Boulevard between Sepulveda Boulevard and Ventura Boulevard has been referred by the City Council to the Tunnels, Bridges and Viaducts Committee to report on public funds available for the job. The estimate of the cost of the bridge is placed at $16,000.

POE'S HEARING TOMORROW

Edgar Allen Poe, but not the late writer of mystery stories, is to appear before United States Commissioner Head tomorrow for hearing on a motion to return him to Douglas, Ariz., on bank embezzlement charges.

Board Approves Trolley Tracks Removal Plea

Abandonment by the Los Angeles Railway Company of its tracks on University avenue, between Jefferson street and Exposition Boulevard, at the request of the University of Southern California, which complains of the noise and menace to safety of students, and that the service is but little used, has been approved by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation.

The board was informed by its engineers that the service already has been curtailed and that the service complained about is that at night, during night classes. The engineers held that the number of patrons averages but fifty a day and that there is little justification for continuing the line.

It was pointed out that the company is willing to remove the tracks, that the university is owner of practically all the property on the west side of University avenue and is obtaining options on a large part of the property on the east side, with the intention to park this strip of University avenue with grass and shrubbery, instead of paving it, except at intersections.

Other arguments advanced are that proceedings for the opening and widening of Hoover street are now under way and plans provide for diagonal crossings of Jefferson street, at University avenue, and that removal of the tracks would aid the City Engineer's department in planning better jobs at intersections.

Landlord Loses Action for Rent

Because the landlord used his tenant's vacated store, he cannot recover rent, the Appellate Department, Superior Court, has held in an opinion just filed. Zora A. Grider leased premises from the Federal Outfitting Company at 126 West Ninth street, for a bird store and gave up the place early this year. The lessor sued for $400 for a month's rent and $31.50 for electric current and won the suit in Municipal Judge Chambers's court. This judgment was affirmed by the Appellate Department.

The lessor also won, in Municipal Court, a second suit for $1530 for four months' subsequent rent, less credits. The defendant appealed, contending that the landlord stored paint in the vacated store during the four months' period involved, and also used the premises to advertise his goods. Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop agreed with this contention and reversed the case, sending it back for a new trial.

BROWN SCORES HOME-RUN HIT

Comedy Gifts of Joe E. Gain Fine Ovation

Film Fun-Maker Stars in "Elmer the Great"

Baseball Comedy Uproarious Event at El Capitan

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

"Elmer the Great" yesterday became synonymous with Joe E. Brown, the (comically) great, at El Capitan Theater. In other words, one of the screen's most popular fun-makers in a trice, turned out to be a hip-hip-hooray stage favorite—applause and laughter making the welkin ring, so to say, at two initial performances of a Ring Lardner baseball comedy.

You will find this play a rip-roaring lot of monkeyshines, with Brown the central figure. Even if you don't care much about baseball (and I suppose there is a minority that doesn't) the star's debut spells nine full innings, and maybe a few extra, of pepful entertainment.

"Elmer the Great" may have its faults as a stage piece, but it is never lacking in amusement as long as Joe E. Brown is present. There are too many tricks that he has at command for it ever to be. To top everything he gives a sort of "Uh-h-h-h-upton" college yell in the final act that actually rocks the theater, and even starts the audience applauding. He is giving a curtain speech too, and last evening offered his recitation "Mousie" as an interlude.

TRIUMPH OF EXPRESSION

Brown's face is always a masterpiece. There is scarcely anybody who can register so much comedy without speaking a word. His woebegone expression, for instance, when he is being berated by the girl for not signing up as a big-league pitcher is an inimitable study in plastic pathos. His wide smile defies a duplication.

Brown also manages to eat vociferously and uproariously as the ever hungry Elmer. He consumes the food, too, no doubt about it. He will do well to escape indigestion during the engagement.

Added to all the by-play, the star gives a mighty good interpretation of the role of the eccentric baseball hero, who regards himself as the champion twirler of all time. And, after all, Elmer has reason to be puffed up with pride, because Lardner credits him with winning twenty-seven games out of thirty, including several in the world's series. Elmer, of course, becomes involved in a gambling deal that nearly threatens his standing for all time in the big leagues, but he manages to slip very nicely out of this difficulty.

SURE-FIRE HOLIDAY HIT

The Lardner play has the aspect of being a story from the "inside" of the baseball leagues, and as such will doubtless please the fans for the game. It is a play that holds up the suspense somewhat because of the changes of setting in the second act. Also the third act lets down a little in the action. But for sheer fun and also a very sympathetic plot, "Elmer the Great" is splendid. It will undoubtedly be a big holiday hit.

There is a very adequate cast supporting Brown, with the brighter principals including Emerson Treacy, Ruth Matteson, Mia Marvin, Ben Taggart, Joseph De Stefani, Jean Reno and Jane Darwell. Nearly all of this group are exceptionally good, and even the minor roles—of which there are an enormous number, including more than a dozen members of a baseball club (that is, as impersonated by the actors) are very creditably done. I would say in fact that the show is one of the best that Duffy has offered this year.

Probably the special high light, the most worth watching for, is the scene where Elmer is prevailed on to speak over the radio—and is deceived into thinking that an electric light contrivance is the microphone. Outside of this, his indefatigable attentions to food in the opening and closing acts provide the groundwork for abundant enjoyment. Brown's tempo also makes the second act culmination, where the melodrama breaks out, a real thrill.

PARAMOUNT BOOKS "RIGHT TO LOVE"

Ruth Chatterton is the star of "The Right to Love," which starts at the Paramount Theater Thursday. The film is taken from the novel "Brook Evans," by Susan Glaspell. The screen play is by Zoe Akins. Richard Wallace directed.

The current program at the Paramount is headed by Mitzi Green in person. The Rhythm Boys also perform on the stage.

FILM ACTRESS TO ENACT STAGE ROLE

Joan Blondell, who has just completed a prominent part in the Charles R. Rogers production of "Millie," adapted from a Donald Henderson Clarke novel, has left for San Francisco to fulfill a contract with the Henry Duffy players.

KANN EDITS TRADE DAILY

In line with the consolidation of film trade journals announced last week, Maurice "Red" Kann has been assigned to the editorship of the Motion Picture Daily. The assignment was made by Martin Quigley, president of the Quigley Publishing Company. Until the consolidation Kann was editor of Motion-Picture News, and for eleven years has been identified with motion-picture trade journalism. Other associates announced by Quigley include Colvin Brown, Vivian Moses, who will be editor of Motion Picture Herald, and Jim Cron. Brown and Cron will act in business capacities with the new organization, for which William A. Johnston is Hollywood executive.

Gay Holiday Stage Fare Promised

May Boley
Plays one of the "Stepping Sisters" at the Hollywood Playhouse starting Christmas Day matinee. Henry Duffy is supervising the new production.

LOEW'S LISTS "REDUCING"

"Reducing," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy farce costarring Marie Dressler and Polly Moran, is the screen fare provided for Loew's State Theater patrons starting Christmas Day.

Chuck Reisner, who directed "Caught Short," is also the director of "Reducing," which presents the two comediennes as sisters, one a plain country housewife, and the other the proprietor of a metropolitan beauty parlor.

The comedy starts when the country sister, played by Marie Dressler, goes to visit the city sister. Romance is provided in the conflicting love affairs of the two sisters' daughters, played by Anita Page and Sally Eilers. William Collier, Jr., William Bankewell and Lucien Littlefield are prominent in the supporting cast.

Current at Loew's State Theater is the Fox picture, "The Princess and the Plumber," costarring Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan. On the stage, in addition to Fanchon and Marco's "Icy Hot" idea, is the appearance of the Meglin Kiddies. A Laurel and Hardy comedy is an added screen attraction.

Evelyn Laye, English Star, Makes American Film Debut for Goldwyn

Evelyn Laye, noted English singing comedienne, makes her American motion-picture debut in Samuel Goldwyn's "One Heavenly Night," which starts at the United Artists Theater Christmas Day. This romantic-comedy follows the current attraction, "Lincoln."

EVELYN LAYE

Miss Laye, who is queen of the British musical comedy stage, is not a stranger to American audiences. Before she started work on the picture she filled a contract with Charles Cochran and Florenz Ziegfeld in their stage production, "Bitter-Sweet."

In "One Heavenly Night," Miss Laye is surrounded by a notable cast, composed of John Boles, Lilyan Tashman, Leon Errol and others.

TWO HOUSES WILL OFFER SAME FILM

Richard Barthelmess Has Dashing Role in "Lash," Coming to Warners

Richard Barthelmess in "The Lash" comes to both Warner Brothers' Hollywood and Downtown theaters Friday.

"The Lash" is an adaptation of the novel, "Adios," by Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, and has California in the days of the Spanish Dons and Grandees as its locale. Much of the action takes place in early Los Angeles, in the Plaza and the stage coach that carried passengers from San Pedro to the main town, are included in the film.

Barthelmess will be seen as the hard-riding and romantic figure of El Puma, the bandit. It is said to be a serious role, yet one vested with a swashbuckling air of adventure.

"The Lash" is called a worthy successor to any of the Barthelmess pictures. There are two leading women, Mary Astor and Marion Nixon. Others in the cast are Fred Kohler, James Rennie, Robert Edeson, Arthur Stone and Barbara Bedford.

BOULEVARD OFFERS "FAST AND LOOSE"

"Fast and Loose," Paramount's comedy adapted from the stage play, "Best People," is the current offering at the Boulevard Theater. Included in the cast are Mariam Hopkins, Carole Lombard and Frank Morgan.

NEW PLAY PROMISES HILARITY

"Up Pops Devil" Starts Thursday Night Before Distinguished Throng

That "Up Pops the Devil" promises a hilarious evening when it comes to the Belasco beginning Christmas night, is said to be evidenced by the interest manifested among holiday amusement seekers. Several screen celebrities are planning to attend the opening.

Aspects of the story of "Up Pops the Devil" have to do with the adventures of certain joyous couples residing more or less informally in New York City's Greenwich Village

Belasco and Curran are presenting a noteworthy cast, which includes Raymond Hackett, Ann Teaman, Esther Howard, John Arledge, Leyland Hodgson and Lex Lindsay.

OLGA STEEB PLAYS FAREWELL CONCERT

Noted Pianist Assisted by Trio Gives Fine Performance in Pasadena

Olga Steeb's last public appearance before leaving for a six months' tour of Europe brought a large and discriminating audience to the Pasadena Community Playhouse yesterday afternoon, where her piano trio, of which Ilya Bronson, 'cellist, and David Crocow, violinist, are members, gave a splendid performance.

The intimacy of the theater and the bond of sympathy existing between the musicians and the audience, along with a piano trio of marked virtuosity, assured the success of Miss Steeb's farewell concert. The three local musicians gave a spontaneous, spirited performance, with no technical limitations to hinder them and each movement of the Schumann and Franck trios bespoke constant and intelligent training. An unusually fine balance in tone predominated throughout. Schumann's Trio in F minor, with its intense beauty of expression always evident in the four movements, is a work characteristic of the whimsical composer who was so influential during the Romantic period. Cesar Franck's Trio in F sharp minor was equally delightful. The latter was the more satisfying musically, with the lyricism and interesting themal developments which linger in the memory.

Olga Steeb's admirers will long remember her performance as soloist. Godowsky's transcription of Richard Strauss's song, "Serenade," was a bright lilting fragment of rippling tones and lyric beauty. Franz Liszt, a master of such technical brilliance that his compositions are almost impossible for any but the virtuoso to play, served as Miss Steeb's second offering. Her interpretation of his "Concert Etude in F Minor" can only be summed up as most brilliant. One marvels at the poetic imagination with which Olga Steeb imbues Chopin. His E Major Etude was a splendid example of this and displayed her delicacy of interpretation and her lovely singing tone to advantage.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THE hit of the season so far in Los Angeles hasn't been a sex play or a murder thriller. It's been something highbrow, if you please; in other words, Mr. George Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart," a thoughtful, talky treatise on the trend of things political in England.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

Mention "The Apple Cart" in the halls of the Music Box Theater, Hollywood, and you will see nothing but smiles. The play has proved one of the most lucrative pieces of drama property that the Civic Repertory group has owned in two years of production.

In fact, Repertory executives think so highly of this box-office pull, that they are booking it into the theater for the week starting Sunday. It will be played evenings only, with "Peter Pan," current now, holding the stage every afternoon.

This arrangement, marking the first time in Repertory history of having two plays going simultaneously, continues for a week only.

Courtenay to Appear

William Courtenay, New York actor of considerable reputation who was seen here in "The Spider," will probably have the lead in "As Good as New," the comedy which Arthur Greville Collins is soon producing. It's an Erlanger production, current at the Cort, New York, now.

ARTHUR COLLINS

Collins hopes to start rehearsals in about three weeks. Meantime, he is taking the cast of "Lost Sheep" to San Francisco Christmas Day, preparatory to the play opening there four days later at the Columbia. "Lost Sheep" is booked into the Biltmore here about January 29.

A Tryout at Santa Barbara

Members of the cast of "Up Pops the Devil," arriving at the Belasco Christmas Day, will face Santa Barbara audiences tonight and tomorrow night in two tryout performances.

Santa Barbara seems to be fast becoming known as the Jamaica, (L. I.) tryout town of the West. And if you don't think its audiences are critical first-nighters, talk to actors who have appeared there.

Along the Eastern Front

A play called "With the Tide" is quietly rehearsing. Josephine Victor Reid has adapted it from the German and Lillian Foster, who did her bit to make Hannen Swaffer famous, and Ralph Theadore are in the cast . . . After all, Irving Berlin will not write the tunes for the piece wherein Al Jolson will star . . . Max Gordon made a hurried trip to London to see "Evergreen." Both he and Hassard S. Short, who accompanied him, were pretty vague about doing that piece here. Mr. Gordon stated that until Mr. Cochran appeared on the local scene—an event scheduled for next month—there would be no definite words.

Comes some news from the Dillingham office. Their next production will be "The Bad Penny," a play by Mr. McGuire, who frequently wrote them in the days before he tried his hand at musical comedy librettos. Glenn Hunter will be in the cast. . . . Of a negative sort is the intelligence that Mr. Dillingham's interest in the London play called "Cynara," has cooled and that his long-intended production of the English musical comedy, "Mr. Cinders" is definitely off.

Mr. Kelly's new play, "Philip Goes Forth," is coming to the Biltmore about the middle of next month. Its producer is the incorporated Mr. Stebbins of "The Green Pastures" and thus he will have two productions running.

Eugene O'Brien, who used to be a mighty figure in the pictures, ended a brief jaunt over the subway circuit in his revival of "Steve" in Jamaica Saturday night.

Radio Comedy Opens Thursday at Vine-street

A combination of rollicking music and rapid-fire comedy, "Half-Shot at Sunrise," Radio pictures' comedy, starts Thursday at the Vine-street Theater in Hollywood. Installation of motion-picture equipment and redecoration and remodeling of the house under the new policy is rapidly being completed.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, famed comedians, furnish the hilarity and five songs by Harry Tierney are featured in the production.

In the series of humorous episodes into which the two doughboys become enmeshed while A.W.O.L. in Paris and its environs, Dorothy Lee and Roberta Robinson furnish the romantic interest.

LIVELY BILL AT FOLLIES

Starting at a fast pace, continuing to good effect, "Girls From Joyland" opened at the Follies Theater Saturday midnight. Leona White and Mary Sunde nearly stop the show with their specialties. Verne, a dancer, adds to the presentation with some snappy numbers. Calda Parsons entertains with her voice and flashing feet. The dialogue dispensed by Eddie Collins and George Clark keeps things going at top speed. Bob Stanley and Charles Breedlove are seen and heard in some engaging bits of humor and song.

SAN DIEGO HAS COSTLY BLAZE

Campbell Machine Company Boat Shop Burns

Spectacular Water-Front Fire Causes $11,000 Loss

Firemen Save $100,000 Tuna Boat From Flames

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 21.—The main boat shop of the Campbell Machine Company at the foot of Eighth street today is a mass of ruins following a fire of undetermined origin that caused damage of more than $11,000 to the plant last night. The blaze was one of the most spectacular seen on the waterfront in years.

Part of the roof of the huge building collapsed at the height of the fire, sending showers of sparks high above the leaping flames. The blaze was visible for several miles.

David Campbell, one of the proprietors of the plant, said that everything was secure there when he left. Less than an hour later the watchman discovered one entire end of the big building to be in flames and sounded an alarm.

Several companies of downtown fire apparatus answered the call as did the fireboat Bill Kettner, and all were pressed into service, the fireboat supplying salt water through heavy hose lines to augment the water from the hydrants ashore.

Although the whole interior was ablaze when the firemen arrived, they prevented the spread of the flames to other buildings or to the frame of a new $100,000 tuna boat just outside the building.

Campbell estimated the damage to the building at $6000, and that to machinery at an additional $5000. The Campbell plant is engaged chiefly in the construction and repair of large fishing vessels.

Pioneer Editor Tells Ontarians of Early Days

ONTARIO, Dec. 21.—E. P. Clarke, editor of the Riverside Daily Press, appeared before Ontario Kiwanis Club as principal speaker at the weekly luncheon gathering, and related an interesting story of the development of Ontario's newspaper, now the Daily Report.

Clarke founded the Ontario Record, which is still published as a weekly. He told the Kiwanis Club members that the first edition was published when there were less than 300 persons in the Ontario community.

There were but two stores in the business district of Ontario, and not much to encourage the residents for their future welfare.

The night he printed the first edition of the Ontario Record the coyotes sat near by and howled their dedication song, Clarke said. That was forty-five years ago.

Ontario has enjoyed one of the largest population gains in the State during the past decade Clarke said, making an increase of 86 per cent. This growth will not be so rapid in the next decade, he believes, because of the need for absorbing large agricultural areas, but after 1940 another rapid gain should be recorded.

Benefit Planned to Aid Charity

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 21.—The Christmas charity fund of the four local service clubs will be swelled by the returns from the benefit performance of "Laff That Off," to be given Monday evening in the high school auditorium by the Alhambra Community Players.

The interclub council, consisting of officers of Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange and Lions' clubs, is sponsoring the affair and many other organizations of the city are aiding in the sale of tickets.

Leon Utter and Peggy Kramer will have the leading roles in the popular comedy, which is directed by Walter Callahan. Others in the cast include Loella Archer, Ione Zellhoefer, Walter Davis, Coe Butler and Clifford Thomas.

GREENSPOT CITRUS GROUP IN MEETING

MENTONE, Dec. 21.—The annual meeting of the members of the Greenspot Citrus Association here was held at the packing-house with E. D. Patterson in charge. E. H. Hawes, the manager, reported greater returns on a small crop than ever before. Paul Armstrong of Los Angeles, assistant general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, spoke to the members of the association, giving an interesting resume of the season and predictions for the coming crop. Mark Anderson, of the Redlands-Highland Exchange, also spoke and said that local conditions are excellent. E. D. Patterson was again elected president of the association.

STEWART NAMED TO HEAD CITRUS GROUP

UPLAND, Dec. 21.—Harold Stewart today heads the board of directors of Stewart Citrus Association, following annual election held at the packing-house here. The board of directors elected numbered Stewart, Godfrey T. Stamm, Mrs. Mary Stewart, W. K. Beattie and George T. Stamm. Stewart succeeds his father, the late W. B. Stewart, as president. Beattie was elected vice-president and general manager, and Miss Esther Nyberg, secretary-treasurer. The association enjoyed a prosperous season just closed. It holds membership in the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange.

MINIATURE GOLF MEN RETURN

San Gabriel Pioneers in Game Say Chances Poor For It in South America

SAN GABRIEL, Dec. 21.—Seven weeks ago J. W. Lansford and L. N. Bacon, pioneers in the miniature golf business in this section, left for South America to investigate possibilities for putt-putt courses in the southern republics. They are back home now. They didn't build any golf courses but they had a nice time.

"Pee-wee golf in South America is not so hot," declared Lansford. "The natives are not taking to the sport as we did up here early last summer. It takes them longer to play a game, too. They hit the ball and then take time out to talk about the shot, the weather, the races and politics. You just can't put the crowds through the layouts as they did in the United States."

Lansford and Bacon found four miniature courses in operation and si more under construction in Buenos Aires. Rio de Janeiro and Santos had no courses and no plans for any. Cost of construction was one of the factors that kept them out of the business in South America, they explained. To duplicate the average $1500 layout of the United States would require $4000 in Brazil.

Lansford and Bacon built the first pee-wee courses in Alhambra, selling them before the frost hit the game in the fall.

Bruce McDaniel Returns From Eastern Trip

REDLANDS, Dec. 21. — Bruce McDaniel, general counsel for the Mutual Orange Distributors, has just returned from Chicago where he attended a meeting of the co-operative board and also from Washington, where he has spent some time in conference with leaders in the co-operative and fruit-marketing industry.

McDaniel says that conditions are improving in the East and that while California has a big crop of oranges to dispose of this year, it can be sold to the advantage of the grower, provided all the shipping agencies work in harmony and distribute the crop carefully.

"The people of the East are sold on California oranges," said McDaniel, "and the weather I saw while in Washington convinced me that they need a lot of our golden sunshine in the shape of fruit during the winter. For it was dark and dreary, cloudy all the time, and cold, and it is no wonder that people long for sunshine and good weather."

McDaniel found that most of the fruit shipped from California arrives on the market in excellent shape because of the care taken in packing and transporting.

Protests Will Be Heard Soon

ONTARIO, Dec. 21.—Protests to a proposed new San Bernardino county waterworks district northwest of Ontario, will be heard January 5, it was learned here today.

The project will be known as District No. 9. Notice of formation of the district was announced by the County Board of Supervisors after a petition bearing signatures of 25 per cent of residents in the affected area had been presented.

The district lies between Benson and Mountain avenues, and Foothill Boulevard and Eighth street.

Should there be no protests the county will undertake to supply inhabitants in that region with water by construction or by leasing water systems, reservoirs and storage tanks now owned by the Tioga Mutual Water Company.

The plan will provide not only domestic and agricultural water supply but will furnish fire protection as well. Cost of the project is estimated at $45,000.

Living Christmas Trees Planted

ETIWANDA, Dec. 21.—Featuring the annual Christmas program by the Parent-Teacher Association of Etiwanda was the planting of two living Christmas trees in front of the school building.

J. C. Jones, member of Chaffey Union High School board, was presiding officer. The salute to the flag was led by the local Boy Scout troop, followed by presentation of the trees by Mrs. John Scott, president of the P.T.A., response by Thomas Donnelly; music by Leila Frost, Helen Guy and Miss Ruth Mahaffey; talk by Dr. Merton E. Hill, principal of Chaffey Union High School, Ontario; reading, "Planting of a Tree," by Mrs. Francis; planting of the tree by George Frost, pioneer of the community, and invocation by Rev. J. H. Mallows.

The program concluded with community singing.

He Asks Alms and Gives Punch

LONG BEACH, Dec. 21.—Offered 25 cents when he asked for $1 to buy a meal, a soldier in the army of the unemployed struck George R. Sanderson, proprietor of a pickle factory at 1141 West Ocean Boulevard, this morning, knocking the business man unconscious. When Sanderson regained consciousness the beggar had fled without taking the quarter or anything else, his victim told police.

SAN DIEGO'S CASH SPENT RAPIDLY

City Pays Out $619,544 in Month as Compared With Normal Cost of $370,000

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 21.—San Diego as a municipal corporation is not taking part in any buyers' strike. This is indicated by the fact that in the last month the city has paid out $619,544, as against normal monthly outlay of $370,000.

A large part of the increase is due to payments on important public contracts which have been under way, including the Otay pipeline job and other work done from bond funds.

There were, however, large purchases for restocking purposes. The city's November pay roll, as checked through the purchasing department, totaled $233,777.19, which in itself is a sizable item.

This month the city had an extra pay day on the 15th inst., when employees got half a month's pay. More than $100,000 was paid out to the 1560 employees. The mid-month pay day is an annual feature, enabling employees to pay cash for Christmas shopping instead of paying up when the regular pay day comes on the first of the month.

Burbank Plant Reclaims and Sells Old Films

BURBANK, Dec. 21.—Burbank's newest industry is its oldest one. The Jeffreys Company, a film-washing plant, is now in full operation. The business of the concern is to collect all the discarded film of the various picture companies, and after washing it with a chemical process until it is clear, it is sold to large eastern plants that manufacture fine paints and lacquers in the painting of automobiles or other articles requiring gloss surfaces.

Jeffreys today pointed out that every scene taken by movie directors is probably "shot" a dozen times before the right effects are obtained. In other words, for each 1000 feet of film finally used in pictures, about 19,000 feet are discarded as useless.

This is the film that is bought up and cleaned and sold to the paint plants. It is stated the plant will handle millions of feet of the film annually.

MONEY SOUGHT FOR VAN NUYS CITY HALL

VAN NUYS, Dec. 21.—Mayor Porter is doing his best to get the $275,000 necessary for the erection of the new City Hall here, but whether work will start on the structure at any time during 1931 is still in doubt. The site for the hall was bought by a bond issue vote of the people a year or so ago. Since then every effort has been made to get the funds for the building of the hall. According to latest reports, the Mayor has written to the Los Angeles City Council asking the Council to make endeavor to find the funds. Specifically, the Mayor wrote: "The money should be made available as soon as our financial condition will permit." Conservative residents see the willingness of the Mayor and Councilman Randall to start work on the structure but at the same time see nothing definite in the promise of the funds needed.

VENICE BRANCH OF CHAMBER ELECTS

VENICE, Dec. 21.—Will Rattray, well known as a business man here and for his aggressive leadership as president of the Venice branch, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, was re-elected to that office unanimously yesterday. J. Hunt, manager of the organization, declared last year to have been the most active in the branch's history. Other officers will be elected January 8, next.

GROCERIES ADMIT TO SHOW

Pomona Antlered Herd in Conjunction With Theater Stages Benefit Performance There

POMONA, Dec. 21.—The spirit of Christmas was fittingly exemplified yesterday morning, when hundreds of Pomonans, arm-laden with all manner of groceries, toys, and miscellaneous articles, poured into a local theater to give their bit to relieve Pomona's poor and needy. The charity basket show, featuring "Byrd at the South Pole," was staged jointly by the theater and the Pomona Elks, and according to those in charge, the results exceeded all expectations.

Two ten-ton trucks were necessary to haul the large assortment of necessities from the theater to the lobby of the Elks' Home where all will be sorted and packed into several hundred baskets to be distributed to the poor on Christmas Eve.

Today's event climaxed a week of free shows, candy and toys, distributed by the joint hosts to several thousand children who otherwise might have had a scanty Christmas, and today, opportunity was given to adults to chip in their contribution and make the charity event one long to be remembered in this city. The lobby of the theater was literally stacked with articles, which were the only admission required to view the show. One donation of a huge live rooster, nearly stopped the show, the bird letting out several lusty crows when taken out of his box to pose for photographs.

Helping to swell the individual donations, was the generous response of local merchants, who combed their stocks of many articles from broken lines, of groceries, canned goods, wearing apparel, kitchen utensils, toys and miscellaneous things. This merchandise was picked up by several trucks donated by local firms, and taken to the theater lobby to add to the huge total.

Orange County Sheriff-Elect's Mother Expires

ORANGE, Dec. 21.—Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow for Mrs. Mary C. Jackson, pioneer Orange resident and mother of Sheriff-elect Logan Jackson, who died yesterday at her home, 235 East Palmyra avenue, following a two weeks' illness of pneumonia. The rites are to take place at the Gillogly Funeral Home, with Rev. Walter B. Cole officiating. Interment will be in Fairhaven Cemetery.

Born in Missouri, Mrs. Jackson crossed the plains to California in 1864 with her late husband, Maj. William Jackson, who died in 1911. The couple lived successively in Sonoma, San Luis Obispo and Lompoc, coming to Orange in 1903. They raised eight children, six of whom are living.

Mrs. Jackson was a member of the Methodist Church and of several fraternal organizations and was active in community life. Besides Sheriff-elect Jackson, she leaves two other sons, Robert H. Jackson, Whittier, and Fred C. Jackson, Jose, and three daughters, Mrs. Julia Stafford, Santa Barbara, Hattie M. Ross, Oxnard, and Adaline Jackson, San Jose.

Grid Star Weds Azusa Teacher

ONTARIO, Dec. 21.—In a simple ceremony performed at the First Christian Church, Dick Glover, star fullback on the Occidental football team, took as his bride Miss Emily Van Waggoner of Azusa.

Rev. Shirley Shaw, pastor of the church, and a close friend of the Glover family, read the vows. Glover is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glover of Santa Barbara, prominently known there, and is the grand-nephew of E. P. Clark, founder of the Ontario Record, San Bernardino county's oldest weekly newspaper.

Mrs. Glover is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Van Waggoner of Azusa, where she is a teacher. The couple will live in Azusa, Mr. Glover completing his senior year at Occidental, and Mrs. Glover continuing teaching.

COLLEGE Y.W.C.A. AT ONTARIO IN ELECTION

ONTARIO, Dec. 21.—Election of officers for Chaffey Junior College Young Women's Christian Association, resulted in naming Miss Madeline Martins president. Other officers elected are Florence Jones, vice-president; Sarah Louis O'Brien, secretary; Helen Stanford, treasurer, and Doris Stanford, membership committee chairman. Retiring officers are Sarabeth Koch, president; Madeline Martins, vice-president and program chairman; Helen Schield, secretary; Elroy Mitchell, treasurer; Maxine McCready, membership chairman; Doris Stanford, community relations; Alice Zimmerman, world fellowship; Margaret White, ways and means; Margaret Pyle, publicity.

INMATE OF SHACK STRUCK BY BULLET

REDLANDS, Dec. 21.—Charles Kelly, who has been living in a little shack he constructed of tin near the Southern Pacific Railroad in San Timoteo Canyon, staggered in to the Parker ranch today with a bullet in his chest. He had been hit by a random shot while cooking beans in his little shack. He was taken to the County Hospital. The bullet was not deeply imbedded, and it is thought he will recover.

Santa Claus in Redlands Home

REDLANDS, Dec. 21.—Santa Claus paid his visit to the Greiner Shrine home for children on Palm avenue in this city last night and it was a grand occasion for the fifty-two boys and girls at the home, which is maintained by W. P. Greiner, retired capitalist of Redlands and Long Beach.

There was a Christmas tree in the chapel of the home and also one in the main building and trees in the dormitories. Each of the youngsters received a pair of bedroom slippers, candy and things to eat.

In past years Greiner gave each child a Bible at Christmas but now a Bible is given to each one on entrance to the home. Most of the children come from homes where the mother is not able to keep them in proper schools.

ELKS' LODGE GROWS TO LARGE MEMBERSHIP

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 21.—The B.P.O. Elks' Lodge is rapidly nearing the 2500 mark in membership, the limit having been placed at these figures. At the last meeting, twenty-six candidates were initiated and eleven applications for membership received. The work was conferred on this class by the Whittier lodge. The chairman of the Christmas gift committee announces that the demand for Christmas baskets this year is greater than any Christmas season since the organization has been formed. Letters have been received from 180 families throughout the district in need. The Elks will start a large truck Wednesday morning on its delivery trip throughout the district, when baskets of food, toys and clothing will be left at many homes of the people in need.

NEW FIRE LADDIES

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 21. Six new firemen are soon to have positions in the local fire department. C. P. Hamilton and B. C. Powell have already been assigned to work at fire station No. 1, where they are taking training in readiness for the opening of fire station No. 2 within the next few days. When this building is finished and equipped, they will be placed at the second station, and will have as assistants J. J. Lowry, J. F. Raleigh, L. F. Cunningham and L. L. Kitching.

CIVIC HALL BIDS WILL BE OPENED

Today at 11 a.m. Set for Inspecting Figures for New Pasadena Auditorium

PASADENA, Dec. 21.—With the contract bids scheduled to be opened Monday at 11 a.m., actual construction of this city's $1,000,000 Civic Auditorium probably will start within a few weeks, it was learned today.

The auditorium, long sought by local merchants and hotel men interested in bringing conventions to this city, will rise on a site located at the south end of Garfield avenue where it will complete the civic-center plan. Facing the auditorium site at the north end of Garfield avenue is the Public Library, characterized as the most beautiful structure in Pasadena, and bordering Garfield avenue between the auditorium site and library, are the new $2,000,000 City Hall, Chamber of Commerce, postoffice and Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation headquarters.

The financing of the auditorium project is complete, $800,000 having been loaned for the purpose from the surplus of the municipal light department and the balance from the sale of 188 acres of city farm land to the Western Air Express, which developed the property into an airport.

Forty-six sets of plans have been issued to contracting firms in all parts of the State. The building will be comprised of two major units, a flat-floor auditorium suitable for great conventions and flower and horse shows, and a theater-type hall for concerts and other entertainment requiring a sloping floor and permanently constructed stage.

The contracts will provide that the flat-floor hall must be completed by November 1, 1931, in time for the California-Nevada Kiwanis convention. The entire structure is scheduled for completion by New Year's Day, 1932.

When specifications were submitted to bidders, a final check of the plans indicated that $200,000 might be saved by eliminating clauses requiring use of certain manufacturing products.

Completion of the auditorium project has been delayed for three years because of a difference of opinion on the type of structure to be erected. The business element wished a flat-floor convention hall, while the artistic groups favored a concert hall. As a result of the controversy, a structure embodying both types was planned.

ANAHEIM GROWERS IN PROSPEROUS YEAR

ANAHEIM, Dec. 21.—Member growers of the Anaheim Co-operative Orange Association this year received $1,076,855 from fruit marketed through their house, according to a report from Harry H. Pierce, manager. In addition, the house has paid out $207,828 for supplies and labor during the past season, which Pierce reports as one of the most successful in the history of the house.

Shipments for the season totaled 466 cars, against 935 for the 1929 season, and sizes this year were unusually good from the market standpoint. In 1929 the grower-members received but $729,539 out of a total of $1,094,545 received by the house for the crop handled.

The house is planning to install another sizer in anticipation of a bumper crop next year, Pierce said.

ORPHANS INVITED TO YULE DINNER PARTY

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 21.—Orphans of the Santa Monica Bay district are to be the guests at a Christmas Day dinner party at a local beach club, it is announced by Auguste Blanchard, president. About 600 children are expected to be present. In the lounge will be a tree from which the little orphans will receive gifts of candy, nuts and toys. Eugene Biscailuz, chief of the State Motor Patrol, will officiate as Santa Claus. The affair has been arranged in co-operation with Mrs. Marie T. Hutchings, supervisor of the Santa Monica Council of social welfare.

MATRON IS VICTIM OF KIDNAPERS

San Bernardino Woman Has Distressing Experience With Ruffians

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 21.—After being kidnaped early last night while on her way to a Christmas party and released about ten miles from here, Mrs. Maybell Bruns, 39 years of age, was confined to her home today in a highly hysterical condition as the result of her harrowing experience.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last night Mrs. Bruns was on the way from her home to the Elks' Club, where she was to play the piano at a party being given for children of the city when her car was forced to the curb at Ninth and Arrowhead streets by a large sedan.

She was overpowered by two men. One of them throwing a coat over her head to stifle her outcries while the second drove her machine. She said something was placed in her car and a third man followed them in the machine that crowded her to the curb. They left the city and started on the Foothill Boulevard toward Los Angeles.

Begging for her release, Mrs. Bruns offered her captors money, but her pleadings were ignored. She said her abductors called each other "Joe" and "Al," and that they remarked, "We should make the ridge and hope the truck will be there." From these remarks, police are working on the theory that the men may have been liquor runners.

When the Mission winery at Cucamonga was reached the men suddenly stopped the car, again boarded their own machine and left Mrs. Bruns. She was found in a hysterical condition by passing motorists and taken to the Upland Hospital, being removed to her home in San Bernardino today.

She was unharmed except for a bruise on her neck, where she was struck by one of the men when she started screaming. Diamond rings on her person were not taken. Police are uncertain whether the kidnaping was a case of mistaken identity, or that the use of her car was desired to transport liquor through the city. The fact that a third man followed them in another machine strengthens the latter theory.

Mrs. Bruns is the wife of E. C. Bruns, Santa Fe claim adjuster. They are well known in San Bernardino.

Former Traffic Officer Loses Wife and Job

SANTA ANA, Dec. 21.—Arthur Stromerson, former Laguna Beach traffic officer, not only lost his wife via the divorce court but he also lost his job and today he retaind his automobile only by the refusal of his wife, Nora Stromerson, to pay up the back payments and sell it for his equity.

Mrs. Stromerson cited her former husband into court to show why he shouldn't be adjudged in contempt of court for failure to meet the alimony payments due her. She testified that he was $44 in arrears. Stromerson said that following the divorce he lost his job and had not been able to secure steady employment since. He said he retained the office of constable of Laguna Beach at $25 a month but that his resignation was effective January 1.

Stromerson offered his wife his small car provided that she take up the delinquent payments and sell the car for his equity, but she refused. She did agree to accept the $25 which Stromerson is due to receive the first of the year. He informed the court that he was willing to pay his alimony obligations but had not been able to earn sufficient money to do so.

WIFE OF BANKER DIES AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Dec. 21. — Mrs. Gertrude L. Benjamin, mother of Horace H. Benjamin, one of the vice-presidents of the Bank of America, died at her home here today after a lingering illness. She was 70 years of age.

With her late husband, F. C. Benjamin, banker, Mrs. Benjamin came here from Aberdeen, S. D., in 1918. Mr. Benjamin bought the controlling interest in the First National Bank of Anaheim and served as its president until his death in 1923.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Backs, Terry & Campbell funeral parlors. The body will be entombed in the Fairhaven mausoleum at Santa Ana.

TWO FAMILIES OF CHILDREN IN ROW

ONTARIO, Dec. 21.—G. C. Melendes could see but one way out of his difficulty, so he is moving to Whittier. There was too much battling in his family. He married a second time, and the second wife had children, and he had some by his former marriage. When the children from both parties came together the police were called in to settle the peace disturbance, and in the argument, Melends got involved considerably with the courts. So Melendes is moving to Whittier with part of the children in order that the dove of peace may find a safe landing-place.

CHRISTMAS TREES LIT

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 21—The electric "juice" has now been turned on in the 300 electric-light bulbs of different colors, on the branches of the two large Christmas trees in Municipal Park, Mayor Otto R. Benedict pressing the button which illuminated the trees. Arrangements have been made by several groups, who will hold Christmas parties and celebrations under these trees during the evenings until Christmas night.

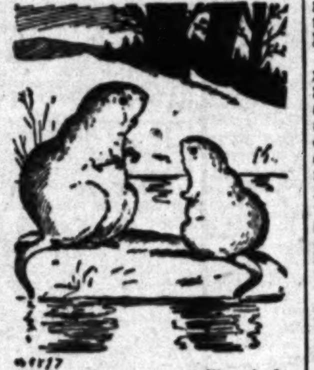
STUMPY CHANGES HIS OPINION

A sorry world 'twould be and strange
Did formed opinions never change
—Old Mother Nature



"What do you mean?" asked Stumpy

Stumpy, the three-legged young Muskrat, was just like most other people, wishing that he had something he hadn't got but someone else had. What he wished he had was a white coat. Jumper the Hare, who did have a white coat, had told him that it was nothing but envy and that he was better off without a white coat. You see, Jumper, from the wisdom of experience, knew that if a white coat was a good thing for a young Muskrat or any other Muskrat, Old Mother Nature would have seen to it that it was supplied.

But Stumpy couldn't see this and he sat on his favorite tussock by the open water of the Laughing Brook and thought how fine it would be to be dressed all in white and be able to go about on the snow and practically disappear just by sitting perfectly still.

"It would be fun," said Stumpy.

"What would be fun?" inquired Jerry Muskrat, who happened along just in time to overhear that remark.

"Why, it would be fun to have a white coat and just sit still when an enemy came along and thought you were a lump of snow," replied Stumpy. "I don't see why Old Mother Nature didn't give everybody white coats for winter."

"You'll find as you grow older that there are many things Old Mother Nature does or does not do the reason for which you cannot understand," said Jerry. "But," he added, "you may be sure of one thing, and this is that she makes no mistakes. For whatever she does there is a reason."

"Just the same, I think we would be better off if we had white coats like Shadow the Weasel and Jumper the Hare," grumbled Stumpy.

"Where do we Muskrats spend most of our time, in the water or on land?" asked Jerry rather sharply.

Stumpy hesitated for a minute. He wanted to think that over. "Well," said he slowly, "I suppose we spend more time in the water than on land excepting when we are in our houses. This time of year we spend more time in the house than anywhere else."

"And this time of year is the only time of year when a white coat would be of the least use to anyone," replied Jerry. "A white coat would be of no use in the house and I for one don't want one when I am swimming. When the Black Shadows have come we can swim about where they are without much danger of being seen, but how would it be if we had white coats? Now when we dive we at once go out of sight, but with white coats we could be seen under water easily. A white coat may be all right for Jumper and for Shadow the Weasel, but I doubt if even with them it is wholly a blessing."

"What do you mean?" asked Stumpy.

"You will find," replied Jerry, "that there are times even in winter when the ground is bare. Sometimes the snow is long in coming. Jumper and Shadow get their white coats before the snow comes and then they are just as easily seen by their enemies as we are now with our brown coats. I don't want a white coat. No, sir, I don't want a white coat. If Old Mother Nature should come along and offer me one I would thank her and say that I am quite satisfied with what I have."

Stumpy thought this over for a while. The more he thought about it the clearer it was to him that Jerry Muskrat was right. He looked at his own brown coat and the more he looked at it the better pleased with it he was. He had thought a white coat very lovely, but so was a brown one. So gradually Stumpy changed his mind and the next time he saw Jumper the Hare there was no envy left. In fact, he was thankful he didn't have a white coat. His brown coat seemed just suited to his needs, as, indeed, it was. So, without knowing it, Stumpy had gained wisdom, for it is the part of wisdom to waste no time in wanting those things it was not intended you should have.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (Exclusive) Leaden skies and snows are inspiring many women to take cruises, or, if not, to plan the wardrobes which they will take south with them after Christmas. I have seen a wide variety of American designed and made resort clothes during the past month. They are not vastly different from last year's showings. That is, in general line, cut, length, there is no startling alteration. But certain ideas have been developed, certain ones abandoned, details have been perfected or improved upon, fabrics and colors mark the new dress from last year's.

A Color Note

Yellow is going to be a color to be reckonede with this year, I am assured. The lovely pale pinks which Vionnet sponsored will be extremely popular. Plaids, a very special pattern for very special women, promise to be stronger than they have been heretofore.

Fabric Wise

An enchanting chiffon evening dress is a plaid in tones of brown on a beige ground. Silk jerseys, generally eyelet embroidered and fine wool lace are daring innovations for evening. An ideal cruise dress is Chanel's white cotton eyelet embroidered model which may be tubbed without the slightest danger! Then there are the chiffon lames—gossamer things, formal and flattering. These are a welcome variation of the oft-reiterated printed chiffon tune. And they should pack perfectly. Brocades are so wisely made nowadays that they do not seem to tarnish at all. They may be worn with impunity at Palm Beach, despite damp sea breezes. Worth has created a delightful beach ensemble, two-piece bathing suit and a long practical beach coat all of surah silk. It is warm, yet light with a silky croded surface of real durability. The suit and coat are navy with ships and birds and little waves stamped on it in white. The cuffs, belt, coat lining and touches at the neck of the suit, are white, dead white, that shade we had begun to believe didn't exist any more! Cottons are more bewildering in their variety than ever. Organdie is as flutteringly feminine as ever, linen as versatile, while various shirting cloths are mannish and effective for courts and links. One material that is quite new to me, is a suede cloth, really cotton, which has the advantage of laundering and has likewise the amusing surface of suede. This makes a grand sports jacket, with easy lines, raglan shoulders and big patch pockets, or is excellent for the ubiquitous white wash gloves of any southern season. Angora comes clamoring for attention. It gets woven into delightful sports coats, so soft and warm and informal looking, and, wonder of wonders, has been made by one house into the wooliest, youngest, short evening jackets I have ever seen. They make a girl look like a kitten, and they keep her warm and you do need one warm wrap for whatever part of the tropics you may choose. I saw some amusingly cool looking Palm Beach sandals, leather and fabric, the fabric called a linen mesh and looking like nothing so much as lace made of natural colored twine.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

COLIC IS USUALLY NOTHING BUT HUNGER

Most of the things which mothers are told about colic should be thrown in the ash heap. The fear that acid foods will cause colic, and that baby will have to suffer from colic for some set period, such as six weeks or three months, indicates a misunderstanding about food and about what is really wrong with the baby.

One doctor was radical enough to say in print that there is no such thing as colic; it is always hunger. In the many, many letters I receive asking me about colic, a truly amazing proportion of the babies are very obviously underfed. Colic in the nursing baby is practically always hunger unless the mother is violating every rule for nursing babies. Naturally we must make an exception of the mother who nurses every time the baby cries, and whose baby is gaining enormously and suffering accordingly. Such a baby might have colic.

NO COLIC-MAKING FOODS

Here is a brand new mother worrying about these fussy ideas. "Please solve my problem," she writes. "Tell me what to eat to produce good milk. Tell me what foods give colic and which ones do not. I give my baby a complementary feeding at 6 o'clock in order to have enough milk for night."

All of these questions reveal erroneous ideas. There are no colic-making foods. In many cases fruit acids are alkaline after digestion and are helpful to the well-balanced diet. Foods which cause the mother distress should, of course, be eliminated from her diet. The same goes for strong drugs. Otherwise, a diet which anyone would eat to keep in good health will result in a good milk supply, providing the mother knows some of the rules about the technique of nursing.

Our new leaflet on "Improvement of the Breast Supply" is a valuable leaflet for any nursing mother to possess. A self-addressed, stamped envelope inclosed with each request and sent to the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper will bring it to any reader.

DON'T SKIP NURSINGS

To skip nursings and substitute a bottle does not improve the breast supply. Milk is not "saved" by such tactics; in fact, nature refuses to send in as large a supply when she finds it is not being used. Mothers may learn this one rule with advantage: "The greater the demand the greater the supply." As baby grows and needs more nourishment, the regular demand upon the breast creates a better supply. Substituting a bottle is the first step in weaning no matter what the age of the baby.

When complementary feedings are used, nurse first, then give the bottle to make up any deficit. Our leaflet on complementary feedings may be obtained in the manner listed above. Meanwhile, stop thinking about colic. Stop interpreting baby's every cry as a cry of pain. Watch the baby's normal gain in weight and let this tell a more accurate story.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Relieves a Cough

If you are troubled with coughing at night, mix together equal parts of glycerine and strained honey and then add a few drops of lemon juice. Take a spoonful when troubled with incessant coughing and see if it does not bring relief.

The Cold, Cold Night

When the family is large, one does not always have enough hot water bottles to go around to warm up the beds on bitter cold nights. An ordinary quart flask filled with boiling water, then tightly corked and protected with a towel will answer just as well and will be no expense.

Linen Napkins

Do not sprinkle each napkin that is to be ironed. Dampen every third one quite wet and spread a dry napkin on either side of it. Roll all together. They will iron very easily if this is done.

Oil of Sassafras

Add a few drops of oil of sassafras to each quart of gasoline you use in cleaning clothes. It will deodorize the gasoline and entirely remove the disagreeable odor.

Health and Diet Advice

TRAINING TOTS WITH TOYS

Christmas time is the season for children's toys. A shopper in a toy department often sees so many things that he doesn't know what is best to buy for a child.

The best toys are those which promise hours of delighted play. The finest rule for buying toys is to remember that children play best with toys which give them something to put together.

The least satisfactory toys are those which are mechanical and which go by themselves while the child sits quietly by and watches. It is not the best plan to buy toys which come apart easily and are quickly broken.

In choosing toys one should see that they are strong and well made, or will give the child something to build, make or do, or will develop the child's muscles.

Every child is born with a strong curiosity which impels it to try to find out how the "wheels go around." Thus, a child may take a toy apart solely from curiosity and this is a perfectly normal, natural motive and one which need not alarm the mother. The way to take advantage of this trait is to give the child toys with which he can build houses, garages and other things. Then when he tires of them he can tear them apart and make something new.

Mothers usually learn after a few years that the elaborate and expensive toys are thrown aside. Son does not enjoy an electric train if it is such an expensive set that only father may be trusted to adjust the switches on it. The toys which children love the most are often made from odds and ends. If left alone a child will choose those things which can be used to make something and will cherish old string, empty packages, cans, rocks, tinfoil, spools, rusty padlocks, nails, old boxes and boards which may be used to play "house," and bits of clothes to dress up in. Therefore, in buying for him choose objects like these which can be used for building and manipulating.

Good toys to buy are: Crayons and paints with paper, scissors, sand piles, swings, modeling clay, hammers, saws, balls, ropes, trains, dolls and toy furniture.

The best toys for young children are those which wash. Paint on them should be washable and not easily sucked off. Toys should not have small parts which the child may pull off and swallow. Metal toys with sharp edges are not wise for small children. Some of the modern toys made of wooden beads and colored brightly are good. Toddlers like something to cuddle, such as a washable doll or a soft animal. Blocks and rubber balls and kiddie kars are always good.

Older children are fortunate if they get toys which take them outdoors and develop their strength, such as: Tricycles, skates, bikes, scooters, wagons and the pedal automobiles. Rings which may be hung up, and acting bars are also splendid for encouraging activity.

Children's toys teach them to co-ordinate the muscles and train fingers and the power of observation. A child who has had plenty of the right kind of play will always seem more alert and will handle his fingers and his tools far better than one who has not had this training.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

Giblet Dressing for Turkey

Prepare eight cupfuls of medium fresh bread crumbs which are at least two days old. Place in a saucepan six tablespoonfuls of butter and add the crumbs to it and stir until thoroughly coated, remove from the fire, add one egg that has been slightly beaten, cook in butter until tender one large onion that has been chopped fine, add to it one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley and combine with the bread crumbs, season with salt, paprika and poultry seasoning. Add the finely chopped cooked giblets and if liked a little more moist add a little of the water that the giblets have been cooked in. Half a teaspoonful of celery seed may be added and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of powdered sage, mix all the ingredients together lightly and press into the turkey but do not pack down tight. Also fill the neck, tie, truss, place your turkey in a roasting pan, breast side down, strip with slices of bacon or salt pork, and allow to cook until half roasted, then turn over. Twenty minutes to the pound is the average time, having the oven hot when the turkey is put in.

Potatoes Baked in Cheese Sauce

One and one-half cupfuls of milk, one-half a cupful of grated cheese, three tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a seasoning of salt and paprika; one-fourth of a teaspoonful of Tabasco sauce, one-fourth of a cupful of walnut meats, six medium sized potatoes and one green pepper. Place the butter in a saucepan, when melted add the flour and stir until smooth and creamy, and the seasonings and Tabasco sauce, slowly stirring in the milk, and thoroughly blend. Cook until thickened, remove from the fire, add the cheese and stir until melted. Pare the potatoes and slice thin, chop the green pepper, place a layer of the potatoes in an oiled baking dish, sprinkle over them a little of the chopped pepper, then add another layer of potatoes and continue until the dish is three-quarters full. Pour over the cheese sauce and sprinkle with walnut meats, dot with bits of butter, bake about forty-five minutes.

Sour Cream Apple Pudding

Pare and core enough cooking apples to weigh one and one-half pounds, cut them into eighths, place in a saucepan with just enough water to keep them from burning. Cover and let cook until soft, add to them two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half a cupful of sugar, and beat until smooth. Then slowly add three well-beaten eggs and one cupful of sour cream, place in a double boiler and allow the mixture to cook until thickened. Do not boil. Remove from the fire, add one and one-half cupfuls of zwieback crumbs, or the same amount of well-toasted bread crumbs, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Pour the mixture into well-oiled baking dish and bake until firm in the center. Serve with a hard sauce.

Tenant Accused of Threatening Owner With Gun

A revolver was used to settle a dispute between tenant and landlady yesterday, according to police, and the tenant is in jail charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

When police arrived at the home of Mrs. Fay Bunjess, 40 years of age, 11915 South Avalon Boulevard, in response to a hurry call, they failed to find her. She was disappearing up the highway in a cloud of dust and a few leaps ahead of her was the landlady, Mrs. Nietta Jennie. Mrs. Jennie was doing her utmost to increase the distance between them, but when the officers arrived she was only a few steps ahead of her pursuer.

The landlady, who lives at 451 One Hundred and Twentieth street, said they had been discussing matters pertaining to the house occupied by Mrs. Bunjess when an argument arose and her tenant produced a revolver, ordering her to leave, police said.

When the owner refused, she said, Mrs. Bunjess chased her out of the house and was still chasing her when the police intervened and took the asserted pursuer to jail.

Iowa Birthday to Be Observed

Iowans of Southern California will celebrate the eighty-fourth anniversary of Iowa as a State with a dinner and entertainment program at the Chamber of Commerce dining-room, 1151 South Broadway, next Saturday at 7 p.m. and arrangements have been made to accommodate more than 1000 persons. The principal speaker of the day will be Hamlin Garland, noted writer, who is a native of Iowa.

C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Iowa Association of Southern California, has sent out a request that reservations be made early by telephoning him at FAber 3311, or writing to the office of the association in the Rosslyn Hotel. All requests must be in by Friday.

DIVORCEE GIVEN NAMES CHOICE

Court Permits Her to Call Herself Anything She Likes

Names are free in California, Superior Judge Fleming told Mrs. Dorothea O. Dorfman, who, after she obtained her divorce, asked for a court order restoring her maiden name.

"No order necessary," said Judge Fleming. "Help yourself to any name you like, except mine."

Murder Suspect May Be Doomed by Deadly Germ

Germs which infected a bullet wound causing the death of Jose Puebla, Los Nietos laborer, may indirectly result in death for José Campos, who will go to trial before Superior Judge Schmidt today charged with Puebla's murder. Should the defendant be convicted of first-degree murder, the death penalty might be imposed.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. O'Brien, prosecuting the case, Campos met Puebla on the highway near Los Nietos on the night of September 2, last, and fired two shots at him, one of which lodged in the muscles of the neck.

The wound ordinarily would not have caused serious injury, physicians assert, but an infection occurred which caused Puebla's death on September 14, last.

Before his death Puebla told officers that he and Campos had quarreled previously over a woman.

Lincoln Heights Prisoners Given Yuletide Feast

Santa Claus made an early visit to prisoners in the Lincoln Heights Jail yesterday when approximately 300 men were treated to a Christmas dinner by volunteer Christian workers of the Lincoln Heights band, sponsored by Mary E. Baker. A preliminary program of musical selections and of addresses was offered.

The dinner, consisting of turkey, dressing, carrots, peas, mashed potatoes, gravy, candy, jams, fruit and cake, was prepared and distributed by more than a score of the volunteer workers. Yesterday's banquet marked the seventh annual Christmas feast arranged by members of the Christian band for men in the Lincoln Heights Jail. Acting Sergeant Floyd J. Seals and Officer Paul Bohanon assisted in the work.

Sick Children to Be Visited

Santa Claus and 100 uniformed members of Al Malaikah Temple as assistants, will visit Children's Memorial Hospital this afternoon at 3 o'clock and fulfill the Christmas wish of each of the 184 crippled children by giving them exactly the thing they have requested.

Music and entertainment will be supplied and ice cream and other delights will be distributed by the Shriners, led by Potentate Fred J. Wadley, Jr.

Noble Le Roy M. Edwards, a past Potentate of Al Malaikah Temple, will be Santa Claus and will personally hand the presents to the youngsters. A huge tree has been arranged.

Tomorrow the Shriners will visit the children in General Hospital and on Wednesday afternoon visit children at the Orthopedic Hospital.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock 4000 poor children from the public schools will be entertained by the Shriners in their theater.

Stolen Apples' Price Decided

Apples were quoted at 5 cents each with the market very active in Municipal Judge Eagan's court, where Bernard J. Rath, 22 years of age, of 1925 West Twentieth street, pleaded guilty to stealing ten of them.

Rath moved rapidly around the corner, with ten apples in his pocket, after Police Officer Churchill saw him taking them from a wagon belonging to Sol Bisheff at the corner of Vermont avenue and Twenty-fifth street, the officer reported.

Rath pleaded that he was drunk and did not realize what he was doing. When he said that he is serving a two-day jail sentence for being drunk, Judge Eagan suspended a $25 fine for petty theft on condition that he pay Bisheff 5 cents for each apple stolen as soon as he is released from jail.

Holder of Paid Note Enjoined

A promissory note, written on a paper napkin, was exhibited in Superior Judge Gates's court at the trial of the injunction suit sought by R. Z. Boyer against Miss Nellie Ruth Curran.

Boyer testified that he borrowed $200 from the defendant August 1, 1928, in El Paso, Tex. Later he paid the debt, he said, but Miss Curran did not return the napkin-note and continues to annoy him with it, he said. Judge Gates ordered the defendant to refrain from annoying Boyer at his place of business.

BUILDING OCCUPANTS TO BE ENTERTAINED

A good-will Christmas buffet luncheon will be given to all occupants of the Herman W. Hellman Building, Spring and Fourth streets, by the building management tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Marco H. Hellman, as head of the estate of Herman W. Hellman, will welcome the guests.

THIRD-STREET PLANS STUDIED

Council Committee to Make Decision 30th Inst.

City Engineer Jessup Backs Viaduct Method

Safer and Faster Handling of Traffic Cited

A choice between two plans for developing the new Third street between Figueroa street and Vermont avenue is scheduled to be made the 30th inst. by the Public Works Committee of the City Council, which already has conducted a hearing upon alternate plans submitted by City Engineer Jessup.

The opening and widening proceedings for this project already have been completed at a cost of $2,428,157.

PLANS EXPLAINED

Jessup reports a scheme for carrying the artery over its new route by means of viaducts over Union avenue and over Rampart Boulevard, at an estimated cost of $1,321,307. The alternate plan, using fills instead of viaducts, will be $125,000 cheaper, Jessup reports, but he favors the viaduct method.

"The separation of grades," Jessup says, "will handle traffic so much safer and faster that I consider the extra expense justifiable.

DIVISION OF COSTS

His estimates of cost place the grading at $18,200; paving, $156,192; storm drain, $52,550; sewering, $32,560; Union-avenue viaduct, $234,000; Rampart Boulevard viaduct, $218,000; intersection reconstruction, $100,227; damages to Third-street frontage, $324,000, and damages on side streets, $38,718.

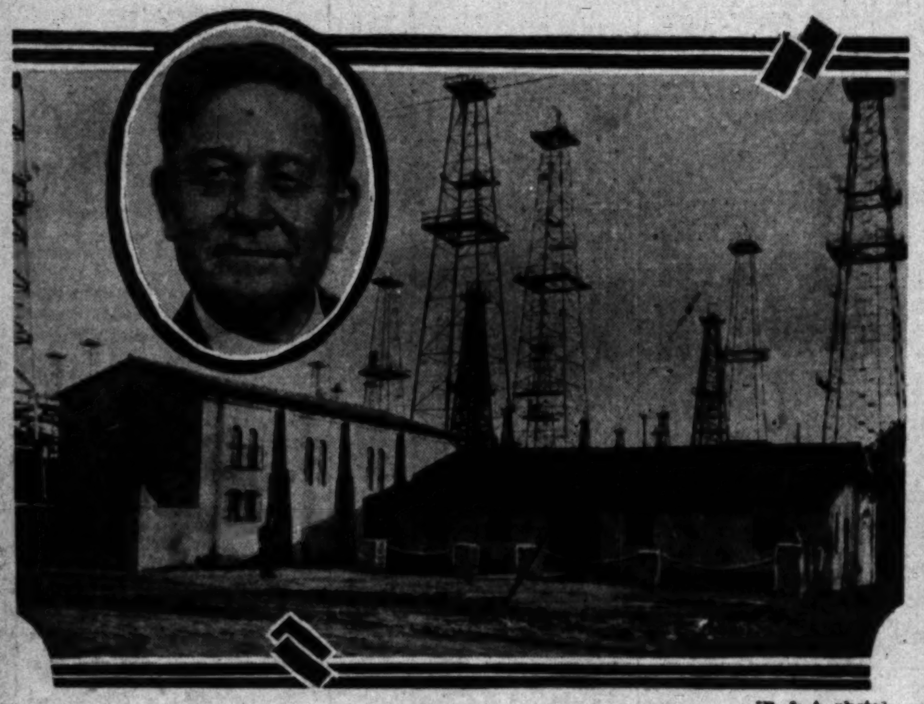
Allocations of public funds amount to $726,252. None of the proposed grades will exceed 7 per cent.

WIDOW APPOINTED TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

Because Bert Hanson, contractor, feared the drawing of his will would hasten his death, he died intestate, according to his attorney, Thomas P. White, who appeared in Superior Judge Crail's court and obtained the appointment of Mrs. Gladys L. Hanson, the widow, as administratrix of the estate. Hanson leaves also three children, Albert, Arnold and Dorothy. His estate is estimated to be worth $100,000.

OIL OF GLADNESS POURS ON CHURCH

Wells Make Golden Harvest for Modest Institution



[P. & A. photo]

Where Hidden Wealth Has Aided Congregation

The Santa Fe Springs Methodist Church and (inset,) the pastor, Dr. A. S. Hale.

"THY GOD hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows," King David's praise of "the chief musician," might well be the golden text of the members of Santa Fe Springs Methodist Church which institution, within the last few months, has literally received "beauty for ashes" and "the oil of joy for mourning."

Founded forty years ago, before even the wildest wild-catters dreamed of the black, liquid gold that one day would enrich citizens of the Southland, the little church, with no thought of financial reward for its services to the people of the sparsely settled community, struggled along, sometimes even without a pastor, spreading the light of the Gospel among residents of Santa Fe Springs and vicinity.

Nearly two years ago the unpretentious edifice was caught in a devastating fire that destroyed thousands of dollars' worth of public and private property. Thirty-two church members had practically given up hope of re-establishing the temple when there came to their rescue Dr. A. S. Hale, who resigned his pastorate at Oceanside in order to put the Santa Fe Springs church on its feet.

Dr. Hale helped the people to erect a temporary church within ten feet of which, and on the church property, a few months later, a well was sunk. The joy of the parishioners knew no bounds when the well proved a large producer of the stuff that helped to make the Southland famous. Recently, from the sale of oil, the congregation erected a handsome new church, at a cost of more than $12,000, excluding the site. The new church will be dedicated by Bishop Burns at 3 p.m., January 12.

Besides its thirty-two active members, the church has a Sunday-school enrollment of 125 boys and girls who are taken to and from the church in a large bus, also paid for with oil. The handsome new temple stands in the heart of the oil district, with its 800 wells, many of them good producers.

A few days ago, out of its abundance, the church gave a dinner party to nearly 200 poor children of the district. Next Tuesday evening another party, which will include a Christmas tree and a gift-bearing Santa Claus, will be given at the church. On Christmas Day hundreds of well-filled baskets will be sent from the church to the poor of the community.

DIVORCE OF MRS. RIVERS DISCLOSED

Wife of Insurance Man Receives Decree in Reno; Mother Gets Children

Dispatches from Reno yesterday told of a divorce granted there Saturday to Mrs. Mildred Strong Rivers from Henry E. Rivers, local insurance man.

According to the complaint, they were married in 1917 and have three children. An agreement made out of court gives the mother custody of the children until they are 14 years of age, when they will choose their own guardian. The property settlement gives the wife a deed to the family residence which is subject to a mortgage of $10,000. It also gives her half of two trust incomes. Each releases individual property to the other and the wife retains the property at Seventh street and Central avenue, Los Angeles.

She charged that her husband had not supported her for the past year, in fact, that he never had supported her. She said that at the time of marriage her parents gave them $5000 each with which to start married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Rivers are prominent in social circles in Los Angeles, belonging to the Oakmont and the Wilshire country clubs and the University Club.

FULTONS TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Double Funeral Rites to Be Conducted for High School Head and Wife

Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fulton, 55 and 56 years of age, respectively, of 502 North Baltimore avenue, Monterey Park, both of whom were killed as the result of an automobile accident Friday in which Mr. Fulton met instant death, his wife died a short time later, and a 14-year-old daughter, Ruth, escaped injury, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow from the F. A. Utter & Son chapel, 345 West Main street, Alhambra. Interment will follow in San Gabriel Cemetery.

Both the bodies are now at the Fleckinger chapel in Bakersfield, near where the fatal accident occurred as Fulton with his wife and daughter were driving to Kentfield to spend Christmas with a daughter, Mrs. Ward Austin. The bodies will be brought to Los Angeles as soon as a Coroner's inquest is completed.

Theodore Fulton was the youngest son of Rev. James P. Fulton and Frances C. Fulton. He was born in Merrittstown, Pa., and was educated in Kansas, where he was graduated from Emporia College. He came to Los Angeles in 1908 and after teaching in the Thirtieth-street elementary school and in the Manual Arts High School was, in 1916, appointed principal of the Jefferson High School. He continued in this post until his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulton leave four daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Jones, Mrs. Miriam Austin, Mrs. Carol Gaylord and Miss Ruth Fulton. Mr. Fulton leaves the following brothers and sisters: Rev. Dr. William S Fulton of Alhambra; Dr. Henry C Fulton of Asotin, Wash.; Judge Robert Frank Fulton of Grangeville Idaho; Rev. Dr. George Fulton of Mechanicsburg, Pa.; E. L. Fulton of Caldwell, Kan.; Mrs. Mary J. Hume of Hanover, Mich., and Miss Charity S. Fulton of Alhambra.

Mother Fears Girl Kidnaped

Fearing she may have fallen into the hands of kidnapers, police yesterday started a search for Miss Dorothy Eileen Coe, 17 years of age, missing from her home at 6512 Bella Vista Way since 3 p.m. Saturday.

Hollywood officers reported the girl left home after receiving permission from her mother to go Christmas shopping. She was seen an hour later in a Hollywood store but nothing has been heard of her since.

Mrs. Coe declared her daughter is of a shy nature, nearsighted and wears glasses, and is unusually reticent in making acquaintances. For this reason she suspects someone has held her against her will. The girl is described as of light complexion, with blue eyes and blond hair, is 5 feet 3 inches in height, 125 pounds in weight and, when last seen, was wearing a tan polo coat, tan felt hat, and black oxfords.

BOVARD FUNERAL TODAY; WIFE SUFFERS COLLAPSE

After a hurried trip from the East to attend the funeral services of her husband, Warren B. Bovard, vice-president of University of Southern California, who shot and killed himself at his home at 94 Fremont Place last Wednesday night, Mrs. Hazel Jackman Bovard was last night reported to be almost in a state of collapse and in a highly nervous condition.

Mrs. Bovard arrived in Los Angeles Saturday night after leaving a Santa Fe train at San Bernardino where she was met by friends. She was accompanied by R. C. Jackman of Wichita, Kan., her uncle.

Members of the family said last night that although Mrs. Bovard had been confined to her bed since her arrival in Los Angeles, the funeral plans will be carried out this morning. The rites will be conducted in the chapel of Bresee Brothers' mortuary and attendance will be limited to the immediate family and intimate friends.

Governor-elect Rolph in San Francisco yesterday said that he will attend the services this morning. He was a close friend of Mr. Bovard.

Active pallbearers will be Asa V. Call, Arthur Baker, Louis McWirter, Henry Bruce, Frank Hadlock, Harry Chamberlain, Gwinn Wilson and Ralph La Porte.

Honorary pallbearers will be Gov.-elect Rolph, Mayor Porter, W. M. Bowen and the following members of the board of trustees of University of Southern California: Dr. W. W. Beckett, L. E. Behymer, Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, J. E. Carr, Dr. Ernest P. Clarke, Prescott F. Cogswell, Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, Dr. E. E. Helms, Dr. Alfred Inwood, Dr. P. M. Larkin, Ben R. Meyer, C. I. D. Moore, Dr. Wayland Morrison, M. H. Mosier, Dr. Seeley G. Mudd, Dr. J. W. Oakley, C. A. Parmelee, Harry Philip, Samuel K. Rindge, Dr. Merle N. Smith, Dr. A. J. Wallace and Walter P. Watts.

Veterans' Shop Will Show Toys

Toys fashioned by disabled veterans are to be featured this week, beginning today, at the Buddy Shop, 6756 Hollywood Boulevard, conducted gratuitously by members of the Post War Service League for the benefit of incapacitated ex-service men. The assortment includes automobiles, trains, dolls, wagons and miniature furniture. There also will be in the lot a collection of birds raised by a disabled veteran who makes his own bird cages. All are to be displayed prominently in the windows of the shop, which was donated to the cause by the C. E. Toberman Company.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON VINE-STREET PROTEST

Because no proceedings have been instituted the Board of Public Works at a hearing last week was unable to take action upon a protest voiced by a group of property owners who spoke against any proposal to run Vine street under Franklin avenue by means of a deep cut, thus extending the artery north in the hills.

FALL MAY BE FATAL

Believed to have fallen down a short flight of steps at 148 South Figueroa street, William C. Peterson, 60 years of age, of 317 1-2 West Third street, suffered a possible basal skull fracture early yesterday morning. He was taken by police to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where his condition was pronounced serious.
